Zimbabwe, 2001-2008 Chengetai J. M. Zvobgo, 2009-10-02 This study combines in one volume the history of Zimbabwe from the advent of British settlers in 1890 to 2000 including women's rights and human rights in Zimbabwe. It is a political, social, and economic history. The Postscript examines the major developments in Zimbabwe from 2001 to 2008. The two previous major studies on the history of Zimbabwe, The Past Is Another Country by Martin Meredith (London: Andre Deutsch, 1979) and The Road to Zimbabwe 1890-1980 by Anthony Verrier (London: Jonathan Cape, 1986) are now out of date. This volume brings the historical study of Zimbabwe almost up to the present day. State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations for 2010 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs, 2009

Democracy in Zimbabwe Alfred G. Nhema, 2002 This book examines the dialectics of political liberalisation in Zimbabwe over time from the settler period to the late nineties. The study takes in theoretical parameters for political and economic concepts and assumptions and provides a historical overview of settler rule, civil society reactions, and political developments 1945-1979. The author reveals stark historical continuities during this period. He argues that the post-independence state has sought like its settler predecessor to impose its hegemonic position by limiting the level of political space in which civil society could operate and that corporatist structures and policies have militated against the establishment of a fully fledged democratic society. The final chapter, which analyses structural adjustment, liberalisation, and the legacy of settler rule, offers an assessment of the prospects of a lasting democratic process in Zimbabwe and likely obstacles. Zimbabwe, a Country Study United States. Department of the Army, 1983 Old Age in African Literary and Cultural Contexts Pepetual Mforbe Chiangong, 2021-06-15 Through a wide range of indigenous, postcolonial, gender, and racial lenses, African writers have provided perspectives on various aspects of old age in the context of African literatures and cultures. This book illustrates how African literary and linguistic representations ranging from short stories, novels, and film to drama and theatre give expression to ideas about old age. The perspectives offered here provide essential knowledge in understanding the uses of dichotomous age-related categories such as old/young, elderly/male, elderly/female, and foreign/indigenous, which generally result in prejudice. Using ageism as its central theme, the contributions draw attention to the ambiguity associated with elderly people in African society who are often highly venerated for their wisdom but also stereotyped because of their advanced age. However, as the book demonstrates, old age is also deeply valorised in some traditional African contexts where older adults are regarded as indispensable members of society. It will be of particular interest to scholars, researchers, and students of African studies, applied theatre studies, gerontology, postcolonialism, sociolinguistics, sociology, and anthropology.

Xenophobia, Nativism and Pan-Africanism in 21st Century Africa Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, Emmanuel Kasonde Matambo, 2021-12-14 This edited volume systematically analyzes the connection between xenophobia, nativism, and Pan-Africanism. It situates attacks on black Africans by fellow black Africans within the context of ideals such as Pan-Africanism and Ubuntu, which emphasize unity. The book straddles a range of social science perspectives to explain why attacks on foreign nationals in Africa usually entail attacks on black foreign nationals. Written by an international and interdisciplinary team of scholars, the book is divided into four sections that each explain a different facet of this complicated relationship. Section One discusses the history of colonialism and apartheid and their relationship to xenophobia. Section Two critically evaluates Pan Africanism as a concept and as a practice in 21st century Africa. Section Three presents case studies on xenophobia in contemporary Africa. Section Four similarly discusses cases of nativism. Addressing a complex issue in contemporary African politics, this volume will be of use to students and scholars interested in African studies, African politics, human rights, migration, history, law, and development economics. The

Community Tourism Guide Mark Mann, 2014-03-18. The Community Tourism Guide will lead you to a new type of holiday. Tribal people and rural villagers in Africa, Asia, Australia, North and South America, and the Pacific islands are setting up their own tours, tours from which they and not the international hotel chains derive some income. For the traveller, they offer uniquely exciting opportunities far from the usual tourist ghettos, and they are based on fair trade benefiting local communities and giving them hope of a better future. Written by Mark Mann for Tourism Concern, Europe's leading ethical tourism organization, the Guide brings together the pick of these holidays. It describes hundreds of different holidays in many of the most beautiful places around the world, with full contact details and a range of further useful information. Chosen by Tourism Concern and not available through conventional travel agents, they promise uniquely rewarding experiences to the adventurous and those concerned about the impacts of their visits. Religion, Politics, Gender and Sexuality in Zimbabwe Francis Machingura, 2024-11-27. This book examines the interplay between religion, politics, gender, and sexuality in Zimbabwe, which constitute the core of human life and behavior. More specifically, the book looks at women's sexuality and the body politic during and after Zimbabwe's liberation struggle, gendered poverty, production and wealth creation, homosexuality in both the public and private spheres, religious, political, and economic patronages, gendered cyber victimization, the trapping of women in gendered tradition, culture, religion, and power, politics, and gendered literatures and metaphors. The book's findings are critically important, especially when it comes to African societies where any association with any religion, political party, and even social clubs has been gendered and sexualised to bar women from playing any participative role. They cut across disciplines and cultures to empower people in theory and practice. Suffering for Territory Donald S.

Moore, 2005-09-12.
