

Personal Growth Plan

What Are Your Next Growth Steps?

- What are your next growth steps as a follower of Christ? How are you seeking to take that next step?
- Can you identify one or more areas of growth in your own leadership where focused improvement could exponentially impact your life and ministry? How are you investing in these areas?
- Will you be more like Christ one year from now? Do you have any intentional plan to see specific transformation and change in your life over the next year?

These questions flow from Paul's admonition to Timothy: "...train yours elf to be godly." (1Timothy 4:7b). To paraphrase this verse, Paul is challenging Timothy to "take personal responsibility for intentionally and systematically investing in transformation toward Christlikeness." Why? "For physical training is of some value, but godliness has value for all things, holding promise for both the present life and the life to come." (1Timothy 4:8)

In the context of Paul and other biblical teachings, 1Timothy 4:7 is not advocating self-reliant works but a partnership over time between the active Holy Spirit and the dependent but responsible and active follower of Christ. Unfortunately, many adult followers of Christ struggle with combining personal responsibility, intentionality and action in becoming more like Christ. In his book, Growing True Disciples, researcher George Barna notes that:

- 3 of 5 Christian adults claim to have a deep commitment to the Christian faith, but they are not involved in any intentional effort to grow spiritually.<sup>1</sup>
- Only 4 of 10 church members responded that they had set personal spiritual goals for themselves.
- Only 2 of 10 believers who are serious about their spiritual development have defined rather specific goals.<sup>3</sup>
