Low Living and High Thinking at Modern Times, New York Roger Wunderlich, 1992-06-01 In the mid 1800s deep in the Long Island pine barrens Modern Times was established as an experimental community whose members would not be bound by any government church constitution or bylaws Never more than 150 strong set on a plot of only 90 acres here was a haven for nonconformists Its currency was words its religion was discussion its standard of conduct was unfettered individual freedom Low Living and High Thinking at Modern Times New York rescues this model village from obscurity and demonstrates its importance in the history of American communitarianism and social reform especially in its pursuit of economic justice women's rights and free love The first full length study of Modern Times Wunderlich's account offers telling portraits of this small but significant group of reformers pioneers freethinkers and sexual radicals For 13 years they tested the precepts of the founders of the community the philosophical anarchists Josiah Warren and Stephen Pearl Andrews who advocated the sovereignty of the individual and private but profitless enterprise Each person lived as he or she pleased provided this did not impair the right of another to do the same and each traded goods and services at cost rather than market value enabling cash poor pioneers to own homesteads The community championed every kind of reform from abolitionism women's rights and vegetarianism to hydropathy pacifism total abstinence and the bloomer costume Indifference to marital status and the advocacy of a free love vanguard contributed to the community's controversial and somewhat illicit reputation In 1864 seeking to remove themselves from the limelight Modern Times's remaining settlers renamed the village Brentwood Wunderlich pieces together the village person by person by relying on primary sources such as land deeds census entries and eyewitness accounts He also sheds new light on Warren and Andrews two key figures in the communitarian movement and discusses at length such important contemporaries as Thomas and Mary Gove Nichols Robert Owen John Humphrey Noyes Horace Greeley John Stuart Mill Henry David Thoreau Ralph Waldo Emerson and George Ripley

The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1880 Making Men Moral Robert P. George,1995-04-06 Contemporary liberal thinkers commonly suppose that there is something in principle unjust about the legal prohibition of putatively victimless immoralities Against the prevailing liberal view Robert P George defends the proposition that moral laws can play a legitimate if subsidiary role in preserving the moral ecology of the cultural environment in which people make the morally significant choices by which they form their characters and influence for good or ill the moral lives of others George shows that a defence of morals legislation is fully compatible with a pluralistic perfectionist political theory of civil liberties and public morality

War Department,1943 Langues et littératures Collectif,,Andrée-Marie Harmat,Lance Hewson,2001-09-18 La plupart des textes rassemblés ici ont été rédigés pour le colloque international Linguistique et langue anglaise qui s'est tenu Toulouse les 7 et 8 juillet 2000 Des linguistes des traductologues et des stylisticiens ont mis en lumière la nécessaire homogénéité de leurs outils respectifs lorsqu'ils sont appliqués à ce qui constitue le dénominateur commun de leurs diverses approches la langue En effet on peut difficilement envisager de faire passer la spécificité d'un texte d'un encodage de départ donné un encodage d'arrivée choisi pour le traductologue d'y découvrir la trace de mécanismes fondamentaux pour le linguiste d'en dégager des marqueurs de subjectivité créant des cartes par rapport une norme plus ou moins établie pour le stylisticien sans tenir compte du fait des structures nonciatives et syntactico-sémantiques d'une ou plusieurs langues naturelles

Most of the papers in this volume were written for the international conference on Linguistics and the English Language which was held in Toulouse on July 7 and 8 2000 Their authors linguists translation specialists and stylisticians underscore the necessarily homogeneous character of their scientific tools when applied to what obviously constitutes the common ground of their respective approaches language. Indeed one can hardly aim at translating the specific encoding of a given source text into the chosen encoding of a target text at bringing out the traces of basic language mechanisms at highlighting the markers of subjectivity generating significant deviations from more or less pre-established norms without being fully aware of the enunciative syntactic and semantic structures of one or several natural languages. This is precisely what each of the contributions selected for this volume tries to achieve with its own specified methodological device.
