The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K 16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and disability Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production The New World

History Ross E. Dunn, Laura J. Mitchell, Kerry Ward, 2016-08-23 The New World History is a comprehensive volume of essays selected to enrich world history teaching and scholarship in this rapidly expanding field. The forty-four articles in this book take stock of the history evolving literature and current trajectories of new world history. These essays together with the editors' introductions to thematic chapters encourage educators and students to reflect critically on the development of the field and to explore concepts, approaches, and insights valuable to their own work. The selections are organized in ten chapters that survey the history of the movement, the seminal ideas of founding thinkers, and today's practitioners changing concepts of world historical space and time, comparative methods, environmental history, the big history movement, globalization, debates over the meaning of Western power, and ongoing questions about the intellectual premises and assumptions that have shaped the field.

The Atlantic World Toyin Falola, Kevin D. Roberts, 2008-04-16 This ambitious work provides an overview of the Atlantic world since the 15th century by exploring the major themes that define the study of this region: Contact with Europeans in Africa and the Americas, the slave trade, gender and race in the early Atlantic world, independence movements in Africa, Caribbean nationalism, and gender and identity in the 20th century are just a few subjects discussed. Moving beyond the micro-histories of the scholarly monograph to connect the fruits of those researches with broader events and processes, this book in the editors' words makes a concerted effort to re-connect elites and non-elites, Old World and New, early modern and modern, and economics and culture. It will be a point of embarkation for a new generation of students of the Atlantic world.

The 'Other' Students Dina C. Maramba, Rick Bonus, 2012-12-01 Though the Filipino American population has increased numerically in many areas of the United States, especially since the influx of professional immigrants in the wake of the 1965 Immigration Act, their impact on schools and related educational institutions has rarely been documented and examined. The Other Students: Filipino Americans Education and Power is the first book of its kind to focus specifically on Filipino Americans in education. Through a collection of historical and contemporary perspectives, we fill a profound gap in the scholarship as we analyze the emerging presence of Filipino Americans both as subjects and objects of study in education research and practice. We highlight the argument that one cannot adequately and appropriately understand the complex histories, cultures, and contemporary conditions faced by Filipino Americans in

State University author of The Social Studies Wars Teaching World History as Mystery Jack Zevin, David Gerwin, 2010-12-07 This text presents a philosophy methodology and examples for world history instruction based on inquiry and problem solving methods that promote reasoning and judgment and restore a sense of imagination and participation to classroom learning Power, Wealth and Global Equity Patrick J. McGowan, Scarlett Cornelissen, Philip Nel, 2007-02 This textbook on power wealth global order and international relations is designed for students taking introductory courses in international relations and African studies Challenging the intellectual domination of the north this book shows what the world and its patterns of power wealth and privilege look like from an African perspective of transborder political and economic interaction in today s world Students are empowered to become active players on the global stage and to contribute to changing these structures and institutions for the better Up to date advice is provided on how to use the Internet and how to pursue careers in international relations A glossary list of acronyms bibliography index maps and biographies of important people mentioned in the text are also included Teaching History for Justice Christopher C. Martell, Kaylene M. Stevens, 2021 Learn how to enact justice oriented pedagogy and foster students critical engagement in today s history classroom Over the past 2 decades various scholars have rightfully argued that we need to teach students to think like a historian or think like a democratic citizen In this book the authors advocate for cultivating activist thinking in the history classroom Teachers can use Teaching History for Justice to show students how activism was used in the past to seek justice how past social movements connect to the present and how democratic tools can be used to change society The first section examines the theoretical and research foundation for thinking like an activist and outlines three related pedagogical concepts social inquiry critical multiculturalism and transformative democratic citizenship The second section presents vignettes based on the authors studies of elementary middle and high school history teachers who engage in justice oriented teaching practices Book Features Outlines key components of justice oriented history pedagogy for the history and social studies K 12 classroom Advocates for students to develop thinking like an activist in their approach to studying the past Contains research based vignettes of four imagined teachers providing examples of what teaching history for justice can look like in practice Includes descriptions of typical units of study in the discipline of history and how they can be reimaged to help students learn about movements and social change World History Teaching in Asia Shingo Minamizuka, 2019-03-30 World History Teaching in Asia is the first broad survey of the content and approaches used to teach world history in secondary schools and colleges in Asia The collection has been crafted by scholars and educators whose goal was to shed light on the importance of history education and to foster understanding of and between Asian countries These essays show how the teaching of world history in Asian countries has developed since World War II with many interesting parallels including the issue of Eurocentrism but also distinctive national trends and considerable changes over time At a time when many Asian countries are making great strides in education this study of history education in Asia will be of real interest to educators history scholars and policy makers worldwide History of Civilizations Mayson Kirby,2018-08-11

The History of Civilizations traces the history of man in this vast region from the Palaeolithic beginnings to circa 700 B C when the foundations for the formation of the great Empire were laid Many different elements must come together before a human community develops to the level of sophistication commonly referred to as civilization The first is the existence of settlements classifiable as towns or cities This requires food production to be efficient enough for a large minority of the community to be engaged in more specialized activities such as the creation of imposing buildings or works of art the practice of skilled warfare and above all the administration of a centralized bureaucracy capable of running the machinery of state Despite the major role played by Central Asia in shaping the history of the past and of today this vast region stretching from the Caspian Sea to Mongolia and western China had not been studied as a whole cultural entity in time and space This multi volume History of Civilizations of Central Asia published in English is the first attempt to present a comprehensive picture of the cultures that flourished and vanished at the heart of the Eurasian continent from the dawn of civilization to the present day The book is an engaging and thought provoking philosophical account that demonstrates that critical inquiry is an ongoing process with strains of continuity and evolution of Civilizations Encyclopedia of Reincarnation and Karma
