Mathematical Practitioners and the Transformation of Natural Knowledge in Early Modern Europe Lesley B.

Cormack, Steven A. Walton, John A. Schuster, 2017-03-15 This book argues that we can only understand transformations of nature studies in the Scientific Revolution if we take seriously the interaction between practitioners those who know by doing and scholars those who know by thinking These are not in opposition however Theory and practice are end points on a continuum with some participants interested only in the practical others only in the theoretical and most in the murky intellectual and material world in between It is this borderland where influence appropriation and collaboration have the potential to lead to new methods new subjects of enquiry and new social structures of natural philosophy and science The case for connection between theory and practice can be most persuasively drawn in the area of mathematics which is the focus of this book Practical mathematics was a growing field in early modern Europe and these essays are organised into three parts which contribute to the debate about the role of mathematical practice in the Scientific Revolution First they demonstrate the variability of the identity of practical mathematicians and of the practices involved in their activities in early modern Europe Second readers are invited to consider what practical mathematics looked like and that although practical mathematical knowledge was transmitted and circulated in a wide variety of ways participants were able to recognize them all as practical mathematics Third the authors show how differences and nuances in practical mathematics typically depended on the different contexts in which it was practiced social cultural political and economic particularities matter Historians of science especially those interested in the Scientific Revolution period and the history of mathematics will find this book and its ground breaking approach of particular interest

Williams, 2013-06-29 The sixth EUROTRAC Symposium was held in Garmisch Partenkirchen th st Gennany from 27 31 March 2000 Some 375 scientists from 28 different countries from the USA to Uzbekistan gathered together and contributed to a lively week Symposium 2000 was the second Symposium of the second phase EUROTRAC 2 which is EUREKA environmental project number 1489 and also the first one organised by the new team at the International Scientific Secretariat ISS. We stayed with the tried and tested EUROTRAC format giving ample time for poster sessions as well as side meetings and workshops. The invited talks over 35 in all contributed breadth and depth. The Symposium had the focal points of Shaping the Future and Scientific Research and Environmental Policy. The Highlights from the Subprojects were well represented by a series of talks and of course by the ca 300 posters. Guest poster contributions added to the spectrum of scientific coverage. An innovation for 2000 is the publication of these Proceedings in a book containing the extended abstracts of the lectures and a companion CD ROM with the extended abstracts of the posters as well as the lectures. The availability of the Proceedings on a CD will enable us to distribute them more widely.

A Ruined Fortress? Alan W. Cafruny, Magnus Ryner, 2003-06-28. This challenging book argues convincingly that research on European integration has lagged behind important theoretical developments in the fields of international relations, international political economy and international organization. The contributors contend that prevailing theories of integration despite their considerable differences all suffer from an excessive focus on institutions and ideas while overlooking the ways in which these institutions and ideas have promoted a neoliberal agenda during the last decade. To overcome these weaknesses this volume draws on one of the key strands of theoretical innovation: critical political economy or transnational historical materialism to develop a more comprehensive and consistent analysis of processes of European integration. Although not claiming that states have ceded their role as masters of the treaties, the contributors develop innovative case studies of national and transnational processes to illustrate the salience of trans-European business networks and the primacy of neoliberalism as central organizing concepts of the post-Maastricht European project. Contributions by Baastian van Apeldoorn, Hans Jürgen Bieling, Alan W. Cafruny, Ben Clift, Stephen Gill, Colin Hay, Otto Holman, Henk Overbeek, Kees van der Pijl, Magnus Ryner, Thorsten Schulten, Giles Scott Smith, Leila Simona Talani and Matthew Watson.

Globalisation and European Integration Petros Nousios, Henk Overbeek, Andreas Tsolakis, 2012. This book explores the links between European integration and globalisation and examines the potential for social transformation in the context of the global economic crisis and the resulting EU reforms. Divided into three parts, this book offers both empirical and theoretical analyses of social integration, supranationality and global competition. Drawing on Critical Political Economy, research, Neo Gramscian, Open Marxist, Regulationist and Post-structuralist scholars subject a wide range of European flagship policies in matters of competition, trade and security to critical scrutiny and relate them to global political economy dynamics. Contributors examine the ways in which current global economic turbulence has affected the European Union, its membership and its adjacent areas and determine the potential for economic and political transformation in light of the global economic crisis and Europe's 2020 Strategy. In the emerging multi-polar world in which the EU and the US are expected to share global policymaking with new powers, this book argues for a revised conceptualisation of European

Russian and Soviet Film Adaptations of Literature, 1900-2001 Stephen Hutchings, Anat Vernitskaia, 2004-12-17 Providing many interesting case studies and bringing together many leading authorities on the subject this book examines the importance of film adaptations of literature in Russian cinema especially during the Soviet period when the cinema was accorded a vital role in imposing the authority of the communist regime on the consciousness of the Soviet people

Essential Outsiders Daniel Chirot, Anthony Reid, 2011-10-01 Ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia like Jews in Central Europe until the Holocaust have been remarkably successful as an entrepreneurial and professional minority Whole regimes have sometimes relied on the financial underpinnings of Chinese business to maintain themselves in power and recently Chinese businesses have led the drive to economic modernization in Southeast Asia But at the same time they remain as the Jews were the quintessential outsiders In some Southeast Asian countries they are targets of majority nationalist prejudices and suffer from discrimination even when they are formally integrated into the nation The essays in this book explore the reasons why the Jews in Central Europe and the Chinese in Southeast Asia have been both successful and stigmatized Their careful scholarship and measured tone contribute to a balanced view of the subject and introduce a historical depth and comparative perspective that have generally been lacking in past discussions Those who want to understand contemporary Southeast Asian and the legacy of the Jewish experience in Central Europe will gain new insights from the book

Beyond the Learned Academy Philip Beeley, Christopher Hollings, 2023-12-06 The tremendous growth of the mathematical sciences in the early modern world was reflected contemporaneously in an increasingly sophisticated level of practical mathematics in fields such as merchants accounts instrument making teaching navigation and gauging In many ways mathematics shaped the knowledge culture of the age infiltrating workshops dockyards and warehouses before extending through the factories of the Industrial Revolution to the trading companies and banks of the nineteenth century While theoretical developments in the history of mathematics have been made the topic of numerous scholarly investigations in many cases based around the work of key figures such as Descartes Huygens Leibniz or Newton practical mathematics especially from the seventeenth century onwards has been largely neglected The present volume comprising fifteen essays by leading authorities in the history of mathematics seeks to fill this gap by exemplifying the richness diversity and breadth of mathematical practice from the seventeenth century through to the middle of the nineteenth century

Volume 8, Tome II: Kierkegaard's International Reception - Southern, Central and Eastern Europe Jon Stewart, 2016-12-14 Although Kierkegaard's reception was initially more or less limited to Scandinavia it has for a long time now been a highly international affair As his writings were translated into different languages his reputation spread and he became read more and more by people increasingly distant from his native Denmark While in Scandinavia the attack on the Church in the last years of his life became something of a cause célèbre later many different aspects of his work became the object of serious scholarly investigation well beyond the original northern borders As his reputation grew he was co opted by a number of different philosophical and religious movements in different contexts throughout the world The three tomes of this volume attempt to record the history of this reception according to national and linguistic categories Tome II covers the reception of Kierkegaard in Southern Central and Eastern Europe The first set of articles under the rubric Southern Europe covers Portugal Spain and Italy A number of common features were shared in these countries reception of Kierkegaard including a Catholic cultural context and a debt to the French reception The next rubric covers the rather heterogeneous group of countries designated here as Central Europe Hungary the Czech Republic Slovakia and Poland These countries are loosely bound in a cultural sense by their former affiliation with the Habsburg Empire and in a religious sense by their shared Catholicism Finally the Orthodox countries of Eastern Europe are represented with articles on Russia Bulgaria Serbia and Montenegro Macedonia and Romania

Notes for a Decolonial Political Theology Silvana Rabinovich, 2023-12-29 At the crossroads of ethics poetics and politics this innovative book outlines a series of notes to decolonize political theology The author proposes counter hegemonic forms of reading which deconstruct domination by embracing fragility The book opens with a diapason of prejudicelessness as a decolonial key focusing on prejudices that hinder critical attention to a colonial political theology that perpetuates hatred The first set of notes aims to de orientalize the Semite by reading midrashic and biblical texts in the present context the second seeks to decolonize language by exploring the power of translation and the third ponders decolonial theo logics to outline a justice of the other Connecting a number of fields authors and epistemologies the book addresses the Israeli Palestinian conflict and brings together Jewish thought continental philosophy and Latin American perspectives It engages with a range of thinkers including Benjamin and Arendt and features an interview with Enrique Dussel This is an important methodological proposal for interdisciplinary and intercultural political theology and a valuable contribution towards rethinking the paradigm of political theology beyond its Eurocentric and colonialist premises

AB Bookman's Weekly ,1998 Digital Storytelling, Mediatized Stories Knut Lundby, 2008 Recent years have seen amateur personal stories focusing on me flourish on social networking sites and in digital storytelling workshops The resulting digital stories could be called mediatized stories This book deals with these self representational stories aiming to understand the transformations in the age old practice of storytelling that have become possible with the new digital media Its approach is interdisciplinary exploring how the mediation or mediatization processes of digital storytelling can be grasped and offering a sociological perspective of media studies and a socio cultural take of the educational sciences Aesthetic and literary perspectives on narration as well as questioning from an informatics perspective are also included
