objects built by Oracle Corporation and stored directly in the Oracle database. The functionality of these packages is available from any programming environment that can call PL/SQL stored procedures including Visual Basic, Oracle Developer 2000, Oracle Application Server for web based development and of course the Oracle database itself. Built-in packages extend the capabilities and power of PL/SQL in many significant ways. For example, DBMS_SQL executes dynamically constructed SQL statements and PL/SQL blocks of code. DBMS_PIPE communicates between different Oracle sessions through a pipe in the RDBMS shared memory. DBMS_JOB submits and manages regularly scheduled jobs for execution inside the database. DBMS_LOB accesses and manipulates Oracle8's large objects (LOBs) from within PL/SQL programs. The first edition of Oracle PL/SQL Programming contained a chapter on Oracle's built-in packages but there is much more to say about the basic PL/SQL packages than Feuerstein could fit in his first book. In addition, now that Oracle8 has been released, there are many new Oracle8 built-in packages not described in the PL/SQL book. There are also package extensions for specific Oracle environments such as distributed database; hence this book, Oracle Built-in Packages, pulls together information about how to use the calling interface (API) to Oracle's Built-in Packages and provides extensive examples on using the built-in packages effectively. The Windows diskette included with the book contains the companion guide, an online tool developed by RevealNet Inc. that provides point-and-click access to the many files of source code and online documentation developed by the authors.
