Tales of Ballycumber Sebastian Barry, 2009-12-03 Here now listen I ll tell you a tale Daffodils are in bloom as dawn breaks over the foothills of Ballycumber ushering in hope for a new day and stirring the ghosts of a past fraught with sorrow anguish and emptiness In search of advice young Evans Stafford calls at the home of friend and strong minded traditionalist Nicholas Farquhar The following day as Farquhar learns the devastating consequences of this meeting he discovers that his memories and words are governed by a buried history a force far greater than himself Sebastian Barry s Tales of Ballycumber premiered at the Abbey Theatre Dublin in September 2009

Global Changes - Local Stages Hans van Maanen, Andreas Kotte, Anneli Saro, 2009 Global Changes Local Stages investigates the relationships between what happened the last twenty years on the world stage and how theatre life developed on the local level The subject has been approached from three different angles each covered by one part of the book The Effects of Social Changes on Theatre Fields Values in Theatre Politics and Localization of Theatrical Values The group of authors tries to find the links between these three areas The book profits from the fact that the authors come from two sides of the former Wall Twenty years after its fall the transitional processes in countries of the former Eastern Bloc can be compared not only mutually but also with the changes in the Western part of Europe With its 537 pages Global Changes Local Stages is the most extensive research of the possible relationships between cultural change theatre politics and theatre life in smaller European countries

Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society María Amor Barros-del Río, 2024-07-19 Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society examines the transcultural patterns that have been enriching Irish literature since the twentieth century and engages with the ongoing dialogue between contemporary Irish literature and society Driven by the growing interest in transcultural studies in the humanities this volume provides an insightful analysis of how Irish literature handles the delicate balance between authenticity and folklore and uniformisation and diversity in an increasingly globalised world Following a diachronic approach the volume includes critical readings of canonical Irish literature as an uncharted exchange of intercultural dialogues The text also explores the external and internal transcultural traits present in recent Irish literature and its engagement with social injustice and activism and discusses location and mobility as vehicles for cultural transfer and the advancement of the women's movement A final section also includes an examination of literary expressions of hybridisation diversity and assimilation to scrutinise negotiations of new transcultural identities In the light of the compiled contributions the volume ends with a revisitation of Irish studies in a world in which national identity has become increasingly problematic This volume presents new insights into the fictional engagement of contemporary Irish literature with political social and economic issues and its efforts to accommodate the local and the global resulting in a reshaping of national collective imaginaries
