Creating a Meaningful Life Shannon Hodges,2022-11-10 Creating a Meaningful Life builds on the tenets of mindfulness based cognitive therapy MBCT to answer some of life s basic questions such as How do I create a meaningful purposeful life and Is the life I am living one that brings me fulfillment purpose and a sense of inner peace Using a variety of techniques including journaling grounding exercises cognitive self talk restructuring and more chapters invite counseling professionals and students to explore their inner landscape better understand themselves and find communion with others Life-Span Development and Behavior David L. Featherman,Richard M. Lerner,Marion Perlmutter,2014-01-14 This volume continues the tradition of the Life Span Development Series presenting overviews of research programs on a variety of developmental topics Research and theory in life span development have given increased attention to the issues of constancy and change in human development and to the opportunities for and constraints on plasticity in structure and function across life Acknowledging the need for and existence of interconnection between age and developmental periods it focuses on conditions for possibly discontinuous development that emerge at later periods Contributors to this series are sensitive to the restrictive consequences of studying only specific age periods such as old age infancy or adolescence Each scholar attempts to relate the facts about one age group to similar facts about other age groups and to move toward the study of transformation of characteristics and processes over the life span International Journal of Psychosocial Rehabilitation 20th Edition Southern Development Group,2017-01-23 This private NON PROFIT professional publication and associated web based information archive service is dedicated to the enhancement of practice program development program evaluation and innovations in mental health and substance abuse treatment programs worldwide Its goal is to provide a public forum for practitioners consumers and researchers to address the multiple service needs of patients and families and help determine what works for whom under a variety of circumstances Questioning Causality Rom Harré,Fathali M. Moghaddam,2016-01-25 Covering a topic applicable to fields ranging from education to health care to psychology this book provides a broad critical analysis of the assumptions that researchers and practitioners have about causation and explains how readers can improve their thinking about causation In virtually every laboratory research center or classroom focused on the social or physical sciences today the concept of causation is a core issue to be questioned tested and determined Even debates in unrelated areas such as biology law and philosophy often focus on causality What made that happen In this book experts from across disciplines adopt a reader friendly approach to reconsider this age old question in a modern light defining different kinds of causation and examining how causes and consequences are framed and approached in a particular field Each chapter uses applied examples to illustrate key points in an accessible manner The contributors to this work supply a coherent critical analysis of the assumptions researchers and practitioners hold about causation and explain how such thinking about causation can be improved Collectively the coverage is broad providing readers with a fuller picture of research in social contexts Beyond providing insightful description and thought provoking questioning of causation in different research areas the book applies analysis of data in order to point the way to smarter more efficient practices Consequently both practitioners and researchers will benefit from this book

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 20 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 20 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis ably traverses the analytic canvas with sections on Theoretical Studies Clinical Studies Applied Psychoanalysis and Psychoanalysis and Philosophy The first section begins with Arnold Modell's probing consideration of the paradoxical nature of the self provocatively discussed with John Gedo Modell focuses on the fact that the self is simultaneously public and private dependent and autonomous Alice Rosen Soreff next explores innate motivation and self-protective regulatory processes from the standpoint of recent infancy research her notion of a lifelong two-track model of self and relatedness helps establish a normative baseline that can anchor psychoanalytic theory George Mahl makes an interesting contribution to Freud studies in the form of a new chronology of Freud's works and the number of pages they contain in the Standard Edition The section ends with Robert Galatzer Levy and Mayer Gruber's quasi-experiment about disgust They test and disconfirm the hypothesis that disgust is an affective response to an abstract sense of disorder rather than a transformation of a concrete bodily experience by systematically exploring references to concepts of disgust in the Old Testament Section II on Clinical Studies opens with Henry Smith's fascinating elaboration of Freud's notion of screen memories into a theory of screening that denotes the general process by which mental content is organized He illustrates his thesis by invoking the screen language employed by a patient throughout her analysis Ernest Wolf next explores the tension between being a scientist and a healer in Freud and his followers to illuminate struggles within the psychoanalytic movement and to help account for current attitudes toward abstinence neutrality and gratification Kenneth Newman focuses on this same triptych of technical precepts He argues in the spirit of Winnicott and Kohut that analysts can only alter the hostile internal environments of their patients by becoming usable objects and cultivating an optimally responsive analytic environment A particularly rich collection of applied analytic studies forms Section III of the volume Individual chapters focus on the childhood of Vincent van Gogh W.W. Meissner the psychological healing process depicted in George Eliot's Silas Marner Richard Almond the self-psychological meaning of blood brotherhood in D.H. Lawrence's Women in Love James Cowan ecstatic mysticism in the 19th-century Indian saint Sri Ramakrishna Sudhir Kakar the disintegration of the Tyrone family in Eugene O'Neill's Long Day's Journey into Night Frank and Annette Lachmann and the nature and analytic significance of Freud's aesthetic response to Michelangelo's Moses Gary Goldsmith Finally in Section IV George Brook examines the commonsense psychological knowledge of everyday life that is the nonpsychoanalytic knowledge on which much of clinical psychoanalysis ultimately depends Taken together the four sections of Volume 20 of The Annual offer an exciting overview of contemporary psychoanalysis Section I highlights recent trends in psychoanalytic theorizing and the testing of psychoanalytic propositions Section II explores the relevance of new theoretical perspectives to clinical work Section III demonstrates the applicability of these new perspectives to psychobiographical and literary analysis and Section IV provocatively explores the points of connection between everyday ideas and attitudes and the tenets of psychoanalytic practice

Profiles of Personality (Second Edition) Eugene DeRobertis, 2021-06-14 Profiles of Personality offers a refreshingly different approach to learning personality Designed to serve as a primary or supplementary textbook for courses on personality theory Profiles of Personality gently guides the reader to go beyond learning about the theories of personality to encouraging critical thought about them Drawing on many years of teaching experience DeRobertis writes in an accessible engaging manner that keeps the reader engaged The second edition of this text has been expanded and updated with over 100 pages of new content Personality textbooks come in two forms each with their own style of organizing content They will either be organized in terms of historical affiliation e.g. Freud and those theories that are historically affiliated with Freud etc or they will offer a series of disparate research foci Both approaches make it difficult for students to attain a coherent synoptic grasp of the subject matter Profiles of Personality offers an alternative It presents personality theories on the basis of a meta narrative that guides the student through an unfolding story of personality and personal becoming The meta narrative of the text reflects the whole person emphasis that gave rise to the study of personality in the first place As Walter Mischel once noted the study of personality was intended to become the meta discipline for integrating the findings and general principles of psychology as a whole as they speak to the person as a whole In contrast to the most contemporary texts take a more restrictive approach the current text returns to the macro integrative orientation of those early 20th Century personality theorists who helped to bring about the emerging humanistic revolution in psychology The macro integrative orientation has always been guided by the deeply held belief that the personality psychologist should not conflate objectivity with the objectification of the person or the personality The aim of the approach is to be theoretically open inclusive and capable of speaking to the fullness of human existence its drama far beyond the aims of adaptation to given biosocial conditions Macro integrative investigations target the full range of human experience from highly conflicted forms of pathology to highly self transcendent forms of personal fulfillment Beginning with the contributions of the micro integrative tradition Profiles of Personality moves progressively deeper into the world of macro integrative theorizing increasingly exposing the role of paradox in the differential integrative process of personality formation Highlights of this new edition include brief discussions of gerotranscendence gender and education additions to the analysis of narrative and an expanded section on multiculturalism and the ecopsychological culture of place Changing Conceptions of Psychological Life Cynthia Lightfoot, Michael Chandler, Chris Lalonde, 2004-09-10 Changing Conceptions of Psychological Life is an interdisciplinary look at personal constructions of self This book is a product of the 30th Annual Meeting of the Jean Piaget Society The contributing authors constitute the original cast invited to speak on the theme of how individuals come to construe psychological lives their own and others Their concerns are how our sense of ourselves emerges developmentally culturally and historically and the implications such constructions have for personal social and political change Together the authors compose an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars well regarded for their work on topics as diverse as adolescence language aging romance and morality Creating a level of discourse about selves and mind and how they have been and should be studied the volume is broken down into four parts Part I includes work that is principally concerned with elevating the position of our experience of ourselves in constructing who we are The next section focuses on the corrections presumed to exist between the conceptions of self and the conceptions of mental life Each chapter offers additional information on the dynamics of temperament attachment personality and regulation Part III is concerned with cultural contexts that frame developing conceptions of self and mental life Finally the last section situates conceptions of mental life directly and dramatically in the social contexts of their making Readers will find in these pages a programmatic effort variously attuned to selves and minds as dynamic and structured present and represented felt and known non language and storied and embodied and theorized The volume is suitable for certain upper level undergraduate and graduate seminars dealing with clinical cognitive cultural and developmental matters and sought out by active researchers and practitioners in the field
