OFFICE RIDDLE SCAVENGER HUNT

1. I'm over you on a rainy day, close me, or I might blow away.
2. I'm here when you are tired and need a seat. You will get a rest and get off your feet.
3. If you do not know where to look, then check for me on a hook.
4. Whether you use one sheet or four, someone might use less, and someone might use more.
5. If you push me, then I'll release suds. This is especially important when you've been in the mud.
6. To go up, you step on me, but I sometimes hurt your knee.
7. I light up and tell you how to leave.
8. What has a face but no mouth or nose? It also has hands but no fingers or toes.
9. I'm usually on top, and if you peek, you just might find a super cold treat.

Success on the Spectrum Emily Wiskera,Anna Smith,Tina Sue Fletcher,Lynda Wilbur,Francis Yong Chen,2024-01-04
The role of arts and cultural institutions is changing Once viewed as stewards of objects institutions are increasingly upheld as stewards of people spaces where the diversity of human experience is asserted explored and celebrated As such they function as public resources and should be equally accessible to all members of diverse communities Individuals with autism spectrum disorder account for a significant portion of the community Advocates are working to shift attitudes and nomenclature with terms such as neurodiversity and sensory friendly becoming more commonplace With this cultural institutions are putting effort into creating tailored programs and resources to welcome neurodiverse visitors who have historically been excluded from these spaces Despite their desire to connect many cultural workers fear they lack the expertise or resources needed to effectively create inclusive spaces and experiences This book s content is presented by museum educators arts administrators occupational therapists and school psychologists contributors with different expertise and perspectives on the stakes of cultural arts experiences for neurodiverse visitors We offer advice based on what has worked for us and share the sometimes difficult lessons learned along the way However this advice comes with the caution there is no one size fits all solution To be truly successful arts and cultural institutions must respond to their unique community and work within the resources and limitations of their institution Our practical goals for the reader are threefold To understand the value of programming for neurodiverse visitors and effectively communicate this to others To build a toolkit of strategies and resources for neurodiverse visitors to have successful visits to cultural institutions no matter the staff size budget or current stages of accessibility To develop evaluation strategies to gauge the impact of offerings for neurodiverse visitors with results that help the reader improve grow and refine for the future The Writer ,1981 The oldest magazine for literary workers
