Paulin Hountondji and the Science Question in Africa Zeyad el Nabolsy, 2025-07-18 This book offers a systematic reconstruction of Paulin Hountondji s contributions to the debate about the place of modern science on the African continent The book shows that Hountondji develops an account of modern science that is sociologically sensitive to the entanglement between modern science and colonialism on the African continent without falling into epistemic relativism about the claims of modern science It is argued that Hountondji s views on modern science express a strong historical materialist influence and that he develops a theory of science that draws both on the Hessen Grossmann hypothesis and dependency theory Thus this book brings together two strands of historical materialist thought about science that have hitherto been isolated from one another This book is of interest to scholars who specialize in African philosophy history and philosophy of science global philosophy and African studies

Contributions of Africa's Indigenous Knowledge to the Wave of Digital Technology: Decolonial Perspectives Niyitunga, Eric Blanco, 2024-04-09 Africa s contributions to global technological advancements are often overlooked with many scholars claiming that the continent has yet to contribute significantly to digital technology This misconception stems from a need for more understanding and recognition of Africa s indigenous knowledge and its role in shaping the modern world The education curriculum inherited from colonialism must differentiate Africa s values and culture from Western ideals leading to a devaluation of Africa s mineral wealth in technological advancements Additionally the impact of historical events such as the Atlantic slave trade and colonialism on Africa s indigenous knowledge remains largely unexplored further contributing to the misunderstanding of Africa's technological contributions Contributions of Africa's Indigenous Knowledge to the Wave of Digital Technology Decolonial Perspectives offers a comprehensive exploration of Africa's indigenous knowledge and its crucial role in the Fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR By taking a decolonial perspective and examining the literature on African Studies the book aims to shed light on Africa's significant contributions to digital technology Through a qualitative research design and an exploratory approach the book will collect and analyze data from secondary sources to showcase Africa's rich technological advancements and history of innovations Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024 tracing South Africa's past through approaches of comparative history transnational history and visual history in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender labor and class dynamics as well as regional historiographies The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal's origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's complex history over the past several centuries Re-Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning Joyce E. Swartz, 2014-03-05 What kind of social studies knowledge can stimulate a critical and ethical dialog with the past and present Re-Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning answers this question by explaining and illustrating a process of historical recovery that merges Afrocentric theory and principles of culturally informed curricular practice to reconnect multiple knowledge bases and experiences In the case studies presented K 12 practitioners teacher educators preservice teachers and parents use this praxis to produce and then study the use of democratized student texts they step outside of reproducing standard school experiences to engage in conscious inquiry about their shared present as a continuance of a shared past This volume exemplifies not only why instructional materials including most so called multicultural materials obstruct democratized knowledge but also takes the next step to construct and then study how re-membered student texts can be used Case study findings reveal improved student outcomes enhanced relationships between teachers and families and teachers and students and a closer connection for children and adults to their heritage The Georgia of the North Hettie V. Williams, 2024-07-12 The Georgia of the North is a compelling narrative about the little known struggles that

African American women and their community faced when they arrived in the Garden State by way of the Great Migration to 1954 as they laid the foundations of the American civil rights movement in the North in the process The Oxford Encyclopedia of African Thought Abiola Irele, 2010 From St Augustine and early Ethiopian philosophers to the anti colonialist movements of Pan Africanism and Negritude this encyclopedia offers a comprehensive view of African thought covering the intellectual tradition both on the continent in its entirety and throughout the African Diaspora in the Americas and in Europe The term African thought has been interpreted in the broadest sense to embrace all those forms of discourse philosophy political thought religion literature important social movements that contribute to the formulation of a distinctive vision of the world determined by or derived from the African experience The Encyclopedia is a large scale work of 350 entries covering major topics involved in the development of African Thought including historical figures and important social movements producing a collection that is an essential resource for teaching an invaluable companion to independent research and a solid guide for further study Ethnicities and Tribes in Sub-Saharan Africa S. N. Sangmpam, 2017-03-08 This book proposes new avenues for understanding tribal allegiance in Sub Saharan Africa Much research on ethnicity and cultural pluralism in Sub Saharan Africa falsely equates the term tribe with ethnicity and obscures the differences between Sub Saharan Africa and other regions It also puts too much emphasis on the role of the colonial state in fostering tribal allegiance This book challenges these claims and offers an alternate way of understanding tribal allegiance in Sub Saharan Africa
