Author's Note

First, I apologize for releasing this so late. Sorry for the huge delay and stuff. Anyway, welcome to my P2F guide for the P2 game. This biggest Persona Fanon is. I've covered Persona 1 and P2F2 previously and immediately for it here with them as basically, P4 is my most awaited title for the P2F last year. The game is pretty intense compared to P1 so I am sure even veterans and newbies will enjoy what the game has to offer. This guide is pretty much compiled in a rush so don't expect everything to be in order for the first few releases. I can assure you though that the content will be drastically improved for every update, until it is completed. The basic section will just discuss what new players needs to know and further info will be available as they continue using the guide and as they progress in the game.

And since the game is always about choices and possibilities, I will just make suggestions of those possibilities but I will always leave the decisions to the players on how to spend their days.

Any feedback from you guys is very much appreciated. I will try to cover everything that needs to be covered but I can't guarantee you that this will be perfect. Just imagine one guy can do with such limited time and resources, especially for the game's wealth of possibilities and fun. Since I love using screenshots to make the guide more effective, SPOILERS are I BE SPOILERS SPOILERS is used with care. ## Basics

SYNOPSIS

The story revolves around the string of mysterious murders in a sleepy, countryside town of Inaba. Because of his parents' work overseas, the protagonist has moved from the big city to live with his uncle. There is already a rumor about a secret channel that you can only watch on rainy nights and while the TV is powered off. They also discovered an alternate entrance leading to that world, a world that is inhabited by a strange being named and hostile creatures known only as shadows. Along with their newly discovered power, the ability to summon a Persona, a powerful, sentient being that manifested from their innermost desires and feelings, the protagonist and his small band of close friends vowed to find out who is behind the murders and how the TV world is connected to reality.

CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT

The game is pretty much about developing your character, not only in a sense of leveling up in battles but also in personality. His core stats play a great role in determining on how efficient your character becomes in his "real" life. Higher core stats unlock more possibilities as increasing them is detrimental to the game's progress. Only the first four core stats matter most in the game. Diligence isn't that important as focus on increasing them instead.

Stat	LV1	LV2	LV3	LV4	LV5
Energy	Average	Below	Above	Good	Great
Knowledge	Average	Below	Above	Good	Great
Expression	Average	Below	Above	Good	Great

Increasing your core stat can be done in many different ways. The game is smart enough to offer alternatives. You can spend time studying in the library or with a friend to increase your core stat as well as increasing your relationship with them. There are certain social links that help increase some of your core stats as you spend time with them. There are also certain conversation responses that may increase your core stats as well. Some of the other activities you can do to increase your stats are studying in your room, reading books, eating at a certain diner only on rainy days, eating leftovers in the house fridge, answering pop quizzes correctly etc.

GAMEFLOW

Like its predecessor, Persona 2 is divided by fixed "time blocks". On normal weekdays, the day may be divided to Early Morning, Morning, Lunchtime, Afternoon, After School and Evening Blocks. Normally, you can only freely do what you want during the After School and Evening Blocks. On holidays and Sundays, the day is normally divided into the Daytime and Evening time blocks.

Early Morning

- This time block is available when there is a story-related event, but it will just normally contain normal conversation and going while on your way to school.

Morning

- This time block is normally used for lectures and pop quizzes. Answering pop quizzes may increase your relationship with a friend if you help him/her answer the question correctly while listening to lectures may improve one of your core stats.

Lunchtime

- This time block will only occur if there is a story event, if you'll receive invitations from your friends to hang out, if you have packed lunch to share with them and if you need to check your exam results.

Afternoon

- This time block is not always available and when it is, it is usually story-related conversation/event, a lecture or maybe a pop quiz.

After School

- This is the time of the game where you can do most stuff freely. You can check out the town on your own, complete quests, entering the TV world, spend time with your friends and do other stuff.

Theory in popular music has historically tended to approach musical processes of rhythm harmony counterpoint and form as abstractions without very directly engaging the intimate connection between the performer and instrument in popular music performance Embodied Expression in Popular Music illuminates under researched aspects of music theory in popular music studies by situating musical analysis in a context of embodied movement in vocal and instrumental performance Author Timothy Koozin offers a performance based analytical methodology that progresses from basic idiomatic gestures to gestural combinations and interactions with large scale design to broader interpretive strategies that engage with theories of embodiment the musical topic and narrative The book examines artistic practices in popular song that draw from a vast range of stylistic sources including rock blues folk soul funk fusion and hip hop as well as European classical and African American gospel musical traditions Exploring the interrelationships in how we create hear and understand music through the body Koozin demonstrates how a focus on body instrument interaction can illuminate musical structures while leveling implied hierarchies of cultural value He provides detailed analysis of artists creative strategies in singing and playing their instruments probing how musicians represent subjectivities of gender race and social class in shaping songs and whole albums Tracing connections from foundational blues gospel and rock musicians to current rap artists he clarifies how inferences of musical topic and narrative are part of a larger creative process in strategically positioning musical gestures By
