The Plague Of Doves:

The Plague of Doves Louise Erdrich, 2009-03-17 A finalist for the Pulitzer Prize The Plague of Doves the first part of a loose trilogy that includes the National Book Award winning The Round House and LaRose is a gripping novel about a long unsolved crime in a small North Dakota town and how years later the consequences are still being felt by the community and a nearby Native American reservation Though generations have passed the town of Pluto continues to be haunted by the murder of a farm family Evelina Harp part Ojibwe part white is an ambitious young girl whose grandfather a repository of family and tribal history harbors knowledge of the violent past And Judge Antone Bazil Coutts who bears witness understands the weight of historical injustice better than anyone Through the distinct and winning voices of three unforgettable narrators the collective stories of two interwoven communities ultimately come together to reveal a final wrenching truth Bestselling author Louise Erdrich delves into the fraught waters of historical injustice and the impact of secrets kept too long The

Plague of Doves Louise Erdrich, 2009-05-12 The unsolved murder of a farm family still haunts the white small town of Pluto North Dakota generations after the vengeance exacted and the distortions of fact transformed the lives of Ojibwe living on the nearby reservation Part Ojibwe part white Evelina Harp is an ambitious young girl prone to falling hopelessly in love Mooshum Evelina's grandfather is a repository of family and tribal history with an all too intimate knowledge of the violent past And Judge Antone Bazil Coutts who bears witness understands the weight of historical injustice better than anyone Through the distinct and winning voices of three unforgettable narrators the collective stories of two interwoven communities ultimately come together to reveal a final wrenching truth Activism and the American Novel Channette Romero, 2012-08-29 Since the 1980s many activists and writers have turned from identity politics toward ethnic religious traditions to rediscover and reinvigorate their historic role in resistance to colonialism and oppression In her examination of contemporary fiction by women of color including Toni Morrison Ana Castillo Toni Cade Bambara Louise Erdrich and Leslie Marmon Silko Channette Romero considers the way these novels newly engage with Vodun Santería Candomblé and American Indian traditions Critical of a widespread disengagement from civic participation and of the contemporary novel's disconnection from politics this fiction attempts to transform the novel and the practice of reading into a means of political engagement and an inspiration for social change Trauma and Spirituality in Ethnic American Women's Novels Marinella Rodi-Risberg, 2025-01-15 Trauma and Spirituality in Ethnic American Women's Novels examines a genre of ethnic American women's literature which the author calls spiritual trauma narratives that testify to traumas caused by epistemological violence wreaked by ongoing colonialism systematic racism and marginalization grounded in a binary hierarchical and supremacist post Enlightenment epistemology that negates the spiritual knowledge of interconnectivity found in people of color's belief systems Placing trauma theory in productive conversation with women of color feminist studies Marinella Rodi-Risberg explores literary texts by Chicana African American and Native American authors that engage readers in the protagonists transformative encounters with ancestral knowledge through symbols ritual dreaming storytelling and interactions with the natural world In this way the author argues they model a shift in awareness regarding historical and present traumas including slavery genocide racial and sexual violence highlighting the importance of literature as a site of knowledge production and resistance Indigenous Creatures, Native Knowledges, and the Arts Wendy Woodward, Susan McHugh, 2017-10-17 This volume illuminates how creative representations remain sites of ongoing struggles to engage with animals in indigenous epistemologies Traditionally imagined in relation to spiritual realms and the occult animals have always been more than primitive symbols of human relations Whether as animist gods familiars conduits to ancestors totems talismans or co creators of multispecies cosmologies animals act as vital players in the lives of cultures From early days in colonial contact zones through contemporary expressions in art film and literature the volume s unique emphasis on Southern Africa and North America historical loci of the greatest ranges of species and linguistic diversity help to situate how indigenous knowledges of human animal relations are being adapted to modern conditions of life shared across species lines

A Century of Fiction in The New Yorker New Yorker Magazine Inc, 2025-02-04 Edited by The New Yorker s fiction editor Deborah Treisman a celebratory selection from one hundred years of short stories in the magazine which has been the most influential and important showcase for the form and has launched dozens of stellar careers in fiction There is simply no A Z like the alphabet of fiction writers who have appeared in the pages of The New Yorker in the last hundred years The book boasts inarguable classics like Salinger s A Perfect Day for Bananafish Annie Proulx s Brokeback Mountain and Shirley Jackson s The Lottery alongside stunners to be rediscovered Some stories defined a moment or a now lost world Isaac Bashevis Singer s The Cafeteria others showed us a whole new way fiction could sound and feel The Red Girl by Jamaica Kincaid With this vivid selection Treisman showcases how our fiction has changed over time and reminds us that past literary fashions continue to ripple outward in the fiction we love today What does a Donald Barthelme mean to the craft of short fiction now What will a Yiyun Li mean to the next generation of readers and writers This exquisite tour of the form as practiced at its highest level will leap directly into the hearts of readers of all ages all stripes and is a beautiful tribute to the magazine s influence on our literary culture over the last century Layout Essentials Beth Tondreau, 2011-06 This book outlines and demonstrates basic layout grid guidelines and rules Love in a Time of Slaughters Susan McHugh, 2019-05-07 Love in a Time of Slaughters examines a diverse array of contemporary creative narratives in which genocide and extinction blur species lines in order to show how such stories can promote the preservation of biological and cultural diversity in a time of man made threats to species survival From indigenous novels and Japanese anime to art installations and truth commission reports Susan McHugh analyzes source material from a variety of regions and cultures to highlight cases where traditional knowledge works in tandem with modern ways of thinking about human animal relations In contrast to success stories of such relationships the narratives McHugh highlights show the vulnerabilities of affective bonds as well as the kinds of loss shared when interspecific relationships are annihilated In this thoughtful critique McHugh explores the potential of these narratives to become a more powerful urgent strategy of resistance to the forces that work to dehumanize people eradicate animals and threaten biodiversity As we unevenly contribute to the sixth great extinction this timely compelling study sheds light on what constitutes an effective response from a humanities focused interdisciplinary perspective McHugh's work will appeal to scholars working at the crossroads of human animal studies literature and visual culture as well as artists and activists who are interested in the intersections of animal politics with genocide and indigeneity
