background and case studies this book presents a unique look at the development of children as targets of the media and commercial industries and examines the economic and social forces that have defined the evolution of children's entertainment. This volume is of interest to professionals and students in media studies, mass communication and related fields. Readers interested in contemporary children's culture and the content of children's programming: Factory, 1966 Radio-electronics, 1975 Reflections from the Recliner Fifth Floor Freddy, 2010-09 Beeeeeeeeeeeep This is a jest This is only a jest Rhymes from the Recliner A Collection of Couch Potato Poetry is a light hearted devotional to classic television programming. It's tinted with humor, irony and affection and intended to put a horizontal hold on lovers of prose and tv shows. It is easily enjoyed by most everyone though poetry readers and music listeners may be the most enthusiastic for they will also notice that many of the poems are patterned after well known pieces of poetry and popular songs. It is for people who have grown tired of others tuning in and dropping out when they quote the same old stuffy bits of philosophy about life and love. It is for those who want to arm themselves with a clever verse about The Love Boat or Name that Tune and turn themselves into a regular boob tube troubadour. It can be enjoyed with a latte at one's favorite coffee shop or with a beer and a bag of chips on an old sofa munching and giggling to Hee Haw as interpreted thru Shakespeare. There really is something good on television this book. Wired TV Denise Mann, 2014-02-11 This collection looks at the post network television industry's heady experiments with new forms of interactive storytelling or wired TV that took place from 2005 to 2010 as the networks responded to the introduction of broadband into the majority of homes and the proliferation of popular participatory Web 2.0 companies like Facebook, YouTube and Twitter. Contributors address a wide range of issues from the networks' sporadic efforts to engage fans using transmedia storytelling to the production inefficiencies that continue to dog network television to the impact of multimedia convergence and multinational corporate conglomeration on entrepreneurial creativity. With essays from such top scholars as Henry Jenkins, John T. Caldwell and Jonathan Gray and from new and exciting voices emerging in this field, Wired TV elucidates the myriad new digital threats and the equal number of digital opportunities that have become part and parcel of today's post network era. Readers will quickly recognize the familiar television franchises on which the contributors focus including Lost, The Office, Entourage, Battlestar Galactica, The L Word and Heroes in order to reveal their impact on an industry in transition. While it is not easy for vast bureaucracies to change course, executives from key network divisions engaged in an unprecedented period of innovation and collaboration with four important groups: members of the Hollywood creative community who wanted to expand television's storytelling worlds and marketing capabilities by incorporating social media; members of the Silicon Valley tech community who were keen to rethink television distribution for the digital era; members of the Madison Avenue advertising community who were eager to rethink ad supported content; and fans who were enthusiastic and willing to use social media story extensions to proselytize on behalf of a favorite network series. In the aftermath of the lengthy Writers Guild of America strike of 2007-2008, the networks clamped down on such collaborations and began to reclaim control over their operations locking themselves back into an aging system of interconnected bureaucracies entrenched hierarchies and traditional partners from the past What s next for the future of the television industry Stay tuned or at least online Contributors Vincent Brook Will Brooker John T Caldwell M J Clarke Jonathan Gray Henry Jenkins Derek Johnson Robert V Kozinets Denise Mann Katynka Z Mart nez and Julie Levin Russo
