Extractive Industry Indigenisation in Zimbabwe Kennedy Manduna, 2025-09-25 This book explains how and why Zimbabwe s extractive industry Indigenisation over promised its benefits yet under delivered upon implementation This book traces the history of uneven development in Zimbabwe from the initial days of colonialism to the present using the extractive industry as the unit of analysis to carve out a granular and empirical analysis of the preponderance of transnational corporate control and ownership in the country Indigenisation of Zimbabwe s extractive industries was intended to address mining inequalities by transferring wealth from rich non Indigenous mining capital to disadvantaged Indigenous citizens and communities This policy however was a response to political economic and social crises posed by the international isolation of Zimbabwe's government following the controversial Fast Track Land Reform Programme in 2000-2003. An intervention therefore which promised to address inequalities has thus been hampered by corruption, co-optation and collusion which has led to it not only failing to address uneven development but in actual fact worsening the situation. By examining the hidden structures and infrastructures of power, capital and minerals and placing extractive industry Indigenisation in capitalism, this book makes a crucial scholarly contribution to the renewed and burgeoning debates around the resurgence of resource nationalism in general and the struggle for economic sovereignty in particular. This book steers readers more broadly to look for new and diversified ways of empowering Indigenous populations and their communities through mining Indigenisation in ways that do not threaten economic and political stability. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the extractive industries, natural resource management, African politics and African development.

Africa and the Formation of the New System of International Relations—Vol. II Alexey M. Vasiliev, Denis A. Degterev, Timothy M. Shaw, 2023-10-03

In light of the growing number of African summits and a new awareness of international interdependence during the COVID-19 pandemic, this book provides a comprehensive analysis of the current state of Africa's international relations. IR leading IR scholars from Africa and around the world examine international cooperation with African countries in areas such as health care, education and peacekeeping and explore how Africa's role in the system of international relations has changed during the COVID-19 pandemic. The book is divided into four parts, the first of which explores and analyzes the various actors that constitute African agency in the post-pandemic world, while the second focuses on the summits of the major powers regarding cooperation with Africa. The third part covers public health cooperation and regional initiatives in Africa, including issues such as vaccine diplomacy, while the fourth and final part discusses conflicts and the political process despite COVID-19 pandemics.

Making Politics in Zimbabwe's Second Republic Gordon Moyo, Kirk Helliker, 2023-05-16

The book provides a fresh and innovative interpretation of the new government of Zimbabwe led by Emmerson Mnangagwa, which emerged in late 2017 after the downfall of Robert Mugabe. It demonstrates the contradictory character of the Mnangagwa government, involving both continuities and discontinuities in relation to Mugabe's regime. The temptation amongst Zimbabwean scholars has been to focus on the continuities and to dismiss the significance of any discontinuities, notably reform measures. This book adopts an alternative approach by identifying and focusing specifically on the existence of a formative project of the Mnangagwa's Second Republic, further analysing its political significance as well as risks and limitations. While doing so, the book covers topics such as reform measures, reconciliation, transitional justice, corruption, the media, agriculture, devolution and the debt crisis, as well as health and education. Discussing the limitations of these different reform measures, the book highlights that any scholarly failure to identify the risks of the project leads to an incomplete understanding of what constitutes the Mnangagwa's Second Republic. The book appeals to students, scholars and researchers of Zimbabwean and African studies, political science and international relations, as well as policymakers interested in a better understanding of political reform processes      Law & Investment in Africa Tinahse Kondo,2021-04-19 Zimbabwe has had a chaotic foreign direct investment FDI regime This has created the need for a detailed volume on the most important developments around the protection and treatment of FDI at not only a domestic level but also at bilateral regional and international levels The author argues that while Zimbabwe has now harmonised previously scattered legislation under the Zimbabwe Investment and Development Agency Act Chapter 14:37 and taken measures to reverse to varying degrees controversial policies such as the land reform programme and the Indigenisation and Economic Empowerment Policy scepticism still prevails over the investor friendliness of the FDI regime in Zimbabwe      Contemporary Innovation Trends in the Zimbabwean Education System Stella Muchemwa,Munyaradzi Mawere,2024-09-23 Innovation is rapidly becoming a driving force in every global sector and education is no exception This book offers a timely and comprehensive analysis of innovation trends within Zimbabwe s education system exploring its impact on students teachers and the wider educational landscape Drawing on extensive research and firsthand accounts the book meticulously evaluates the potential of innovation to drive socio economic growth and enhance lives While acknowledging the benefits of innovation and creativity the authors also raise critical questions about the ethical implications and long term sustainability of these advancements especially within the Zimbabwean context This balanced exploration offers invaluable insights for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of the complexities and possibilities surrounding educational innovation in Zimbabwe      Urban Geography in Postcolonial Zimbabwe Abraham R. Artwell,2019-02-06 The emergent so called Fourth Industrial Revolution is regarded by some as a panacea for bringing about development to Africans This book dismisses this flawed reasoning Surfacing how investors are actually looting and plundering Africa how the industrial internet of things the gig economies digital economies and cryptocurrencies breach African political and economic sovereignty the book pioneers what can be called anticipatory economics which anticipate the future of economies It is argued that the future of Africans does not necessarily require degrowth postgrowth postdevelopment postcapitalism or sharing solidarity economies it requires attention to age old questions about African ownership and control of their resources Investors have to invest in ensuring that Africans own and control their resources Further it is pointed out that the historical imperial structural creation of forced labour is increasingly morphing into what we call the structural creation of forced leisure which is no less lethal for Africans Because both the structural creation of forced labour and the structural creation of forced leisure are undergirded by transnational neo imperial plunder theft robbery looting and dispossession of Africans this book goes beyond the simplistic arguments that Euro America developed due to the industrial revolutions
