Characteristics of Living Organisms

In order to identify living organisms, scientists listed 7 characteristics which all living organisms have:

1. Nutrition:

Taking in nutrients which are organic substances and mineral ions, containing raw materials and energy for growth and tissue repair, absorbing and assimilating them.

2. Excretion:

Removal from organisms of toxic materials, the waste products of metabolism and substances in excess.

3. Respiration:

Chemical reactions that break down nutrient molecules in living cells to release energy.

4. Sensitivity:

The ability to detect or sense changes in the environment and to make responses.

5. Reproduction:

Processes that make more of the same kind of organism.

6. Growth:

The permanent increase in size and dry mass by an increase in number of cells, cell size, or both.

7. Movement:

An action by an organism or part of an organism that changes position or place.

The seven characteristics could be memorized by the term "Mrs. Gren".

Zimbabwe National Bibliography ,1986 Zimbabwe Books in Print ,1993 Case Studies in Human Ecology Daniel G. Bates,Sarah H. Lees,2013-06-29 This volume was developed to meet a much noted need for accessible case study material for courses in human ecology cultural ecology cultural geography and other subjects increasingly offered to fulfill renewed student and faculty interest in environmental issues The case studies all taken from the journal Human Ecology An Interdisciplinary Journal represent a broad cross section of contemporary research It is tempting but inaccurate to suggest that these represent the Best of Human Ecology They were selected from among many outstanding possibilities because they worked well with the organization of the book which in turn reflects the way in which courses in human ecology are often organized This book provides a useful sample of case studies in the application of the perspective of human ecology to a wide variety of problems in different regions of the world University courses in human ecology typically begin with basic concepts pertaining to energy flow feeding relations material cycles population dynamics and ecosystem properties and then take up illustrative case studies of human environmental interactions These are usually discussed either along the lines of distinctive strategies of food procurement such as foraging or pastoralism or as adaptations to specific habitat types or biomes such as the circumpolar regions or arid lands

Human and Environmental Security in the Era of Global Risks Mohamed Behnassi,Himangana Gupta,Olaf Pollmann,2018-10-24 This book discusses ways to deepen the debate on the linkages between global risks and human and environmental security The approach put forward in this book is one of questioning the ability of existing concepts regulatory frameworks technologies and decision making mechanisms to accurately deal with emerging risks to human and environmental security and to act in the direction of effectively managing their impacts and fostering the resilience of concerned systems and resources Empirical research findings from Africa Asia and the Pacific Islands are provided During the last decades the links between emerging risks and the security of humans and nature have been the object of considerable research and deliberations However it is only recently becoming an important focus of policy making and advocacy In this contributed volume it is presumed that the ability or lack thereof to make innovative conceptual frameworks institutional and policy arrangements and technological advances for managing the current emerging risks will foster or undermine the environmental security and consequently determine the future human security Moreover taking into account the links between environmental climate security human security and sustainability will help frame a new research agenda and potentially develop a broad range of responses to many delicate questions Resources in education ,1991 Women Agency, Culture, and Crime in Education Phinias Tafirei,2023-12-08 In the recent times women agency in African circles has become a contested issue with some arguing that women in African traditional societies lack agentic power including the power to make independent decision The issue has become even more contested in education where culture meets face to face with agency in all its forms In an attempt to get to the bottom of the subject in question this book examines using empirical data from the field an often hidden crime acquaintance rape which for many years has been allowed to spread its tentacles in Africa s institutions of higher education This is to say acquaintance rape has been practised unconsciously in many cultures thereby undermining the agentic power of women in these cultures The book adopts institutions of higher education in Masvingo Province heretofore referred to as Masvingo of Zimbabwe to assess factors affecting students in higher education s perceptions of acquaintance rape The population for this book consisted of students educators and other staff members in institutions of higher education in Masvingo The book reveals that culture gender peer pressure policy and legislation or law affect higher education students perceptions of acquaintance rape The book also establishes that college authorities non academic staff and students have inadequate knowledge of how to effectively manage or deal with acquaintance rape cases due to inadequate policies legislations or laws governing students behaviour in higher education A model to reduce acquaintance rape is proposed It recommends that all institutions of higher education should introduce acquaintance rape prevention and reduction programmes peer education programmes acquaintance rape reduction techniques and acquaintance in the curriculum Transactions of the Zimbabwe Scientific Association Zimbabwe Scientific Association,1999 The Life and Social Vision of Oliver Mtukudzi Munyaradzi Mawere,Benjamin Mudzanire,Kizito Muchemwa,2025-05-27 This compelling book offers a biographical and critical analysis of Oliver Tuku Mtukudzi 1953 2019 a towering music icon of Zimbabwe and Africa Uniquely Tuku achieved global recognition from his homeland his music a powerful reflection on both local and universal human issues Divided into four sections the book traces the socio cultural roots of his distinctive sound exploring the influence of rural Dande and Highfield Township often overlooked colonial era spaces on his artistic vision It further examines his socio cultural impact revealing how his music preserved cultural memory addressed socio political injustices and amplified marginalized voices Finally the book delves into Tuku s artistic virtuosity demonstrating his fusion of Korekore sounds into a cosmopolitan style that engaged with transnational themes Drawing on diverse scholarly perspectives this accessible anthology is ideal for students and scholars across musicology theatre arts literature history social anthropology media cultural studies and African studies

Cambridge Economics in the Post-Keynesian Era Ashwani Saith,2022-11-11 This book chronicles the rise and especially the demise of diverse revolutionary heterodox traditions in Cambridge theoretical and applied economics investigating both the impact of internal pressures within the faculty as also the power of external ideological and political forces unleashed by the global dominance of neoliberalism Using fresh archival materials personal interviews and recollections this meticulously researched narrative constructs the untold story of the eclipse of these heterodox and post Keynesian intellectual traditions rooted and nurtured in Cambridge since the 1920s and the rise to power of orthodox mainstream economics Also expunged in this neoclassical counter revolution were the structural and radical policy oriented macro economic modelling teams of the iconic Department of Applied Economics along with the atrophy of sociology development and economic history from teaching and research in the self purifying faculty This book will be of particular interest to researchers in the history of economic thought sociology of knowledge political economy especially those engaged in heterodox and post Keynesian economics and to everyone wishing to make economics fit for purpose again for negotiating the multiple economic social and environmental crises rampant at national and global levels Social Change and Development, 1993 The Mammals of the Southern African Sub-region J. D. Skinner, Christian T.

Chimimba, 2005-11-15 This third extensively revised edition of The Mammals of the Southern African Subregion contains detailed descriptions of all mammals that occur naturally on the African mainland south of the Cunene and Zambezi rivers together with all mammals indigenous to the subregion's coastal waters The rapid accumulation of new information resulting from mammal research in southern Africa together with radical taxonomic changes across all levels of mammalian classification have necessitated this new edition which presents the best and latest data accurately in one comprehensive volume for use not only by scientists but also by an increasingly wide audience of general readers with an interest in the natural history of southern Africa J D Skinner and C T Chimimba have revised expanded and updated the text in a major project overseen by an editorial committee constituted by the Mammal Research Institute at the University of Pretoria Specialists on each mammalian order have served as subeditors and a range of independent and internationally recognised authorities have reviewed every species description In this edition all the distribution maps and many of the illustrations of mammal prints have been updated and redrawn several new colour plates have been added and the whole design of this definitive reference work has been enhanced to ensure easy access to information BOOK JACKET Testosterone Rebecca

M. Jordan-Young, Katrina Karkazis, 2019-10-15 An Independent Publisher Book Awards Gold Medal Winner A Progressive Book of the Year A TechCrunch Favorite Read of the Year Deeply researched and thoughtful Nature An extended exercise in myth busting Outside A critique of both popular and scientific understandings of the hormone and how they have been used to explain or even defend inequalities of power The Observer Testosterone is a familiar villain a ready culprit for everything from stock market crashes to the overrepresentation of men in prisons But your testosterone level doesn't actually predict your appetite for risk sex drive or athletic prowess It isn't the biological essence of manliness in fact it isn't even a male sex hormone So what is it and how did we come to endow it with such superhuman powers T's story begins when scientists first went looking for the chemical essence of masculinity Over time it provided a handy rationale for countless behaviors from the boorish to the enviable Testosterone focuses on what T does in six domains reproduction aggression risk taking power sports and parenting addressing heated debates like whether high testosterone athletes have a natural advantage as well as disagreements over what it means to be a man or woman This subtle important book forces rethinking not just about one particular hormone but about the way the scientific process is embedded in social context Robert M Sapolsky author of Behave A beautifully written and important book The authors present strong and persuasive arguments that demythologize and defetishize T as a molecule containing quasi magical properties or as exclusively related to masculinity and males Los Angeles Review of Books Provides fruitful ground for understanding what it means to be human not as isolated physical bodies but as dynamic social beings Science

Serengeti II A. R. E. Sinclair, Peter Arcese, 1995-08 Serengeti II Dynamics Management and Conservation of an Ecosystem brings together twenty years of research by leading scientists to provide the most most thorough understanding to date of the spectacular Serengeti Mara ecosystem in East Africa home to one of the largest and most diverse populations of animals in the world Building on the groundwork laid by the classic Serengeti Dynamics of an Ecosystem published in 1979 by the University of Chicago Press this new book integrates studies of the ecosystem at every level from the plants at the bottom of the visible food chain to the many species of herbivores and predators to the system as a whole Drawing on new data from many long term studies and from more recent research initiatives and applying new theory and computer technology the contributors examine the large scale processes that have produced the Serengeti s extraordinary biological diversity as well as the interactions among species and between plants and animals and their environment They also introduce computer modeling as a tool for exploring these interactions employing this new technology to test and anticipate the effects of social political and economic changes on the entire ecosystem and on particular species and so to shape future conservation and management strategies Encyclopedia of Biodiversity

,2013-02-05 The 7 volume Encyclopedia of Biodiversity Second Edition maintains the reputation of the highly regarded original presenting the most current information available in this globally crucial area of research and study It brings together the dimensions of biodiversity and examines both the services it provides and the measures to protect it Major themes of the work include the evolution of biodiversity systems for classifying and defining biodiversity ecological patterns and theories of biodiversity and an assessment of contemporary patterns and trends in biodiversity The science of biodiversity has become the science of our future It is an interdisciplinary field spanning areas of both physical and life sciences Our awareness of the loss of biodiversity has brought a long overdue appreciation of the magnitude of this loss and a determination to develop the tools to protect our future Second edition includes over 100 new articles and 226 updated articles covering this multidisciplinary field from evolution to habits to economics in 7 volumes The editors of this edition are all well respected instantly recognizable academics operating at the top of their respective fields in biodiversity research readers can be assured that they are reading material that has been meticulously checked and reviewed by experts

The Zimbabwe Science News ,1984 The Extinction Market Vanda Felbab-Brown,2017 Emphasizes the disturbing consequences poaching and trafficking pose globally in terms of both biodiversity and public health New Holy Wars Robert H. Nelson,2010-11-01 The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2018 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund,World Health Organization ,World Food Programme ,International Fund for Agriculture Development,2018-09-12 New evidence this year corroborates the rise in world hunger observed in this report last year sending a warning that more action is needed if we aspire to end world hunger and malnutrition in all its forms by 2030 Updated estimates show the number of people who suffer from hunger has been growing over the past three years returning to prevailing levels from almost a decade ago Although progress continues to be made in reducing child stunting over 22 percent of children under five years of age are still affected Other forms of malnutrition are also growing adult obesity continues to increase in countries irrespective of their income levels and many countries are coping with multiple forms of malnutrition at the same time overweight and obesity as well as anaemia in women and child stunting and wasting Last year s report showed that the failure to reduce world hunger is closely associated with the increase in conflict and violence in several parts of the world In some countries initial evidence showed climate related events were also undermining food security and nutrition This year s report goes further to show that climate variability and extremes even without conflict are key drivers behind the recent rise in global hunger and one of the leading causes of severe food crises and their impact on people s nutrition and health Climate variability and exposure to more complex frequent and intense climate extremes are threatening to erode and reverse gains in ending hunger and malnutrition Furthermore hunger is significantly worse in countries where agriculture systems are highly sensitive to rainfall temperature and severe drought and where the livelihood of a high proportion of the population depends on agriculture The findings of this report reveal new challenges to ending hunger food insecurity and all forms of malnutrition There is an urgent need to accelerate and scale up actions that strengthen resilience and adaptive capacity of people and their livelihoods to climate variability and extremes These and other findings are detailed in the 2018 edition of The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70
