Seeking Urban Transformation Muchadenyika, Davison, 2020-02-16 Seeking Urban Transformation Alternative Urban Futures in Zimbabwe tells the stories of ordinary people's struggles to remake urban centres. It interrogates and highlights the principle conditions in which urban transformation takes place. The main catalysts of the transformation are social movements and planning institutions. Social movements pool resources and skills, acquire land, install infrastructure and build houses. Planning institutions change policies, regulations and traditions to embrace and support a new form of urban development driven by grassroots movements. Besides providing a comprehensive analysis of planning and housing in Zimbabwe, there is a specific focus on three urban centres: Harare, Chitungwiza and Epworth. In metropolitan Harare, the book examines new housing and infrastructure services to the predominantly urban poor population, the vital roles played by the urban poor in urban development and the adoption by planning institutions of grassroots-centered urban planning approaches. The book draws from three case studies and in-depth interviews from diverse urban shapers, i.e. representatives and members of social movements, urban planners, engineers, surveyors, policy makers, politicians, civil society workers and students to generate a varied selection of insights and experiences. Based on the Zimbabwean experience, the book illustrates how actions and power of ordinary people contribute to the transformation of African cities.

Police Brutality, Racial Profiling, and Discrimination in the Criminal Justice System Egharevba, Stephen, 2016-11-17 In order to protect and defend citizens, the foundational concepts of fairness and equality must be adhered to within any criminal justice system. When this is not the case, accountability of authorities should be pursued to maintain the integrity and pursuit of justice. Police Brutality, Racial Profiling and Discrimination in the Criminal Justice System is an authoritative reference source for the latest scholarly material on social problems involving victimization of minorities and police accountability. Presenting relevant perspectives on a global and cross-cultural scale, this book is ideally designed for researchers, professionals, upper-level students and practitioners involved in the fields of criminal justice and corrections.

Administrative Justice in Wales and Comparative Perspectives Sarah Nason, 2017-09-15 This book offers a unique understanding of what administrative justice means in Wales and for Wales, whilst also providing an expert and timely analysis of comparative developments in law and administration. It includes critical analysis of distinctly Welsh administrative laws and redress measures whilst examining contemporary administrative justice issues across a range of common and civil law European and international jurisdictions. Key issues include the roles of commissioners, administrative courts, tribunals and ombudsmen in devolved and federal nations and evolving relationships between citizens and the state, especially in the context of localisation and austerity, and will be of interest to legal and public administration professionals at home and internationally.

The 3 Regional Human Rights Courts in Context Laurence Burgorgue-Larsen, 2024-02-28 At specific moments in the history of Africa, Europe and Latin America, each region decided to create supranational jurisdictions to protect human rights. These are, in chronological order, the European Court of Human Rights, the Inter American Court of Human Rights and the African Court on Human and

Peoples Rights While each has been the subject of important dedicated monographs no major study has analysed both the institutional and jurisprudential issues of all three regional systems The 3 Regional Human Rights Courts in Context Justice That Cannot Be Taken for Granted is the first book to offer a comprehensive comparison of the three systems Rather than merely juxtaposing analogous features the book considers how the three courts operate as parts of a greater integrated whole Similarities and differences between the courts are illuminated alongside historical political and sociological insights in addition to the book s primary legal focus Close analysis of the processes by which the courts came into being makes it clear that regardless of distinct political cultural or other variances states on each of the three continents have chafed against international supervision The book also debunks the common belief that after the Second World War the thrust of human rights initiatives was so powerful that states no longer need to discuss them Justice cannot be taken for granted a position further supported by the book s analysis of how each court has evolved and how their rulings have been implemented Laurence Burgorgue Larsen s dynamism and multidisciplinary approach makes it possible to truly understand the stakes behind the institutional and jurisprudential developments of the three regional human rights courts This is a book that will interest not only legal practitioners but also specialists in international relations human rights and countless other fields

Evaluation of PEPFAR's Contribution (2012-2017) to Rwanda's Human Resources for Health Program

National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Health and Medicine Division, Board on Global Health, Committee on the Evaluation of Strengthening Human Resources for Health Capacity in the Republic of Rwanda Under the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR), 2020-06-22 Since 2004 the U S government has supported the global response to HIV AIDS through the President s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief PEPFAR The Republic of Rwanda a PEPFAR partner country since the initiative began has made gains in its HIV response including increased access to and coverage of antiretroviral therapy and decreased HIV prevalence However a persistent shortage in human resources for health HRH affects the health of people living with HIV and the entire Rwandan population Recognizing HRH capabilities as a foundational challenge for the health system and the response to HIV the Government of Rwanda worked with PEPFAR and other partners to develop a program to strengthen institutional capacity in health professional education and thereby increase the production of high quality health workers The Program was fully managed by the Government of Rwanda and was designed to run from 2011 through 2019 PEPFAR initiated funding in 2012 In 2015 PEPFAR adopted a new strategy focused on high burden geographic areas and key populations resulting in a reconfiguration of its HIV portfolio in Rwanda and a decision to cease funding the Program which was determined no longer core to its programming strategy The last disbursement for the Program from PEPFAR was in 2017 Evaluation of PEPFAR s Contribution 2012 2017 to Rwanda s Human Resources for Health Program describes PEPFAR supported HRH activities in Rwanda in relation to programmatic priorities outputs and outcomes and examines to the extent feasible the impact on HRH and HIV related outcomes The HRH

Program more than tripled the country's physician specialist workforce and produced major increases in the numbers and qualifications of nurses and midwives Partnerships between U S institutions and the University of Rwanda introduced new programs upgraded curricula and improved the quality of teaching and training for health professionals Growing the number skills and competencies of health workers contributed to direct and indirect improvements in the quality of HIV care Based on the successes and challenges of the HRH program the report recommends that future investments in health professional education be designed within a more comprehensive approach to human resources for health and institutional capacity building which would strengthen the health system to meet both HIV specific and more general health needs The recommendations offer an aspirational framework to reimagine how partnerships are formed how investments are made and how the effects of those investments are documented
