Clinically Based Teacher Education in Action Eva Garin, Rebecca West Burns, 2020-04-01 Teacher education in the United States is changing to meet new policy demands for centering clinical practice and developing robust school university partnerships to better prepare high quality teachers for tomorrow s schools PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SCHOOLS PDSs have recently been cited in national reports as exemplars of high quality school university partnerships in the clinical preparation of teachers According to the National Association for Professional Development Schools PDSs have Nine Essentials that distinguish them from other school university collaborations But even with that guidance working across the boundaries of schools and universities remains messy complex and quite frankly hard That s why perhaps there is such diversity in school university partnerships For the last thirty years educators have been fascinated yet puzzled with how to build PDSs Clinically Based Teacher Education in Action Cases from PDSs addresses that perplexity by providing images of the possible in school university collaboration Each chapter closely examines one of the NAPDS Nine Essentials and then provides three cases from PDSs that target that particular essential In this way readers can see how different PDSs from across the globe are innovating to actualize that essential in PDS development The editors provide commentary addressing themes across the three cases Each chapter ends with questions to start collaborative conversations and a field based activity meant to propel your PDS work forward

Nursing Informatics '91 James P. Turley,Susan K.
