Why are Americans so stupid and insulting ?

this is what a American said about the ENGLISH footie team.... It is kinda true tho. I'm American so maybe my opinion is bias. But England people... what's the term ...British? They do over-rate themselves. I understand they have hope for there country. their rooting them on. But sometimes they get a little extreme with it. I mean hey if you've won World Cup 5 times. go right ahead be cocky. you guys won 5 times so why should i doubt your team won't win again. But England only won only once. 40/50 years ago. I mean it can happen again. I respect that you root for your country. But they go a little crazy with it. I can't think of any examples off the top of my head but yeah..

Shifting Cultivation and Environmental Change Malcolm F. Cairns, 2015-01-09 Shifting cultivation is one of the oldest forms of subsistence agriculture and is still practised by millions of poor people in the tropics Typically it involves clearing land often forest for the growing of crops for a few years and then moving on to new sites leaving the earlier ground fallow to regain its soil fertility This book brings together the best of science and farmer experimentation vividly illustrating the enormous diversity of shifting cultivation systems as well as the power of human ingenuity Some critics have tended to disparage shifting cultivation sometimes called swidden cultivation or slash and burn agriculture as unsustainable due to its supposed role in deforestation and land degradation However the book shows that such indigenous practices as they have evolved over time can be highly adaptive to land and ecology In contrast scientific agricultural solutions imposed from outside can be far more damaging to the environment and local communities The book focuses on successful agricultural strategies of upland farmers particularly in south and south east Asia and presents over 50 contributions by scholars from around the world and from various disciplines including agricultural economics ecology and anthropology It is a sequel to the much praised Voices from the Forest Integrating Indigenous Knowledge into Sustainable Upland Farming RFF Press 2007 but all chapters are completely new and there is a greater emphasis on the contemporary challenges of climate change and biodiversity conservation
