Salvador Witness The Life And Calling Of Jean Donovan:

Salvador Witness Ana Carrigan, 1984 Salvador Witness recounts a remarkable journey from the affluent suburbs of Connecticut to the jungles and refugee camps of El Salvador. It is a tale for our time, a narrative of emotional and spiritual growth that led Jean Donovan at age twenty-five to decide to dedicate her life to the poor. Her murder at the hands of government troops in El Salvador shocked the world. This book tells the story behind that event but also the story of a young American woman, her growth, her bravery, and her humanity, and the price she was willing to pay for them. Book jacket El Salvador: Blood on All Our Hands George Thurlow, 2024-03-01 On April 29, 1981, American journalist George Thurlow was shot by members of the El Salvador Treasury Police on a jungle road in San Salvador. His 29-year-old driver, Gilberto Moran, was killed, and Associated Press photographer Joaquin Zuniga was seriously injured in the shooting. Thurlow left El Salvador two days later to receive medical treatment in the U.S. In 2000, he began a more than two-decade search to find Gilberto Moran's grave and some form of personal redemption. El Salvador Blood On All Our Hands details that search and introduces us to those who fought in the civil war, U.S. aid workers helping to rebuild the tiny country, as well as every day Salvadorans who suffered through a war that killed 70,000 of their fellow citizens. Many Salvadorans have decided it is time to move on from focusing on the war as their country enters a new era. The U.S. officials who supplied weapons and encouragement to the Salvadoran government, its security forces, and the murderous death squads have never been held accountable. In El Salvador, a Truth Commission has identified those most responsible for the assassinations and murder of priests, journalists, and opposition leaders. This book is intended to document a moment in Salvadoran history when the United States government was responsible for a cruel carnage and to illustrate how American citizens are attempting to repair the damage.

The Salvador Option Russell Crandall, 2016-05-23 This book offers a thorough and fair-minded interpretation of the role of the United States in El Salvador's civil war. The Capacity to be Displaced: Resilience, Mission, and Inner Strength Clemens Sedmak, 2017-04-03 The experience of displacement is shared by people who work internationally. The capacity to be displaced is a necessary strength and skill for people working across cultures, particularly for missionaries. In order to deal with the stressful nature of displacement, people need to be resilient; resilience makes people flourish in adverse circumstances. This volume presents a specific type of resilience, namely resilience nourished by inner sources. Cultivating inner resilience draws on all the facets of a person's interior life: thoughts and memories, hopes and desires, beliefs and convictions, concerns and emotions. The notion of inner strength and resilience from within is developed using many examples from missionaries and development workers, as well as case studies from all over the world. Martyrs of Hope Brett, Donna Whitson, Brett, Edward T., 2018-10-18 Here is the riveting and troubling story of seven U.S. martyrs in Central America who laid down their lives for their neighbors: Father Stanley Rother, Brother James Miller, Sisters Maura Clarke, Ita Ford, Dorothy Kazel, and Carla Piette, and lay missionary Jean Donovan. Steam Rising Up from the Soul Karen Etheldattar,2006-08-15 Dialogues with cab drivers dedications to her cat The art act of writing Learning to love herself Pain rage at war the violation of body soul civilian soldier Karen Etheldattar s new collection gathers poems written over several decades deepens her exploration of politics of the heart Karen not only writes about spirit and Earth she writes as spirit as Earth     How Latin America Saved the Soul of the Catholic Church Edward L. Cleary,2009 Tells the remarkable story of the transformation of the Latin American church on every level from professional theologians to the individual in the remotest Latin American village

Healing the Body Politic Sandra C. Smith-Nonini,2010 Healing the Body Politic examines the contested place of health and development in El Salvador over the last two decades It recounts the dramatic story of radical health activism from its origins in liberation theology and guerrilla medicine during the third world country s twelve year civil war through development of a remarkable popular health system administered by lay providers in a former war zone controlled by leftist rebels The ethnography contributes to the integration of medical and political anthropology by bringing the semiotics of health and the body to bear on cultural understandings of warfare the state and globalization

Unlearning Protestantism Gerald W. Schlabach,2010-04-01 In this clearly written and insightful book Gerald Schlabach addresses the Protestant dilemma in ecclesiology how to build lasting Christian community in a world of individualism and transience Schlabach a former Mennonite who is now Catholic seeks not to encourage readers to abandon Protestant churches but to relearn some of the virtues that all Christian communities need to sustain their communal lives He offers a vision for the right and faithful roles of authority stability and loyal dissent in Christian communal life The book deals with issues that transcend denominations and will appeal to all readers both Catholic and Protestant interested in sustaining Christian tradition and community over time     The War of Gods Michael Lowy,1996-07-17 In the 1960s liberation theology addressed itself to the problems of a continent racked by poverty and oppression Comprising a network of localized communities and pastoral organizations it soon became something much more than a doctrinal current Liberationist Christianity defined itself in a multitude of social struggles particularly in Brazil and Central America     Our Word is Our Weapon Subcomandante Marcos,2011-01-04 In this landmark book Seven Stories Press presents a powerful collection of literary philosophical and political writings of the masked Zapatista spokesperson Subcomandante Insurgente Marcos Introduced by Nobel Prize winner Jos Saramago and illustrated with beautiful black and white photographs Our Word Is Our Weapon crystallizes the passion of a rebel the poetry of a movement and the literary genius of indigenous Mexico Marcos first captured world attention on January 1 1994 when he and an indigenous guerrilla group calling themselves Zapatistas revolted against the Mexican government and seized key towns in Mexico s southernmost state of Chiapas In the six years that have passed since their uprising Marcos has altered the course of Mexican politics and emerged an international symbol of grassroots movement building rebellion and democracy The prolific stream of poetic political writings tales and traditional myths that Marcos has penned since January 1 1994 fill more than four volumes Our Word Is Our Weapon presents the best of these writings many of which have never been published before in English Throughout this remarkable book we hear the uncompromising voice of indigenous communities living in resistance expressing through manifestos and myths the universal human urge for dignity democracy and liberation It is the voice of a people refusing to be forgotten the voice of Mexico in transition the voice of a people struggling for democracy by using their word as their only weapon Popular Voices in Latin American Catholicism Daniel H. Levine, 2014-07-14 Throughout Latin America observers and activists have found in religion a promise of deep and long lasting democratization But for religion to change culture and politics religion itself must change Such change is not only a matter of doctrine ritual or institutional arrangements but also arises out of the needs values and ideas of average believers Combining rich interviews and community studies in Venezuela and Colombia with analysis of broad ideological and institutional transformations Daniel Levine examines how religious and cultural change begins and what gives it substance and lasting impact The author focuses on the creation of self confident popular groups among hitherto isolated and dispirited individuals Once silent voices come to light as peasants and urban barrio dwellers reflect on their upbringing and community on poverty and opportunity on faith prayer and the Bible and on institutions like state school and church Levine also interviews priests sisters and pastoral agents and explains how their efforts shape the links between popular groups and the larger society The result is a clear understanding of how relations among social and cultural levels are maintained and transformed how programs are implemented why they succeed or fail and how change appears both to elites and to ordinary people Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Remembering Lived Lives Michael Jimenez, 2017-03-31 Remembering Lived Lives is a religious historiography book that focuses on issues and theorists located primarily in Latin America Instead of joining the chorus of contemporary European intellectuals like Slavoj Žižek who insist on a renewed Eurocentrism this study challenges both historians and theologians to take seriously the work done by theorists located in what Enrique Dussel calls the underside of modernity This is an interdisciplinary work that opens with Karl Barth's outline for historical theological study and closes with an analysis of the film The Mission Written for both the history or theology instructor and student it deals with subjects like church history biography as theology liberation theology as primary source material photographs and historical movies NACLA Report on the Americas North American Congress on Latin America, 1985 Constructing Culture and Power in Latin America Daniel H. Levine, 1993 A notable collection of complementary essays largely culled from the pages of Comparative Studies in Society and History examine the ways in which power exerted by capital markets peasants women elites and States and culture expressed in official policy institutions and communal life h El Salvador Warwick Fry, 2024-07-04 A pervasive military presence has been a constant in Salvadoran society since the 1930s The Salvadoran people cope with it As journalists we had to find our own learning curve Mine began in 1988 The 1980s civil war in El Salvador was viewed by the US establishment as a critical challenge to its hegemony in the region during the Cold War era For the Salvadorans it was a resistant struggle for survival The personally lived experiences of the author and the photo journalism delivers a riveting and extraordinarily authentic account The narrative focusses on the November 1989 FMLN guerrilla offensive on the capital San Salvador and traces the trajectory of the politics and social movements of El Salvador after the peace accords to the present day The future holds less promise than the past But the relevance of the historic energy of this fifty year old struggle is a strident lesson for understanding contemporary conflicts Gender in Germany and Beyond Jennifer V.
