The Eastern Roman Empire under the Severans Julia Hoffmann-Salz, Matthäus Heil, Holger Wienholz, 2024-06-17 The year of the four emperors in AD 193 shows the cosmopolitan interconnectedness of the Roman Empire yet scholarship has long framed the Severan dynasty in a narrative of descent stressing their North African and in particular their Syrian origins The contributions of this volume question this conventional approach and instead examine more closely actual Severan policy in the Near East to detect potential local connections that determined this policy as well as how local communities and elites reacted to it The volume thus explores new beginnings and old connections in the Roman Near East

Rome in the East Warwick Ball, 2002-01-04 From Rome's legendary foundation by Aeneas and the Trojan heroes as the New Troy through installing Arabs as Roman emperors to the eventual foundation of the new Rome by a latter day Aeneas at Constantinople the East took over Rome and Rome ultimately ditched Europe to the Barbarians Through this obsession Near Eastern civilisation most of all Christianity went West to transform Europe Warwick Ball argues that the story of Rome is the story of the East more than the story of the West Jacket

The Mediterranean World in Late Antiquity Averil Cameron, Fellow of the British Academy Warden Keble College Averil Cameron, 2002-09-11 This book provides both a detailed introduction to the vivid and exciting period of late antiquity and a direct challenge to conventional views of the end of the Empire

The Archaeology of Imperial Landscapes Bleda S. Düring, Tessa D. Stek, 2018-03-29 This book examines the poorly understood transformations in rural landscapes and societies that formed the backbone of ancient empires

Constantine and the Captive Christians of Persia Kyle Smith, 2019-11-12 It is widely believed that the Emperor Constantine's conversion to Christianity politicized religious allegiances dividing the Christian Roman Empire from the Zoroastrian Sasanian Empire and leading to the persecution of Christians in Persia This account however is based on Greek ecclesiastical histories and Syriac martyrdom narratives that date to centuries after the fact In this groundbreaking study Kyle Smith analyzes diverse Greek Latin and Syriac sources to show that there was not a single history of fourth century Mesopotamia By examining the conflicting hagiographical and historical evidence Constantine and the Captive Christians of Persia presents an evocative and evolving portrait of the first Christian emperor uncovering how Syriac Christians manipulated the image of their western Christian counterparts to fashion their own political and religious identities during this century of radical change

The Palmyrenes of Dura-Europos Lucinda Dirven, 2015-08-27 This volume deals with the religion of Palmyrenes in Dura Europos during the first three centuries of the Common Era and focuses upon the religious interaction between this migrant community and their new residence By studying the religious interaction of distinct groups on a local level this study aims to contribute to a better understanding of the process of religious development and change in Syria during the Roman period

Information on the Palmyrenes of Dura Europos consists primarily of archaeological remains that have been found there The Palmyrene materials from Dura Europos have never been published collectively and for this reason they are enumerated and re evaluated in the appendix The book is richly illustrated with 20 figures and 22 plates Empire of the Romans John Matthews, 2021-02-01 Offers a broad range of texts spanning six centuries of imperial Roman history Volume II of Empire of the Romans from Julius Caesar to Justinian Empire of the Romans From Julius Caesar to Justinian Six Hundred Years of Peace and War Volume II Select Anthology is a compendium of texts that trace the main historical changes of the empire over six hundred years from the death of Julius Caesar to the late Middle Ages The second volume of Empire of the Romans from Julius Caesar to Justinian this anthology balances literary texts with other documentary legal and epigraphic sources Acclaimed author John Matthews presents texts that reflect individual first person experiences rather than those from historians outside of the time periods of which they write Each selection includes an introduction annotations on points of interest author commentary and suggestions for further reading Excerpts are organized thematically to help readers understand their meaning without requiring an extensive knowledge of context Six sections running in parallel to the structure and content to Volume I explore the topics such as the building of the empire Pax Romana the new empire of Diocletian and Constantine and barbarian invasions and the fall of the Western Empire Selected texts span a wide array of subjects ranging from political discourse and Roman law to firsthand accounts of battle and military service to the civic life and entertainment of ordinary citizens This volume Covers a vast chronological and topical range Includes introductory essays to each selected text to explain key points present problems of interpretation and guides readers to further literature Balances the different categories and languages of original texts Enables easy cross reference to Volume I Minimizes the use of technical language in favor of plain English forms Whether used as a freestanding work or as a complement to Volume I the Select Anthology is an ideal resource for students in Roman history survey courses as well as interested general readers seeking a wide ranging collection of readings on the subject Classica Et Mediaevalia vol.46 Dansk Selskab for Oldtids- og Mi, 2003-11-10 William Hansen The theft of the thunderweapon A Greek myth in its international context Anders Holm Rasmussen Thucydides on Pericles Thuc 2 65 Christian Gorm Tortzen The Codices Theophrastei Haunienses Lawrence Okamura Plotinus in Syria and Mesopotamia Asger Ousager Plotinus on motion and personal identity in time and space Francis Xavier Ryan The quaestorship of Norbanus Francis Xavier Ryan L Novius Niger Jo Ann Shelton Persuasion and paradigm in Seneca s Consolatio ad Marciam 1 6 Martin Helzle Die Redeweise der Hauptpersonen in Silius Italicus Punica Jon A P Gissel The Philotas affair in Curtius account of Alexander vi 7 11 A rhetorical analysis Neil Adkin Cyprian s De habitu virginum and Jerome s Libellus de virginitate servanda epist 22 Telfryn Pritchard The Collatio Alexandri et Dindimi A revised text Maura K Lafferty Nature and an unnatural man Lucan s influence on Walter of Ch tillon s concept of nature Arthur Keaveney Remarks on J L Vives Declamationes Sullanae I and II The Roman Empire Matthew Dillon, Christopher

Matthew,2022-05-05 Religion was integral to the conduct of war in the ancient world and the Romans were certainly no exception No campaign was undertaken no battle risked without first making sacrifice to propitiate the appropriate gods such as Mars god of War or consulting oracles and omens to divine their plans Yet the link between war and religion is an area that has been regularly overlooked by modern scholars examining the conflicts of these times This volume addresses that omission by drawing together the work of experts from across the globe The chapters have been carefully structured by the editors so that this wide array of scholarship combines to give a coherent comprehensive study of the role of religion in the wars of the Roman Empire Aspects considered in depth include the Imperial cults and legionary loyalty the army and religious regional disputes Trajan and religion Constantine and Christianity omens and portents funerary cults and practices the cult of Mithras the Imperial sacramentum religion Imperial military medicine     The Oxford Handbook of the Hellenistic and Roman Near East Rubina Raja,2025 The Near East during the Hellenistic and Roman periods has been studied for centuries This Handbook includes fifty chapters written by experts from a variety of disciplines archaeology including classical near eastern and Islamic ancient history anthropology art history data and network science epigraphy and historiography Together these chapters shed a fresh light on the vast regions that made up Hellenistic and later Roman Syria and the Near East The material and written evidence from the region is considered side by side with historical sources as well as scientific data coming out of archaeological science and network science and shows how new knowledge about the region can be brought to the forefront of current literature on the subject The dynamic volatile diverse and culturally rich regions that this volume focuses on have left an abundant cultural heritage and in many places these regions are under constant threat In this Handbook knowledge about the newest research on a myriad of these regions sites and locations is highlighted together with overviews of the centuries long history of research The Handbook is essential for students scholars and the archaeologically inclined reader and constitutes the definitive collection of current research in the field     World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker,2003-06-01 Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967 1997 Classical antiquity post Roman Europe and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century although covered receive less systematic attention Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles Especially rich in references to the periodical literature the bibliography is divided into eight parts 1 general and comparative topics 2 the ancient world 3 Eurasia since antiquity 4 sub Saharan Africa and Oceania 5 pre Columbian America 6 postcontact America 7 the contemporary nonwestern world and 8 philosophical social scientific natural scientific and other works not primarily historical     Legions in Crisis: The Transformation of the Roman Soldier - 192 to 284 Paul Elliot ,2014-05-10 The third century AD was a turbulent and testing time for the Roman Empire A new and powerful foe in the east had risen up to challenge Rome directly Barbarians on the northern frontiers were now more aggressive and more numerous than before and internally the population of the empire had to contend with rampant inflation and a series of terrible plagues Unfortunately the chaos became magnified by a lack of continuity on the imperial throne The army had real political power in the third century making and unmaking emperors as it saw fit It had been aided in this by Septimius Severus the African emperor who had won out in the civil wars following Commodus assassination He increased the army's pay and granted other privileges While the army gained rapidly in size stature and political savvy during the reign of Septimius Severus it also accelerated a material transformation Armour shields helmets swords and javelins all began to be replaced with new styles Legions in Crisis looks closely at the new styles of arms and armour comparing their construction use and effectiveness to the more familiar types of Roman kit used by soldiers fighting the earlier Dacian and Marcomannic Wars What did this transformation in military technology mean for the tactical choices used on the battlefield Although the outcome had looked in doubt the army and the empire it protected weathered the storm to emerge into the fourth century fully able to tackle the challenges of a new age
