Readers Front & Center Dorothy J. Barnhouse, 2014 Every teacher wants and expects his or her students to be reading increasingly complex texts yet sometimes the gap between our expectations and our students abilities seems wide and deep It s tempting to look at that gap and step in to fill it for them but then we d be doing most of the heavy lifting the understanding analysis and interpretation that our students should be learning for themselves So how can teachers reverse this trend and ensure that our students are fully entering absorbing and experiencing texts How can we make sure they re making complex meaning independently and proficiently as the Common Core State Standards require Readers Front Center answers these questions by framing instruction that starts with the student You ll learn how to do the following Research and listen to your students so your teaching can be more targeted Notice and name your students thinking so they can see what complex thinking looks and sounds like Set your students up to be problem solvers Prepare your students to do increasingly complex thinking in increasingly complex texts Filled with examples of one on one conferences small groups and whole class scenarios this essential book provides an accessible and inspiring model of how and why we need to put students at the front and center of our teaching

Children's Emotional Lives Sandra Leanne Bosacki, 2008 Drawing on evidence from a longitudinal study of Canadian children s emotional experiences within the grade school classroom this book considers the nature and significance of such experiences for children s development and well being Within the learning context of the classroom the girls and boys share their experiences of self emotional understandings and social relations through interviews and social cognitive tasks The chapters provide scholarly analysis and practical information for those who agree that emotions are paramount to children s comprehensive development The book concludes by describing the practical implications and applications of its findings for parents teachers and caretakers of children including how to help children learn about and negotiate emotions in themselves and in their interactions with others

Teaching Writing in Middle and Secondary

Schools Margot Soven, 1998 Handbook for English language arts teachers of students in grades 6-12 A Sense of Belonging Jennifer Allen, 2023-10-10 Too often new teachers enter the profession excited to make a difference in the lives of children only to find themselves disillusioned and overwhelmed with the expectations of the classroom. In A Sense of Belonging, Jennifer Allen shares her stories and journey in creating an infrastructure of support for new teachers within her school district. A Sense of Belonging provides research-based practical ideas on how to support new teachers while honoring the innovation, idealism, and optimistic enthusiasm that they bring to the classroom. From supporting new teachers early in the year with administering and analyzing literacy assessments through using student work to guide instruction to offering ongoing help with curriculum planning, Jennifer shares strategies on fostering relationships with new teachers starting before school even begins, creating learning environments for new teachers to be reflective practitioners, coaching new teachers in their classrooms, and providing opportunities for them to observe their peers in action, supporting new teachers beyond their first year through gradual release of support over their first several years in the classroom, and facilitating professional development opportunities where new and veteran teachers learn alongside one another. Jennifer believes, and her book demonstrates, that when schools embrace, encourage, and celebrate the work of new teachers, they establish a supportive environment that fosters excellence and improves retention.
