

Review for Ch. 8 Test

8.1 Describing Chemical Reactions

- know how to write word equations (i.e. you have be able to name compounds, including acids, ionic, and covalent compounds from Ch. 7)
- know how to write a formula equation
- What 2 things do coefficients represent in an equation? Relative number of moles of a substance ; relative number of molecules needed for a reaction to occur
- know common symbols used in a reaction
- know 4 evidences of a chemical reaction:
 1. energy in the form of heat or light
 2. production of a gas
 3. change in color
 4. formation of a precipitate
- know the Law of conservation of matter: matter can neither be created nor destroyed in a chemical reaction (which means, mass of reactants must equal the mass of products)
- know what a chemical equation represents: relative amounts of reactants and products
- know how to balance chemical equations (combustion reactions are particularly tricky, practice!)

1. Complete the equation and write a word equation for the following reaction: $\text{ZnO} + \text{FeSO}_4 \rightleftharpoons$

Zinc oxide reacts with iron (II) sulfate to yield zinc sulfate and iron (II) oxide

2. Write a formula equation for the reaction of a solution of AgCl with potassium metal:

3. What elements are always diatomic gases at room temperature?

All of the halogens (Group 17) , H_2 , N_2 , O_2

4. Can you balance these reactions:

Numerical Solution of Time-Dependent Advection-Diffusion-Reaction Equations Willem Hundsdorfer, Jan G. Verwer, 2013-04-17 This book deals with numerical methods for solving partial differential equations PDEs coupling advection diffusion and reaction terms with a focus on time dependency A combined treatment is presented of methods for hyperbolic problems thereby emphasizing the one way wave equation methods for parabolic problems and methods for stiff and non stiff ordinary differential equations ODEs With regard to time dependency we have attempted to present the algorithms and the discussion of their properties for the three different types of differential equations in a unified way by using semi discretizations i.e the method of lines whereby the PDE is transformed into an ODE by a suitable spatial discretization In addition for hyperbolic problems we also discuss discretizations that use information based on characteristics Due to this combination of methods this book differs substantially from more specialized textbooks that deal exclusively with numerical methods for either PDEs or ODEs We treat integration methods suitable for both classes of problems This combined treatment offers a clear advantage On the one hand in the field of numerical ODEs highly valuable methods and results exist which are of practical use for solving time dependent PDEs something which is often not fully exploited by numerical PDE researchers Although many problems can be solved by Euler's method or the Crank Nicolson method better alternatives are often available which can significantly reduce the computational effort needed to solve practical problems

Material Balances for Chemical Reacting Systems R.L. Cerro, B.G. Higgins, S. Whitaker, 2022-12-05 Written for use in the first course of a typical chemical engineering program Material Balances for Chemical Reacting Systems introduces and teaches students a rigorous approach to solving the types of macroscopic balance problems they will encounter as chemical engineers This first course is generally taken after students have completed their studies of calculus and vector analysis and these subjects are employed throughout this text Since courses on ordinary differential equations and linear algebra are often taken simultaneously with the first chemical engineering course these subjects are introduced as needed Teaches readers the fundamental concepts associated with macroscopic balance analysis of multicomponent reacting systems Offers a novel and scientifically correct approach to handling chemical reactions Includes an introductory approach to chemical kinetics Features many worked out problems beginning with those that can be solved by hand and ending with those that benefit from the use of computer software This textbook is aimed at undergraduate chemical engineering students but can be used as a reference for graduate students and professional chemical engineers as well as readers from environmental engineering and bioengineering The text features a solutions manual with detailed solutions for all problems as well as PowerPoint lecture slides available to adopting professors

Chemistry, Student Study Guide James E. Brady, Fred Senese, 2008-01-28 The image on the front cover depicts a carbon nanotube emerging from a glowing plasma of hydrogen and carbon as it forms around particles of a metal catalyst Carbon nanotubes are a recently discovered allotrope of carbon Three other allotropes of carbon buckyballs graphite and diamond are illustrated at the left as is the molecule methane CH_4 from which nanotubes and buckyballs can be made The element carbon forms an amazing number of compounds with structures that follow from simple methane found in natural gas to the complex macromolecules that serve as the basis of life on our planet The study of chemistry also follows from the simple to the more complex and the strength of this text is that it enables students with varied backgrounds to proceed together to significant levels of achievement
