Justice and Memory After Dictatorship Raluca Groseanu, 2024 Justice and Memory after Dictatorship Latin America Eastern Europe and the Fragmentation of International Criminal Law provides a ground breaking socio historical account of the global transformation of international criminal law after the fall of dictatorships at the end of the 1980s

Law and Memory Uladzislau Belavusau, Aleksandra Gliszczyńska-Grabias, 2017-10-19 The volume revisits memory laws as a phenomenon of global law transitional justice historical narratives and claims for historical truth It will appeal to those interested in the conflict between legal governance of memory with values of democratic citizenship political pluralism and fundamental rights

Justice, Memory and Redress in Romania Lavinia Stan, Lucian Turcescu, 2017-01-06 Are there any lessons Romania can teach transitional justice scholars and practitioners This book argues that important insights emerge when analyzing a country with a moderate record of coming to terms with its communist past Taking a broad definition of transitional justice as their starting point contributors provide fresh assessments of the history commission court trials public identifications of former communist perpetrators commemorations and unofficial artistic projects that seek to address and redress the legacies of communist human rights violations Theoretical and practical questions regarding the continuity of state agencies the sequencing of initiatives their advantages and limitations the reasons why some reckoning programs are enacted and others are not and these measures efficacy in promoting truth and justice are answered throughout the volume Contributors include seasoned scholars from Romania Canada the United States and the United Kingdom and current and former leaders of key Romanian transitional justice institutions

Handbook on the Politics of Memory Maria Mälksoo, 2023-01-20 Providing a novel multi disciplinary theorization of memory politics this insightful Handbook brings varied literatures into a focused dialogue on the ways in which the past is remembered and how these influence transnational interstate and global politics in the present

Handbook of Political Anthropology Harald Wydra, Bjørn Thomassen, 2018-11-30 This Handbook engages the reader in the major debates approaches methodologies and explanatory frames within political anthropology Examining the shifting borders of a moving field of enquiry it illustrates disciplinary paradigm shifts the role of humans in political structures ethnographies of the political and global processes Reflecting the variety of directions that surround political anthropology today this volume will be essential reading to understanding the interactions of humans within political frames in a globalising world Clarifying the Past Cira Pallí-Asperó, 2022-10-13 Clarifying the Past provides a comprehensive analysis of state sponsored historical commissions operating in conflicted and divided societies developing a theoretical and methodological framework within the historical dialogue paradigm key to understanding the work of such commissions The theoretical and methodological framework is complemented with an extensive empirical analysis of 27 historical commissions that operated in different social and political contexts from 1990s to the present The detailed examination of these cases gives a broad perspective into the potential capacities of historical commissions in different settings Although only sampling the most recent cases this volume shows how the steady increase of the number of historical commissions indicates that we are not dealing with a marginal phenomenon The increased recognition of the potential of historical commissions to address the legacies of contested pasts and potential introduction of such commissions to transitional justice makes this book highly relevant This book has been written with the objective of deepening and broadening the existing knowledge on state sponsored historical commissions Its intended audiences are scholars and practitioners in the fields of historical theory public history and historical dialogue transitional justice peace and conflict studies New Critical Spaces in Transitional Justice Arnaud Kurze, Christopher K. Lamont, 2019-01-10 Since the 1980s transitional justice mechanisms have been increasingly applied to account for mass atrocities and grave human rights violations throughout the world Over time post conflict justice practices have expanded across continents and state borders and have fueled the creation of new ideas that go beyond traditional notions of amnesty retribution and reconciliation Gathering work from contributors in international law political science sociology and history New Critical Spaces in Transitional Justice addresses issues of space and time in transitional justice studies It explains new trends in responses to post conflict and post authoritarian nations and offers original empirical research to help define the field for the future Patriotic History and the (Re)Nationalization of Memory Kornelia Kończal, A. Dirk Moses, 2023-06-27 This book charts and traces state mandated or state encouraged patriotic histories that have recently emerged in many places around the globe Such patriotic histories can revolve around both affirmative interpretations of the past and celebration of national achievements They can also entail explicitly denialist stances against acknowledging responsibility for past atrocities even to the extent of celebrating perpetrators Whereas in some cases patriotic history takes the shape of a coherent doctrine in others they remain limited to loosely connected narratives By combining nationalist and narcissist narratives and by disregarding or distorting historical evidence patriotic history promotes mythified monumental and moralistic interpretations of the past that posit partisan and authoritarian essentialisms and exceptionalisms Whereas the global debates in interdisciplinary memory studies revolve around concepts like cosmopolitan global multidirectional relational transcultural and transnational memory to mention but a few the actual socio political uses of history remain strikingly nation centred and one dimensional This volume collects fifteen case studies of such nationalizations of history ranging from China to the Baltic states They highlight three features of this phenomenon the ruthlessness of methods applied by many state authorities to impose certain interpretations of the past the increasing discrepancy between professional and political approaches to collective memory and the new post truth context This book will be of interest to students and researchers of international politics the radical right and global history It was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Genocide Research

Transitional Justice Gerhard Werle, Moritz Vormbaum, 2022-09-08 The expression transitional justice emerged at the end of the Cold War during the transition from dictatorships to democracies and serves as a central concept in dealing with systemic injustice This textbook examines the basic principles of transitional justice and explores its core mechanisms including prosecutions amnesties truth commissions reparations and vetting the public service It elaborates the substance and legal framework of these mechanisms and discusses current challenges The book provides extensive material illustrating a wide variety of transitional justice situations This book summarizes the subjects of transitional justice and Vergangenheitsbewältigung systematically and clearly Joachim Gauck German Federal President 2012

2017 Representing Communism After the Fall Cristian Tileagă, 2018-10-22 This book explores the contribution of discursive psychology and discourse analysis to researching the relationship between history and collective memory Analysing significant manifestations of the moral vocabulary of the Romanian transition from communism to democracy the author demonstrates how discursive psychology can be used to understand some of the enduring and persistent dilemmas around the legacy of communism This book argues that an understanding of language as an action oriented world building resource can fill an important gap in the theorizing of public controversies over individual and collective meaning of the recent communist past The author posits that discursive social psychology can serve as an intellectual and empirical bridge that can overcome several of the difficulties faced by researchers working in transitional justice studies and cognate fields This reflective book will appeal to students and scholars of transitional justice discursive psychology memory studies and the sociology of change

Between the Memory and Post-Memory of Communism in Romania Monica Ciobanu, Mihaela Șerban, 2025-05-23 The first of its kind this book traces the construction of post memory in post communist Romania Focusing on the processes gaps agents and contradictions of post memory it examines a range of topics across a variety of disciplines addressing questions of museums and musealization law and memory political trials and retrospective justice and post memory in a digital context while also considering marginalized and forgotten voices such as those of the Roma population and abandoned children Moving away from a focus on the institutional mechanisms of transitional justice or officially sanctioned historical narratives Between the Memory and Post Memory of Communism in Romania brings together some of the leading voices in the field of memory studies in Romania to adopt a more pluralistic and diverse approach to the communist past It will therefore appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology museum studies and history with interests in the communist period in Eastern Europe

Amending the Past Alexander Karn, 2015-09-29 During the 1990s and early

2000s in Europe more than fifty historical commissions were created to confront discuss and document the genocide of the Holocaust and to address some of its unresolved injustices Amending the Past offers the first in depth account of these commissions examining the complexities of reckoning with past atrocities and large scale human rights violations Alexander Karn analyzes more than a dozen Holocaust commissions in Germany Switzerland France Poland Austria Latvia Lithuania and elsewhere in a comparative framework situating each in the context of past and present politics to evaluate their potential for promoting justice and their capacity for bringing the perspectives of rival groups more closely together Karn also evaluates the media coverage these commissions received and probes their public reception from multiple angles Arguing that historical commissions have been underused as a tool for conflict management Karn develops a program for historical mediation and moral reparation that can deepen democratic commitment and strengthen human rights in both transitional regimes and existing liberal states

Consensus-Based Interpretation of Regional Human Rights Treaties
Francisco Pascual-Vives, 2019-07-22 In Consensus Based Interpretation of Regional Human Rights Treaties Francisco Pascual Vives examines the central role played by the notion of consensus in the case law of the European and Inter American Courts of Human Rights As many other international courts and tribunals do both regional human rights courts resort to this concept while undertaking an evolutive interpretation of the Rome Convention and the Pact of San Jos respectively The role exerted by the notion of consensus in this framework can be used not only to understand the evolving character of the rights and freedoms recognized by these international treaties but also to reaffirm the international nature of these regional human rights courts
