

Example of a Personal Philosophy Statement

"The first and simplest emotion which we discover in the human mind is curiosity". I believe that when the mind is allowed to think outside the pre-defined constraints of society, the different directions in which it can travel are infinite.

Philosophy for me is the basis on which our lives are based and after reading Aristotle's Ethics, it is fascinating to find that a lot of the beliefs I hold are so similar to those held by someone who lived over two thousand years ago. My main inspiration for taking Philosophy is Socrates and his unapologetic moral compass. Even when confronted with his own mortality, he refuses to take the easy option that would compromise what he believes in, for me Socrates incorporates everything I feel a good person should be. I am most interested in learning about Ancient Greek philosophy because I feel that in this day and age, the majority of people have lost sight of the basic principles of morals and ethics written by the likes of Plato and Aristotle all those years ago. I also believe like Descartes that I must forget everything I think I know about life and start from the beginning and the next step for me is university.

I have particularly enjoyed studying Dr Carol Dweck's theories of Intelligence. I related to this study because I feel that it summed up my years at school almost perfectly. For most of my childhood up until the end of my teenage years my view on intelligence was, as Dr Dweck theorizes, the "Entity theory of intelligence". Threatened by failure I have shied away from academic study, because I felt that failure indicated a lack of intelligence and because of this view I never committed myself to my studies. My views on this have radically changed over the last 7 years and I now believe that intelligence is interchangeable, that if curiosity is ignited in the right way, it can be enhanced with the only limitation being yourself.

I am currently a student of Psychology and Politics which I am really enjoying. It is exciting to be back in a learning environment and I feel that even though I have done a lot of reading at home, nothing compares to being able to debate a point and question reasoning face to face. I have always been an enthusiastic reader but my thirst for knowledge and understanding didn't really explode until I was 18. The advancement in available material through the internet has helped me in my quest to learn and understand anything and everything. I have read a huge amount of material on many varying subjects from the philosophy of war and pacifism to the psychology behind serial killers and the study of love.

My questions are questions not only about the world around me but questions about myself as a human being, is my moral compass true and just? Or does an era a person lives in determine what they perceive to be right and wrong and why? For me this is a journey of self-discovery, analysing myself, what I am and how I have come to be the way I am is just as important to me as understanding the world around me.

I believe that stimulating the body is just as important as stimulating the mind so next year I will be taking part in the Virgin London Marathon on behalf of the World Wide Fund for Nature. I am also fairly well travelled and lived in Australia for 2 years, I also did charity work in Bolivia and have visited Peru, Thailand and Laos amongst others. Leonardo Da Vinci was once asked what the key to his genius was; his reply was simple "Sapere Vedere" which translates as "Knowing how to see". For me understanding the mind and combining this with the basic principles of what it is to be aware, to be human, our interactions and what we think to be right and wrong is so important.

Lee, Thorana S.

Nelson, 2013-07-18 The Contemporary Relational Supervisor is an empirically based, academically sophisticated and learner-friendly book on the cutting edge of couple and family therapy supervision. Appropriate for master's and doctoral level students as well as experienced clinicians who wish to learn about supervision, it emphasizes system and relational thinking and intervention while privileging the diversity of training system members, their realities, experiences, and interpretations of life. The authors are attuned throughout the text to how and where clinical training and services are provided and to whom and provide detailed literature reviews for readers. These factors assist their discussion of the socio-historic development of the AAMFT supervision designation and the fundamentals, contexts, philosophy, relationships, and pragmatics of CFT supervision. They also discuss major models and approaches, evaluation, ethical and legal issues, and therapist development. Perhaps most important is their presentation of methods that help tailor and extend supervision practices to meet the clinical, institutional, and economic realities that CF therapists navigate. Readers are engaged by the discussions and exercises at the end of each chapter, which help them to feel more grounded in a topic, to have their own voices heard, and to be granted insight through experiencing multiple realities This valuable reference prepares the next wave of cutting edge CFT supervisors those who are knowledgeable skilled and realistically confident Thinking Nima Rezaei,Amene Saghazadeh,2022-09-05 The THINKING Bioengineering of Science and Art is to discuss about philosophical aspects of thinking at the context of Science and Art External representations provide evidence that the fundamental process of thinking exists in both animal subjects and humans However the diversity and complexity of thinking in humans is astonishing because humans have been permitted to integrate scientific accounts into their accounts and create excellent illustrations for the effects of this integration The book necessarily begins with the origins of human thinking and human thinking into self and others body and life Multiple factors tend to modify the pattern of thinking They all will come into play by this book that brings thinking into different disciplines humanities natural sciences social sciences formal sciences and applied sciences The thinking demands full processing of information and therefore the book considers the economy of thinking as well The book thoroughly intends to explore thinking beyond the boundaries Specifically several chapters are devoted to discipline this exploration either by artistic thinking alone or by art and mathematics aided engineering of complexities In this manner the book models variations on thinking at the individual and systems levels and accumulates a list of solutions each good for specific scenarios and maximal outcomes Authenticity, Identity, and Being Yourself at Work (HBR Work Smart Series) Harvard Business Review,Susan David,Talisa Lavarry,Lily Zheng,Melody Wilding,2024-05-14 Just be yourself right We re complex people Professionally we re recent graduates employees star performers and first time managers But we re also best friends devoted family members sports fans pet parents social justice activists or any other combination of these and other traits How much of ourselves from cultural self expression to thinking style and beliefs to gender identity should we bring to the workplace Authenticity Identity and Being Yourself at Work is filled with practical advice from HBR experts who can help you answer this and other questions like What does authenticity really mean at work How do I disclose personal information without oversharing In what ways can I overcome feelings of imposter syndrome What should I do when who I am conflicts with those around me This book will help you figure out how much of you to bring to work so that you feel more comfortable and confident in who you are and what you re bringing to your career Rise faster with quick reads real life stories and expert advice The HBR Work Smart Series features the topics that matter to you most in your early career including being yourself at work collaborating with sometimes difficult colleagues and bosses managing your mental health and weighing major job decisions Each title includes chapter recaps and links to video audio and more The HBR Work Smart Series books are your practical guides to stepping into your professional life and moving forward with confidence The Career Advancement Portfolio Beverly J. Conservatism and Grace Sebastian Morello, 2023-02-10 This book offers a systematic and detailed examination of the conservative case for religion by establishment In doing so the author demonstrates that the conservative political tradition is rooted in an inescapably religious worldview and in turn shows what the future of conservatism might be The author begins the book by analysing the thought of prominent proponents of secular conservatism chiefly examining the work of Roger Scruton The author develops a case to show that Scruton s arguments on the privatisation of religion are in tension with his basing of a conservative political settlement on transcendent bonds The author then examines alternatives to secular conservatism especially the chief religious and metaphysical commitments of early conservatives Edmund Burke and Joseph de Maistre Finally in seeking to establish a foundational argument for religion by establishment within the conservative tradition and more broadly to unify the diverse commitments and objections of conservatives the author develops a case that draws on Scruton s personalism as well as the thought of Martin Buber Andrew Pinsent and Robert Spaemann In the course of developing his foundational argument the author incorporates findings from experimental psychology and themes from contemporary theology The result is a convincing argument in favour of establishmentarian conservatism as well as the role of religious ideas in our self understanding as individuals and as a political community Conservatism and Grace will appeal to scholars and advanced students interested in political philosophy philosophy of religion theology and the history of conservatism
