and our continuing return to pragmatism Novak notes for instance how Copley's art mirrors the puritan denial of self found in Jonathan Edwards and how as colonial scientists they share an interest in sensation and observation She sees Winslow Homer and William James as practitioners of a pragmatic self grounded in an immediate experience that looks for concrete results Through such fruitful comparisons whether between Copley and Edwards or Lane and Emerson or Ryder and Dickinson Novak sheds unmatched light on our nation's artistic heritage Wonderfully illustrated with dozens of black and white pictures and sixteen full color plates here is a stunning work that yields a wealth of insight into American art and culture and concludes Novak's landmark trilogy
