GOING BELOW THE WATER'S EDGE RONALD S. FEHRIBACH,2014-10-27 Have we been someone before Is there a cycle to life that passes personality and society s characteristics through the generations much like our physical characteristics are passed by various chemical configurations What about many major religions that base their belief on reincarnation or past lives and often times their leadership on someone s presupposed link to the past What about all those individuals claiming to have been someone before What is the possibility that you have been someone before and if so who How does one find out about one s own possibilities and one s impact on today s existence Many feel that meditation is the way to enter this world of deep inner knowledge and to bring awareness of this past cycle Hypnosis has also been used to offer an abundance of examples to illustrate the possibility of our having been here before To get past our immediate existence and regress through our birth to a world of spirits from the past is indeed an adventure if such a world even exists Please join me now for a journey into an unseen world
