Fantastical Savannahs & Jungles Rogue Planet Press, 2019-03-23 several towns of the dead almost forgotten that force the predestined researchers to meet supernatural beings an alternate African like African inspired setting full of fabled treasures unusual colorful fruit whose healing properties are so respected they would easily convince desperate people to take them and many more tales of strange perilous creatures who inhabit interesting and characteristic worlds full of strange plants and trees where experience readiness and personal skills make the difference between life and death

The Geographies of African American Short Fiction Kenton Rambsy, 2022-03-25 Perhaps the brevity of short fiction accounts for the relatively scant attention devoted to it by scholars who have historically concentrated on longer prose narratives The Geographies of African American Short Fiction seeks to fill this gap by analyzing the ways African American short story writers plotted a diverse range of characters across multiple locations small towns a famous metropolis city sidewalks a rural wooded area apartment buildings a pond a general store a prison and more In the process these writers highlighted the extents to which places and spaces shaped or situated racial representations Presenting African American short story writers as cultural cartographers author Kenton Rambsy documents the variety of geographical references within their short stories to show how these authors make cultural spaces integral to their artwork and inscribe their stories with layered and resonant social histories The history of these short stories also documents the circulation of compositions across dozens of literary collections for nearly a century Anthology editors solidified the significance of a core group of short story authors including James Baldwin Toni Cade Bambara Charles Chesnutt Ralph Ellison Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright Using quantitative information and an extensive literary dataset The Geographies of African American Short Fiction explores how editorial practices shaped the canon of African American short fiction

Prose to the People Katie Mitchell, 2025-04-08 A stunning visual homage to Black bookstores featuring a selection of shops around the country alongside essays that celebrate the history community activism and culture these spaces embody with an original foreword by Nikki Giovanni Black literature is perhaps the most powerful polarizing force in the modern American zeitgeist Today as Black novels draw authoritarian ire as Black memoirs shape public debates as Black polemics inspire protest petitions it s more important than ever to highlight the places that center these stories Black bookstores Traversing teeming metropolises and tiny towns Prose to the People explores a these spaces chronicling these Black bookstore s past and present lives Combining narrative prose eye catching photography one on one interviews original essays and specially curated poetry Prose to the People is a reader s road trip companion to the world of Black books Thoughtfully curated by writer and Black bookstore owner Katie Mitchell Prose to the People is a must have addition to the shelves of anyone who loves book culture and Black history Though not a definitive guide this dynamic book centers profiles of over fifty Black bookstores from the Northeast to the mid Atlantic the South and the West Coast complete with stunning original and archival photography Interspersed throughout are essays poems and interviews by New York Times bestsellers Kiese Laymon Rio Cortez Pearl Cleage and many more journalists activists authors academics and poets that offer deeper perspectives on these bookstores role throughout the diaspora Complete with a foreword by world renowned poet and activist Nikki Giovanni Prose to the People is a beautiful tribute to these vital pillars of the Black community

Black Time and the Aesthetic Possibility of Objects Daphne Lamothe, 2024-01-09 The decades following the civil rights and decolonization movements of the sixties and seventies termed the post soul era created new ways to understand the aesthetics of global racial representation Daphne Lamothe shows that beginning around 1980 and continuing to the present day Black literature art and music resisted the pull of singular and universal notions of racial identity Developing the idea of Black aesthetic time a multipronged theoretical concept that analyzes the ways race and time collide in the process of cultural production she assesses Black fiction poetry and visual and musical texts by Paule Marshall Zadie Smith Tracy K Smith Dionne Brand Toyin Ojih Odutola and Stroma among others Lamothe asks how our understanding of Blackness might expand upon viewing racial representation without borders or to use her concept from the permeable supple place of Black aesthetic time Lamothe purposefully focuses on texts told from the vantage point of immigrants migrants and city dwellers to conceptualize Blackness as a global phenomenon without assuming the universality or homogeneity of racialized experience In this new way to analyze Black global art Lamothe foregrounds migratory subjects poised on thresholds between not only old and new worlds but old and new selves

Word, Image, and the New Negro Anne Elizabeth Carroll, 2005 This book focuses on the collaborative illustrated volumes published during the Harlem Renaissance in which African Americans used written and visual texts to shape ideas about themselves and to redefine African American identity Anne Elizabeth Carroll argues that these volumes show how participants in the movement engaged in the processes of representation and identity formation in sophisticated and largely successful ways Though they have received little scholarly attention these volumes constitute an important aspect of the cultural production of the Harlem Renaissance Word Image and the New Negro marks the beginning of a long overdue recovery of this legacy and points the way to a greater understanding of the potential of texts to influence social change Anne Elizabeth Carroll is Assistant Professor of English at Wichita State University

The Souls of Mixed Folk Michele Elam, 2011-02-21 The Souls of Mixed Folk examines representations of mixed race in literature and the arts that redefine new millennial aesthetics and politics Focusing on black white mixes Elam analyzes expressive works novels drama graphic narrative late night television art installations as artistic rejoinders to the perception that post Civil Rights politics are bereft and post Black art is apolitical Reorienting attention to the cultural invention of mixed race from the social sciences to the humanities Elam considers the creative work of Lezley Saar Aaron McGruder Nate Creekmore Danzy Senna Colson Whitehead Emily Raboteau Carl Hancock Rux and Dave Chappelle All these writers and artists address mixed race as both an aesthetic challenge and a social concern and together they gesture toward a poetics of social justice for the mulatto millennium The Souls of Mixed Folk seeks a middle way between competing hagiographic and apocalyptic impulses in mixed race scholarship between those who proselytize mixed race as the great hallelujah to the race problem and those who can only hear the alarmist bells of civil rights destruction Both approaches can obscure some of the more critically astute engagements with new millennial iterations of mixed race by the multi generic cohort of contemporary writers artists and performers discussed in this book The Souls of Mixed Folk offers case studies of their creative work in an effort to expand the contemporary idiom about mixed race in the so called post race moment asking how might new millennial expressive forms suggest an aesthetics of mixed race And how might such an aesthetics productively reimagine the relations between race art and social equity in the twenty first century
