Reanimating Regions James Riding, Martin Jones, 2017-05-12 Writing regions undertaking a regional study was once a standard form of geographic communication and critique This was until the quantitative revolution in the middle of the previous century and more definitively the critical turn in human geography towards the end of the twentieth century From then on writing regions as they were experienced phenomenologically or arguing culturally historically and politically with regions was deemed to be old fashioned Yet the region is and always will be a central geographical concept and thinking about regions can tell us a lot about the history of the discipline called geography Despite taking up an identifiable place within the geographical imagination in scholarship and beyond region remains a relatively forgotten under used and in part under theorised term Reanimating Regions marks the continued reinvigoration of a set of disciplinary debates surrounding regions the regional and regional geography Across 18 chapters from international interdisciplinary scholars this book writes and performs region as a temporary permanence something held stable not fixed and absolute at different points in time for different purposes There is as this expansive volume outlines no single reading of a region Reanimating Regions collectively rebalances the region within geography and geographical thought In renewing the geography of regions as not only a site of investigation but also as an analytical framework through which to write the world what emerges is a powerful reworking of the geographic imagination Read against one another the chapters weave together timely commentaries on region and regions across the globe with a particular emphasis upon the regional as played out in the United Kingdom and regional worlds both within and beyond Europe offering chapters from Africa and South America Addressing both the political and the cultural this volume responds to the need for a consolidated and considered reflection on region the regional and regional geography speaking directly to broader intellectual concerns with performance aesthetics identity mobilities the environment and the body     Livelihoods of Ethnic Minorities in Rural Zimbabwe Kirk Helliker,Patience Chadambuka,Joshua Matanzima,2022-04-21

The book provides empirically rich case studies of the lives and livelihoods of marginalised ethnic minorities in colonial and post colonial Zimbabwe with a specific focus on diverse rural areas It demonstrates the dynamic and complex relationships existing between ethnic minorities and livelihoods and analyses the ways in which projects of belonging and identity formation amongst these ethnic minorities are entangled in their respective livelihood construction projects and vice versa The ethnic minorities include those considered indigenous to Zimbabwe and those often defined as aliens including ethnicities with a transnational presence in southern Africa The ethnicities studied in the book include the following Chewa Doma Tonga Tshwa San Shangane Basotho Ndaue Hlengwe and Nambya By studying their livelihoods in particular this book offers the first full manuscript about ethnic minorities in Zimbabwe In doing so it highlights the significance of these ethnic minorities to Zimbabwean history politics and society     Aspects of Real Estate Theory and Practice in Zimbabwe Chirisa, Innocent,Juru, Mike Eric,2019-08-23

Zimbos Never Die? ,2023-05-08 This book seeks to explore how the Zimbabwean society and its institutions have survived if not succumbed to continuous economic crises in the country From the 1990s Zimbabwe experienced a sustained economic decline challenged by both internal and external strains Coupled with internal mis governance and corruption the nation plunged into a political and economic crisis which culminated in the second highest world inflation rate for an economy that is not at war In the face of the harsh and continuously deteriorating economic environments Zimbabweans as individuals as well as part of institutions adopted various strategies to negotiate and survive the economic scourge Contributors include Wellington Bamu Nathaniel Chimhete Anusa Daimon Innocent Dande Sylvester Dombo Tinotenda Dube Rudo Gaidzanwa Tafara Evelyn Kombora Ushehweu Kufakurinani Bernard Kusena Eric Kushinga Makombe Albert Makocheke Banda Blessed Masawi Ivo Mhike Joseph P Mtisi Joseph Mujere Wesley Mwatwara Pius S Nyambara Tinashe Nyamunda Mark Nyandoro Takesure Taringana and Nicola Yon Mutimurefu     Urban Informality in South Africa and Zimbabwe Innocent Moyo,Trynos Gumbo,2021-01-09 This book adds to the research of urban informality in the Global South with a specific focus on South Africa and Zimbabwe It addresses the agency and the potential transformative capacity of the phenomenon of urban informality in connection with Southern African cities and towns It adopts a political economy approach to analyse the evolution of informality in cities and its implications for urban planning It brings to bear how the South African and Zimbabwean historical and or ideological and contemporary political and economic trajectories have impacted on the ever changing nature of urban informality both spatially and structurally and or compositionally thus resulting in unique urban materialities which are aspects that have scarcely been studied or discussed in the extant literature This book therefore seeks to close the academic gap by dealing with the dearth of literature on spatial re locational discourses of urban informality The work positions urban informality as a resilient force with potency in terms of political mobilisation and re shaping urban spaces Though these are fundamental issues they have received comparatively little attention especially in literature that focuses on the Southern African region Accordingly undergraduate and post graduate students as well as academics in the fields of Urban Geography Political Science Development Studies Sociology Town and Regional Planning among others will find the range of topics and depth of coverage in this book particularly valuable Similarly practitioners and activists on issues of urban informality and urban governance will find the book very useful

Digital Activism in Zimbabwe Tenford Chitanana, 2024-10-21 This book investigates the role of the internet and social media in political processes in non western and non democratic contexts Using Zimbabwe as a case study the book demonstrates how activists and ordinary people deploy social media particularly Facebook to subvert an enduring hegemonic state However the book also highlights how authoritarian regimes are in turn learning and adapting to the information age challenging the impact of digital activism Studies of digital activism in the Global South are often centred around democracy but this book paints a more complex picture examining the role and effect of digital activism in challenging state hegemony in authoritarian contexts The book notes that while communication technologies help mediate activism they are also simultaneously constrained by pre existing and emergent challenges tied to the social and political context and the inherent limitations of those technologies The book investigates the tactics used by digital activists the contextual factors and restrictive political environment they operate in including the role of pro government activists and ultimately the impact of digital activism given these constraints From the case of Zimbabwe the book builds out a broader theoretical analysis of the evolution of third world protest in the digital age examining the limitations of activists actions and the ideological deficit in online activism to ferment a virulent counter hegemony

War by Other Means Robert D. Blackwill, Jennifer M. Harris, 2016-04-11 A Foreign Affairs Best Book of 2016 Today nations increasingly carry out geopolitical combat through economic means Policies governing everything from trade and investment to energy and exchange rates are wielded as tools to win diplomatic allies punish adversaries and coerce those in between Not so in the United States however America still too often reaches for the gun over the purse to advance its interests abroad The result is a playing field sharply tilting against the United States Geoeconomics the use of economic instruments to advance foreign policy goals has long been a staple of great power politics In this impressive policy manifesto Blackwill and Harris argue that in recent decades the United States has tended to neglect this form of statecraft while China Russia and other illiberal states have increasingly employed it to Washington s disadvantage G John Ikenberry Foreign Affairs A readable and lucid primer The book defines the extensive topic and opens readers eyes to its prevalence throughout history Presidential candidates who care more about protecting American interests would be wise to heed the advice of War by Other Means and take our geoeconomic toolkit more seriously Jordan Schneider Weekly Standard      Rural

Wahman,2023-10-14 Violence in election campaigns is common across the African continent and beyond According to some estimations most African elections contain some degree of violence and most of this violence happens before elections during the campaign While campaign violence is a common problem it affects citizens differently across localities When violence and intimidation become an integral part of election campaigns in a locality they become tools of sub national authoritarianism that may effectively dismantle local democracy This book focuses on the political geography of election violence in Africa building on one important observation elections in many African countries are highly regional and the support for political parties are rarely nationalized Wahman argues that in such environments campaign violence becomes an important tool used by parties to control and regulate access to space Building on a wealth of data and extensive fieldwork in Zambia and Malawi the author uses a combination of electoral geography analysis constituency level election violence data collected from local election monitors focus group interviews archival material and individual level survey data to show how campaign violence in both countries is used as a territorial tool predominantly within party strongholds Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science political economy and International Relations such as electoral politics democratization decentralization the political impact of natural resources the dynamics and consequences of conflict and the nature of the continent s engagement with the East and West Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates The series focuses on sub Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world are of interest General Editors Nic Cheeseman Peace Medie and Ricardo Soares de Oliveira Reclaiming Development Studies Murat Arsel,Anirban Dasgupta,Servaas Storm,2021-06-08 The mission relevance and intellectual orientation of development studies is increasingly challenged from various fronts such as decoloniality global development and randomized control trials The essays featured in this collection together argue for the need of the field to reclaim its critical political economy tradition Building on the contributions of Ashwani Saith the contributions touch upon many of the central questions of development studies centred around structural change labour and inequality Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations,2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events Power in Contemporary Zimbabwe Erasmus Masitera,Fortune Sibanda,2018-04-20 In recent years the Zimbabwe crisis rendered the country and its citizens to be a typical case of failed states the world over Zimbabwean society was and is still confronted with different challenges which include political economic and social problems Attempts to overcome these challenges have thrown light on the power that rests within individuals and or groups to change and even revolutionize their localities communities states and ultimately the world at large Through experience individuals and groups have promoted ideas that have aided in changing mentalities attitudes and behaviors in societies at different levels This book brings together contributors from various academic disciplines to reflect on and theorize the contours of power including the intrinsic and or extrinsic models of power which pertain to individuals communities and or groups in order to transform society Reflections are on various groups such as political movements environmental movements religious groups advocacy groups gender groups to mention but a few as they struggle against marginalization discrimination exploitation and other forms of oppression showing their agency or compliance      Sustainable Development in Africa Walter Leal Filho, Rudi Pretorius, Luiza Olim de Sousa, 2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development which encompasses both formal and non formal education Sustainable development is very important to Africa but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries Due to their complexity the interrelations between social economic and political factors related to sustainable development especially at universities need to be better understood There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges It is against this background that this book has been produced It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa As African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies
