

Advanced Placement Physics: The Question

Investigate the reflection of electromagnetic waves and determine how the reflection can be explained by the change in speed.

Knowledge: angle of incidence, angle of reflection, frequency, index of refraction, normal, reflection, Snell's law, total internal reflection, wave front, wavelength, wave speed

Skills Knowledge Measurement: Use these APCCHS category items:

Technological skills by topic, such as finding and creating a simulated wave:

1. What conceptually explains if one wave front begins moving perpendicular to itself?

It will move faster than before (moving perpendicular to the wave front) when it is slower.

2. How does the direction of the wave front change?

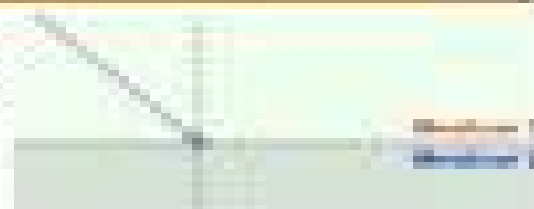

The wave front will change its direction as it moves from one medium to another.

Light Waves:

Light can travel through many materials. In vacuum, the light is fastest and constant in speed. The speed of light can change when it travels from one medium to another. This difference in speed causes the light to bend. As a beam of light goes from one medium to another, it bends.

There are three main types of light waves: radio, infrared, and visible.

3. What type of light wave is radio? infrared and visible light waves are radio and infrared light.

4. What happens to the speed of light waves?

The speed of the light waves will increase when it enters a medium with a higher index of refraction.

5. What happens to the direction of the light waves?

The direction of the light waves will change. The light waves will bend towards the normal when they enter a medium with a higher index of refraction.

The bending of light waves into two is called refraction.

6. What happens to the speed of light waves? refraction is the bending of light waves into two. refraction is the bending of light waves into two.
