Wetenhall Tillyard, 1947 Inside Paradise Lost David Quint, 2014-02-02 Inside Paradise Lost opens up new readings and ways of reading Milton's epic poem by mapping out the intricacies of its narrative and symbolic designs and by revealing and exploring the deeply allusive texture of its verse David Quint's comprehensive study demonstrates how systematic patterns of allusion and keywords give structure and coherence both to individual books of Paradise Lost and to the overarching relationship among its books and episodes Looking at poems within the poem Quint provides new interpretations as he takes readers through the major subjects of Paradise Lost its relationship to epic tradition and the Bible its cosmology and politics and its dramas of human choice Quint shows how Milton radically revises the epic tradition and the Genesis story itself by arguing that it is better to create than destroy by telling the reader to make love not war and by appearing to ratify Adam's decision to fall and die with his wife The Milton of this Paradise Lost is a Christian humanist who believes in the power and freedom of human moral agency As this indispensable guide and reference takes us inside the poetry of Milton's masterpiece Paradise Lost reveals itself in new formal configurations and unsuspected levels of meaning and design Annual

The notes also summarise and illuminate the vast body of critical attention the poem has attracted, synthesizing the ancient and the modern to provide a comprehensive account both of the poem's development and its reception. Meanwhile, Alastair Fowler's invigorating introduction surveys the whole poem and looks in detail at such matters as Milton's theology, metrical structure and most valuably his complex and imaginary astronomy. The result is an enduring landmark in the field of Milton scholarship and an invaluable guide for readers of all levels.

Milton and This Pendant World George W. Whiting, 2014-11-11. Milton and This Pendant World is an interpretation of the great English poet in an age increasingly skeptical in a culture dominated by the assumptions of the natural and historical sciences and by the illusions of progress and enlightenment. Those are the words of the author of this book, George Wesley Whiting, an eminent and devoted Miltonian. Believing that Milton has a vital message for the modern world, Whiting has abandoned the usual pattern for examining a poet: study of versification, meter and other poetic devices. Instead, he presents an exposition of the spiritual and moral meaning of Milton's poetry, which can still have truth and beauty for this doubting age. The literary image of the pendant world was familiar in Milton's seventeenth century, but is meaningless to most people of our day. The comforting picture of the world hanging from heaven on a golden chain signifies God's close watchfulness over humanity and the inseparable bond which links us to the spiritual kingdom. The author declares that the search for God and the struggle to overcome the spiritual and material forces that impede the search represent the most vital of all human efforts; for unless this search is our primary motivation, life is without meaning without final purpose. Whiting also observes that true Christianity stands not for the impoverishment of humanity and our enslavement to the Deity, but rather for human moral health, harmonious development and spiritual welfare. In order to save civilization from destruction at the hands of its friends, secularists, specialists, militarists and politicians, we must have a renaissance of the spirit, a cultural synthesis in which a revitalized religion, enriched by philosophy and science, renews the ideals of Christianity.

Milton in the Arab-Muslim World Islam Issa, 2016-10-14. The first full-length study of the reception of John Milton's 1608-74 writings in the Arab-Muslim world, this book examines the responses of Arab-Muslim readers to Milton's works and, in particular, to his epic poem Paradise Lost. It contributes to knowledge of the history, development and ways in which early modern writings are read and understood by Muslims. By mapping the literary and more broadly cultural consequences of the censorship, translation and abridgement of Milton's works in the Arab-Muslim world, this book analyses the diverse ways in which Arab Muslims read and understand a range of literary and religious aspects of Milton's writing in light of cultural, theological, socio-political, linguistic and translational issues. After providing an overview of the presence of Milton and his works in the Arab world each chapter sheds light on how cultural and translational issues shape the ways in which Arab Muslim readers perceive and understand the characters and motifs of Paradise Lost Chapters outline the ways in which the figures are currently understood in Milton scholarship before exploring how they fit into the narrative drama and theology of the poem and their position in Islamic creed and Arab Muslim culture Concurrently each chapter examines the poem's subject matter in detail placing particular emphasis on matters of linguistic theological and cultural translation and accommodation Chapter conclusions not only summarise the patterns and potentialities of reception but point towards the practical functions of Arab Muslim responses to Milton's writing and their contribution to the formation of social ideas
