Reorienting the Middle East Dale Hudson, Alia Yunis, 2024-01-16 Stories of desert landscapes cutting edge production facilities and lavish festivals often dominate narratives about film and digital media on the Arabian Peninsula However there is a more complicated history that reflects long standing interconnections between the Persian Gulf Arabian Sea and Indian Ocean Just as these waters are fluid spaces so too is the flow of film and digital media between cultures in East Africa Europe North Africa South Asia Southwest Asia and Southeast Asia Reorienting the Middle East examines past and contemporary aspects of film and digital media in the Gulf that might not otherwise be apparent in dominant frameworks Contributors consider oil companies that brought film exhibition to this area in the 1930s the first Indian film produced on the Arabian Peninsula in the late 1970s blackness in Iranian films the role of Western funding in reshaping stories Dubai s emergence in global film production uses of online platforms for performance art the development of film festivals and cinemas and short films made by citizens and migrants that turn a lens on racism sexism national identity and other rarely discussed social issues Reorienting the Middle East offers new methods to analyze the often neglected littoral spaces between nation states and regions and to understand the role of film and digital media in shaping dialogue between area studies and film and media studies Readers will find new pathways to rethink the limitations of dominant categories and frameworks in both fields

Indian Diaspora in the Persian Gulf States Prakash C. Jain, 2025-08-15 Indian Diaspora in the Persian Gulf States focuses on the historical as well as the contemporary aspects of the Indian diaspora of the region where small Indian merchant communities called Banians already existed for centuries Persian Gulf countries emerged as rentier states since the 1970s mainly due to the development of the oil industry which transformed the region from subsistence to globalized capitalist economies In these economies the role of sponsored Indian expatriate immigrants numbering at least 20 million during the past half century was vitally important Taking the rentier state as the theoretical perspective the author argues that the sponsorship kafala system tended to have a different impact on the Indian expatriates incorporation and promotion of the entrepreneurs and professionals as business elites and the perpetual exploitation of the working classes The book is not only the first ever definitive and comprehensive work on the Indian diaspora in the nine countries of the Gulf region it also stands as the author's final statement on his three odd decades of research and writing on the subject Besides highlighting the role of Indian diaspora the book also profiles all the Gulf based recipients of the Pravasi Bharatiya Samman Awards Bilateral trade investment and political relations between India and individual Persian Gulf states constitute another focus area of the volume The volume will be an interesting read for teachers researchers and policy makers connected with migration and diaspora studies labour studies political economy international relations and geopolitics

International Labour Migration in the Middle East and Asia Kwen Fee Lian, Naomi Hosoda, Masako Ishii, 2019-08-22 The discourse on migration outcomes in the West has largely been dominated by issues of integration but it is more relevant to view immigration in non Western societies in relation to practices of exclusion and inclusion Exclusion refers to a situation in which individuals and groups are usually denied access to the goods services activities and resources associated with citizenship However this approach has been criticised in relation to gender issues which are very relevant to the situation of migrants The authors in this volume address this criticism Furthermore when framed within a North South discourse it may be potentially ethnocentric to assume that the experience of exclusion is cross culturally uniform Indeed work on migration issues has invariably been conducted within such a discourse The contributors go beyond this binary discourse of exclusion versus inclusion which has dominated migration research They examine the situation of migrants in the Middle East and Asia as one that encompasses both exclusion and inclusion addressing related concepts of empowerment ethnocracy the feminisation of migration and gendered geographies of power liberal constraint and multiculturalism individual agency migrant friendly discourses spaces of emancipation and spaces of insecurity The book highlights current research in the Arab Gulf states and examines multiculturalism in Asia more broadly It will be of particular interest to students and researchers in international labour migration studies in the Middle East and Asia Oceanic Histories David Armitage, Alison Bashford, Sujit Sivasundaram, 2018 Freshly presents world history through its oceans and seas in uniquely wide ranging original chapters by leading experts in their fields Transnational Generations in the Arab Gulf States and Beyond Kyoko Matsukawa, Akiko Watanabe, Zahra R. Babar, 2023-12-01 This book examines the recent migration phenomenon in the Arab Gulf states for work and residence It sheds light on the transnationality of diverse groups of migrants from different generations and unpacks how migrants multiple senses of belonging orientations and adaptive strategies have shaped contemporary migration in the Gulf region In turn the analysis presented here shows how the Arab Gulf states citizenship and educational policies affect second generation migrants in particular Through a series of fine grained ethnographic case studies the authors demonstrate the ways in which these second generation migrants construct their identities in relation to their putative home country in the Gulf as well as their complex relationship to their parents countries of origin This is what underpins the deeply transnational character of their lives choices and notions of belonging While migration scholars often situate these groups as temporary this does not in fact capture the reality of temporariness for the migrants themselves their children or their dependants The result is a complex and ongoing construction of identity that shapes the way of life for millions of migrants Relevant to scholars of migration and international studies particularly focused on the Middle East Transnational Generations in the Arab Gulf States and Beyond is also of interest to social scientists researching student mobility in higher education intergenerational families identity politics and globalisation Rewired Ryan Ellis, Vivek Mohan, 2019-04-23 Examines the governance challenges of cybersecurity through twelve real world case studies Through twelve detailed case studies this superb collection provides an overview of the ways in which government officials and corporate leaders across the globe are responding to the challenges of cybersecurity Drawing perspectives from industry government and academia the book incisively analyzes the actual issues and provides a guide to the continually evolving cybersecurity ecosystem It charts the role that corporations policymakers and technologists are playing in defining the contours of our digital world Rewired Cybersecurity Governance places great emphasis on the interconnection of law policy and technology in cyberspace It examines some of the competing organizational efforts and institutions that are attempting to secure cyberspace and considers the broader implications of the in place and unfolding efforts tracing how different notions of cybersecurity are deployed and built into stable routines and practices Ultimately the book explores the core tensions that sit at the center of cybersecurity efforts highlighting the ways in which debates about cybersecurity are often inevitably about much more Introduces the legal and policy dimensions of cybersecurity Collects contributions from an international collection of scholars and practitioners Provides a detailed map of the emerging cybersecurity ecosystem covering the role that corporations policymakers and technologists play Uses accessible case studies to provide a non technical description of key terms and technologies Rewired Cybersecurity Governance is an excellent guide for all

A Critical Political Economy of the Middle East and North Africa Joel Beinin, Bassam Haddad, Sherene Seikaly, 2020-12-22 This book offers the first critical engagement with the political economy of the Middle East and North Africa Challenging conventional wisdom on the origins and contemporary dynamics of capitalism in the region these cutting edge essays demonstrate how critical political economy can illuminate both historical and contemporary dynamics of the region and contribute to wider political economy debates from the vantage point of the Middle East Leading scholars representing several disciplines contribute both thematic and country specific analyses Their writings critically examine major issues in political economy notably the mutual constitution of states markets and classes the co constitution of class race gender and other forms of identity varying modes of capital accumulation and the legal political and cultural forms of their regulation relations among local national and global forms of capital class and culture technopolitics the role of war in the constitution of states and classes and practices and cultures of domination and resistance Visit politicaleconomyproject.org for additional media and learning resources Fueling Empire Karl Ittmann, 2025-05-26 Beginning in the late nineteenth century British companies used the resources of empire to create an imperial oil industry that controlled 20% of global oil reserves by 1939 and allowed for the movement of capital and labor between regions and companies The imperial oil complex encompassed colonies Burma and Trinidad and dependent states Iraq and Iraq In both the imperial state used its political and military power to support British oil interests The oil complex drew on the resources of empire but also bolstered it with profits and tax revenues while a global set of oil sites supplied the British military and civilian consumers British companies built an infrastructure of oil production that gave them quasi state power in oil regions while connecting these areas to global and imperial networks of communication and transportation Fueling Empire highlights the significance of Britain to the development of the global oil industry It demonstrates the ways in which the global histories of oil and empire are inextricably interlinked The imperial oil complex relied on a racially stratified hierarchy of labour where white supervisors managed indigenous and migrant workers The harsh conditions of work and low pay fuelled labour conflicts that resonated with emerging colonial nationalist movements that sought to limit the power of oil companies Despite robust private and state security operations the imperial oil complex faced greater insecurity before World War II While the imperial oil complex survived the war in the postwar era decolonization and Britain's financial weakness led to its decline

Creative Insecurity Dania Thafer, 2023-06-23 The Middle East is experiencing the world's most prominent youth bulge Yet many MENA economies institutional designs both formal and informal favour the power of business elites systematically discriminating against young people joining the workforce or opening businesses and thus limiting their ability to contribute to innovation Large youth populations can be a boon or a curse nurtured and integrated they can jumpstart stratospheric growth but if alienated and confined they can drain a society politically and economically The Gulf Cooperation Council countries are no exception to this perilous dilemma This book explores the problem through a new concept creative insecurity a state's subjection to an institutional ecosystem that is suppressing opportunities for innovation to the extent that it is causing economic and political vulnerabilities which in turn threaten national security Creative insecurity threatens the longevity of many states today In this original incisive study Dania Thafer argues that GCC member states should make it a national security imperative to cash in their demographic dividend by averting the deleterious effects of ill disposed elite politics Investing in an innovation ecosystem that harnesses the talent of the youth majority will be crucial for the GCC's successful transition to the post oil era Routledge Handbook on Middle Eastern Diasporas Dalia Abdelhady, Ramy Aly, 2022-08-08 Bringing together different strands of research on Middle Eastern diasporas the Routledge Handbook on Middle Eastern Diasporas sheds light on diverse approaches to investigating diaspora groups in different national contexts Asking how diasporans forge connections and means of belonging the analyses provided turn the reader's gaze to the multiple forms of belonging to both peoples and places Rather than seeing diasporans as marginalised groups of people longing to return to a homeland analyses in this volume demonstrate that Middle East diasporans like other diasporas and citizens alike are people who respond to major social change and transformations Those we count as Middle Eastern diasporans both in the region and beyond contribute to transnational social spaces and new forms of cultural expressions Chapters included cover how diasporas have been formed the ways that diasporans make and remake homes the expressive terrains where diasporas are contested how class livelihoods and mobility inflect diasporic practices the emergence of diasporic sensibilities and finally scholarship that draws our attention to the plurilocality of Middle Eastern diasporas Offering a rich compilation of case studies this book will appeal to students of Middle Eastern Studies International Relations and Sociology as well as being of interest to policymakers government departments and NGOs Altered States Sune Haugbolle, Mark LeVine, 2022-08-22 Building on Timothy Mitchell's seminal 1991 exploration of the Limits of the State this book brings together contributions on the state in the Arab world from the past and present in an edited volume Altered States views the state less as a matter of people and institutions and more as sets of practices regimes of truth and capabilities of power and the effects they have on those under their control Through analysing case studies including Tunisia Syria Lebanon Egypt Palestine UAE Rojova and the Islamic State the concept of the state is applied and questioned This book examines the roots of policies that led to the uprisings focusing on how the authoritarian bargain which helped define Arab politics broke down with the rise of neoliberalism It also assesses how boundaries between state and society have been redrawn as various dynamics have brought state forces into more open conflict with citizens and each other The rapid pace of change in the Arab world has necessitated constant modification of themes and theoretical lens of analysis This book will therefore be of interest to practitioners graduate students and academics of the Arab world statehood and political science
