TOPIC: PRINCIPAL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Principal leadership is correlated with student achievement, and there are significant links between specific principal behaviors and student achievement (Waters et al., 2016; Wang et al., 2018). Researchers posit that "effective leadership means more than knowing what to do—it's knowing when, how, and why to do it" (Waters et al., 2016, p. 2). However, there is limited research on the principal, as a learner, specifically principal professional development, and its impact on principal leader effectiveness (Garcia, 2014).

Researchers can identify the types of professional development experiences that are most likely to build principals' capacity to be successful leaders, negative behavior trends and stagnant student achievement may be reversed.

PURPOSE OF THE STUDY

The purpose of this study is to explore the perceptions of principals regarding their preparedness to lead school improvement efforts. The research will seek to identify the types of professional development experiences that are most likely to build principals' capacity to be successful leaders, negative behavior trends and stagnant student achievement may be reversed.

RESEARCH QUESTIONS

1. How do principals perceive their preparedness to lead school improvement efforts?
2. What types of professional development experiences are most likely to build principals' capacity to be successful leaders?
3. How do principals perceive their preparedness to lead school improvement efforts?

POPULATION AND METHODOLOGY

The targeted population for this study is principals who are currently serving in the position. The research will seek to identify the types of professional development experiences that are most likely to build principals' capacity to be successful leaders, negative behavior trends and stagnant student achievement may be reversed.

BACKGROUND

The role of the principal is a complex one, and it is not always clear what the principal's responsibilities are. The principal is responsible for the overall success of the school, and it is their job to ensure that the school is a safe and effective learning environment for all students. The principal is also responsible for the school's financial health, and it is their job to ensure that the school is a good value for the money. The principal is also responsible for the school's reputation, and it is their job to ensure that the school is a positive reflection of the community.

IMPORTANCE OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP

SIGNIFICANCE

The study of the principal's role is a complex one, and it is not always clear what the principal's responsibilities are. The principal is responsible for the overall success of the school, and it is their job to ensure that the school is a safe and effective learning environment for all students. The principal is also responsible for the school's financial health, and it is their job to ensure that the school is a good value for the money. The principal is also responsible for the school's reputation, and it is their job to ensure that the school is a positive reflection of the community.
