Governance and the postcolony David Everatt, 2019-08-01 Civil society NGOs governments and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance yet they seem to speak past one another Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations This is especially true in sub Saharan Africa Here the postcolony takes many forms reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors crisis management water food security universities in different locales across sub Saharan Africa and from different theoretical approaches network to adversarial network governance this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in the sub Saharan context Governance and the Postcolony Views from Africa brings together topical case studies that will be a valuable resource for those working in the field of African international relations public policy public management and administration

Applying Critical Mathematics Education ,2021-07-05 There is no shortage of urgent complex problems that mathematics education can and should engage with Pandemics forest fires pollution Black Lives Matter protests and fake news all involve mathematics are matters of life and death have a clear political dimension and are interdisciplinary in nature They demand a critical approach The authors in this volume showcase new insights teaching ideas and new and unique ways of applying critical mathematics education in areas as diverse as climate change obesity decolonisation and ethnomathematics This book demonstrates that there is plenty to be done with critical mathematics education Contributors are Annica Andersson Tonya Gau Bartell Richard Barwell Lisa Lunney Borden Sunghwan Byun Anna Chronaki Brian Greer Jennifer Hall Victoria Hand Kjellrun Hiis Hauge Beth Herbel Eisenmann Rune Herheim Courtney Koestler Kate le Roux Swapna Mukhopadhyay Aldo Parra Anita Rampal Sheena Rughubar Reddy Toril Eskeland Rangnes Ulrika Ryan Lisa Steffensen Paola Valero and David Wagner #FeesMustFall and Youth Mobilisation in South Africa Musawenkosi Ndlovu,2017-07-14 Cover Title Copyright Contents Preface Introduction and rationale 1 The view of South African youth before FeesMustFall 2 Were the 2015 student protests a revolution 3 What the 2015 protests actually were and how they were possible 4 Ikhohlisan ihlomile FMF students engagement with power and their ideological differences 5 Can South Africa s declining economy inspire student led new revolution 6 Youth s declining news consumption levels and ideologically divided media 7 Youth s polysemic interpretation of the ANC regime and the limits of the new revolution 8 Youths declining participation levels in the public sphere the constraints of new revolution 9 Conclusion FMF protests will not lead to a revolution per se at least not yet but to wide ranging reforms References Index Written Under the Skin Carli Coetzee,2019 In this book the author argues that a younger generation of South Africans is developing important and innovative ways of understanding South African pasts and that challenge the narratives that have over the last decades been informed by notions of forgiveness and reconciliation The author uses the image of history rich blood to explore these approaches to intergenerational memory Blood under the skin is a carrier of embodied and gendered histories and using this image the chapters revisit older archives as well as analyse contemporary South African cultural and literary forms The emphasis on blood challenges the privileged status skin has had as explanatory category in thinking about identity and instead emphasises intergenerational transfer and continuity The argument is that a younger generation is disputing and debating the terms through which to understand contemporary South Africa as well as for interpreting the legacies of the past that remain under the visible layer of skin The chapters each concern blood Mandela s prison cell as laboratory for producing bloodless freedom the kinship relations created and resisted in accounts of Eugene de Kock in prison Ruth First s concern with information leaks in her accounts of her time in prison the first human to human heart transplant and its relation to racialised attempts to salvage white identity the Fallist moment Abantu book festival and activist scholarship and creative art works that use blood as trope for thinking about change and continuity Carli Coetzee is Editor of the Journal of

Economics and Climate Emergency Barry Gills, Jamie Morgan, 2022-08-22 This book explores a series of connected themes focused on the role economics and other influential forms of theory and thinking have played in creating the current predicament and the scope for alternatives and how they might be framed Thirty years have passed since the inception of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC and the beginning of policy on climate change Thirty wasted years To most politicians long term collective interest has been denominated in meaningless units of time a never and forever that has continually delayed action From complacency has come potential disaster and we are now living in a time of climate emergency and ecological breakdown The next decade is a pivotal period requiring fundamental change But numerous impediments remain Continual material energy and economic growth on a planetary scale are manifestly impossible and yet economic theory takes these as a given and political leadership and policy seem unwilling to accept brute reality Instead they offer a series of implausible commitments and pledges rooted in technofixes without addressing the fundamental drivers of the problems the world faces The edited volume explores the issues and offers a variety of ways to think through the problems at hand from postgrowth degrowth and social ecological economics to policy assemblage and transversalism The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Globalizations Migration

Conundrums, Regional Integration and Development Innocent Moyo, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, Jussi P.

Laine, 2020-07-08 This book examines Africa Europe relationships and intra Africa relationships vis vis migration It analyses the African integration project that is being used to effectively manage migration within Africa and across its RECs and harnessing it for development The book presents debates related to the EU's hardening and securitisation of its external border against migrants from Africa It shows that migration actually challenges Africa European relations which is discussed as an important theme in this book Authors in this book volume investigate several issues ranging from conundrums relating to migration between Africa and Europe to migration within Africa but also in relation to borders and boundaries its bearing on regional and continental integration and the significance of this in terms of relations between Africa and Europe This book volume brings into conversation issues relating to the governance of migration for development social cohesion and regional integration The Emerald Handbook of Entrepreneurship in Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Marios

Sotiriadis, 2018-07-11 This book is a practical handbook for entrepreneurship in tourism related industries The book will provide students and prospective entrepreneurs with the knowledge know how and best practices in order to assist them in planning implementing and managing business ventures in the field of tourism Discourse, Media, and Conflict Innocent

Chiluwa, 2022-04-28 Bringing together contributions from a team of international scholars this pioneering book applies theories and approaches from linguistics such as discourse analysis and pragmatics to analyse the media and online political discourses of both conflict and peace processes By analysing case studies as globally diverse as Germany the USA Nigeria Iraq Korea and Libya and across a range of genres such as TV news channels online reporting and traditional newspapers the chapters collectively show how news discourse can be powerful in mobilizing public support for war or violence or for conflict resolution through the linguistic representation of certain groups It explores the consequences of this framing effect and shows how peace journalism can be achieved through a non violent approach to reporting conflict It will therefore serve as an essential resource for students scholars and experts in media and communication studies conflict and peace studies international relations linguistics and political science The Bloomsbury Handbook of Diversity, Crises and Transformative Leadership in Higher Education Yusef Waghid, Mary Drinkwater, 2024-10-03 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Diversity Crises and Transformative Leadership in Higher Education explores the intersections of contemporary understandings and practices of leadership within higher education around diversity inclusion and indigeneity With contributions from four continents the handbook brings together diverse perspectives to explore a range of topics including access equity cultural competence decolonisation student activism and indigenous insights Countries covered include Australia Canada Czech Republic India New Zealand Pakistan South Africa and the USA The book forms part of the Bloomsbury Handbooks of Crises and Transformative Leadership in Higher Education collection brought together by Mary Drinkwater Togetherness in South Africa J.M. Vorster, Nico Vorster, Jan A. du Rand, Riaan Rheeder, Dirk van der Merwe, Theuns Eloff, Ferdi P. Kruger, Reginald W. Nel, 2017-11-24 Race and inequality have always been sensitive topics in South African society due to its colonial past diverse social composition and apartheid legacy of legal discrimination against people on the basis of their skin colour Racial tensions seem to be escalating in South African society and disturbing racialised rhetoric and slogans are re entering the political and social landscape Another disturbing phenomenon has been violent incidents of xenophobia against African immigrants The question probed by this book is What perspectives can theology offer in addressing the roots of racism inequality and xenophobia in South Africa and how can it and the church contribute to reconciliation and a sense of togetherness among South African citizens Various methodologies and approaches are used to address this question In chapter 1 Theuns Eloff employs a historical and socio analytical approach to describe the social context that has given rise and is still giving impetus to racism and other forms of intolerance in South African society Nico Vorster approaches the issue of distorted racial identity constructions from a theological anthropological perspective Utilising various empirical studies he attempts to provide conceptual clarity to the concepts of racism nationalism ethnocentrism and xenophobia and maps the various racisms that we find in South Africa His contribution concludes with a theological anthropological discussion on ways in which theology can deconstruct distorted identities and contribute to the development of authentic identities Koos Vorster provides a theological ethical perspective on social stratification in South Africa He identifies the patterns inherent to the institutionalisation of racist social structures and argues that many of these patterns are still present albeit in a new disguise in the South African social order Jan du Rand provides in chapter 4 a semantic discussion of the notions of race and xenophobia He argues that racist ideologies are not constructed on a factual basis but that racial ideologies use semantic notions to construct social myths that enable them to attain power and justify the exploitation and oppression of the other Du Rand s second contribution in chapter 5 provides Reformed exegetical and hermeneutic perspectives on various passages and themes in the Bible that relate to anthropology xenophobia and the imperative to xenophilia love of the stranger Dirk Van der Merwe s contribution analyses evaluates and compares both contemporary literature and ancient texts of the Bible to develop a model that can enable churches to promote reconciliation in society while Ferdi Kruger investigates the various ways in which language can be used as a tool to disseminate hate speech He offers an analytical description of hate language provides normative perspectives on the duty to counter hate speech through truth speaking and phronesis wisdom and concludes with practical theological perspectives that might enable us to address problematic praxis Reggie Nel explores the Confessions of Belhar and the Declaration of Accra as theological lenses to provide markers for public witness in a postcolonial South African setting The volume concludes with Riaan Rheeder's Christian bioethical perspective on inequality in the health sector of sub Sahara Africa This book contains original research No part was plagiarised or published elsewhere The target audience are theologians ministers and the Christian community but social activists social scientists politicians political theorists sociologists and psychologists might also find the book applicable to their fields

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Scholarship of education and human rights in diversity Erika M. Serfontein, Charl C. Wolhuter, Shantha Naidoo, 2023-03-01 The objective of this book is to highlight the need and value of imbuing the dynamic intersections between education human rights and diversity with perspectives from the Global South The chapters approach key intellectual conundrums of the day from a Global South perspective to reflect a credible scholarly footprint in Africa and in the SADC region This is deemed timely considering that the field is deeply embedded in western Eurocentric and overall Global North dominance This book will provide a Southern perspective on education and human rights in diversity by unpacking each of the following key areas in the intersection between education human rights and diversity from a Southern perspective comparative international
