PERSPECTIVE AND NARRATOR

"The River-Merchant's Wife: A Letter" is narrated from the perspective of a young wife. She misses her husband, a traveling merchant who has been away for months and may never return.

TENSE

The first two stanzas are written in the past tense. The third and fourth stanzas contain a mix of the past, present perfect, present, and future tenses. The tense shifts as the river-merchant's wife remembers her husband's departure, ruminates on her current environment, and offers to travel to meet her husband on his safe return.

ABOUT THE TITLE

The title "The River-Merchant's Wife: A Letter" identifies the poem as a letter from a wife to her husband, a traveling merchant who is away from home.

🕒 In Context

Imagism and Vorticism

Although "The River-Merchant's Wife: A Letter" is based on an ancient Chinese poem, it is closely associated with imagism and vorticism, two literary movements Ezra Pound (1885–1972) helped found. The first of these, imagism, was founded in 1912 when Pound and a group of like-minded early 20th-century poets rejected the elevated language and abstract thinking they found in traditional western literature. These poets, including Pound, H.D. (Hilda Doolittle, 1886–1961), Richard Aldington (1892–1962), and F.S. Flint (1885–1960), helped describe a succinct poetic style in which an image or feeling stands alone to do all the work of the poem, without commenting on or interpreting its subject.

Pound and his contemporaries outlined three basic rules for writing poetry, which were the central tenets of imagism:

- Poems should present a "direct treatment of the 'thing,' or subject of the poem. The "thing" can be a physical object, a feeling, or anything else—it does not have to be concrete.
