Human Rights and Migrant Domestic Work Maria Deanna P. Santos,2005-09-01 On a general level this research project concerns ways in which the domestic and international laws relating to the situation of migrant domestic workers MDWs are shaped by broader socio political and economic factors More specifically this dissertation examines the human rights situation of Filipina MDWs who participate in Canada s Live in Caregiver Program LCP It attempts to meet these objectives in part by undertaking a limited comparison of the situation of these Filipina MDWs and the Filipina MDWs in Hong Kong The comparison is meant to further test and validate the arguments and proposals presented in this dissertation regarding the socio legal status of Filipina MDWs under Canada s LCP This is done through an analysis of existing data on Filipina MDWs and a consideration of the ways in which the relevant laws and policies in these two jurisdictions affect create and or perpetrate the status quo in this area of social life The main explanatory theoretical framework that is deployed is the Third World Approaches to International Law the TWAIL theory

The University of Learning John Bowden,Ference Marton,2003-12-18 Universities are rarely structured to facilitate learning and when they are it is often done so in a limited way This book looks at the theory and practice of learning and how universities can improve their quality and competence It tackles the past failure of the quality and competence movements and advocates a move towards Universities of Learning The authors advocate an integration of elements that are often dealt with separately theory and practice teaching and research and the levels of institution and individual and handle these dimensions of integration in conjunction with each other This new paperback edition will be essential reading for all those who are concerned with improving learning in higher education It includes an updated preface that takes account of developments since the publication of the hardback edition

Routledge Revivals: Language, Education and Society Series Various Authors,2022-07-30 First published between 1985 and 1987 this set of books attempts to tackle some of the complex issues implied by the title Language Education and Society For example how is language related to learning Or to intelligence Do regional and social accents and dialects matter What is meant by standard English Do immigrant children require special language provision Why are there so many adult illiterates in Britain and the USA Although the importance of language to education is agreed there is still a lot to learn about how language is related to either to educational success or to intelligence and thinking both fields to which this collection contributes valuable research Some of the specific topics the covered by the wide ranging and insightful research contained in this series include an analysis of the school teaching of mathematics from the perspective of mathematics as a language principally how the processes of communication in a maths classroom are shaped by school conventions and the fact that it is mathematics under discussion an examination of the changing patterns in English usage and style especially written usage focusing on questions of syntax and punctuation and how this relates to speech and the value of usage as a social act an exploration of the history and impact of mass literacy on industrialised societies how this differs from traditional oral culture and the effect of a culture where most people rely on complex combinations of oral and literate communication on a sizable sub literate minority an investigation into which languages are in widespread use among children and adults in England the patterns of language use in different social contexts the teaching of community languages inside and outside of mainstream schools and the educational implications of this linguistic diversity for all children This set will be of interest to educational researchers sociologists and students of sociolinguistics

Local Ownership and Security Sector Reform Timothy Donais, 2008 The notion of local ownership has emerged in recent years as part of the contemporary commonsense of security sector reform SSR While the argument that externally driven reform processes are unsustainable is now widely accepted the principle of local ownership has proven difficult to both define and operationalise With contributions by leading practitioners both insiders and outsiders Local Ownership and Security Sector Reform subjects the broader issue of local ownership to critical scrutiny furthers the debate on what local ownership is and why it matters and explores how ownership issues have played out in the context of specific SSR case studies

Insurance Risk Management and Reinsurance Guillaume Gorge, 2016 Risk being its raw material insurance has developed various techniques of valuation and risk transfer Nowadays these techniques and first of all reinsurance the favourite way of transferring risk are entirely reassessed considering the development of Corporate Finance theory Therefore the approach retained here originally for the actuarial course at Ensaie Paris may surprise some readers and students as it proposes an extended view of risk We cover not only the mathematical aspects of Risk Management but also other fields relevant for Risk Management from economy or finance We aim here at making bridges between all these fields through practical application to cat and life risk management

Managing Uncertainties in Networks Johannes Franciscus Maria Koppenjan, Erik-Hans Klijn, 2004 Despite sophisticated technology and knowledge the strategic networks and games required to solve uncertainties becomes more complex and more important than ever before

The Outsiders Sugata Marjit, Saibal Kar, 2011-01-19 The informal economy is a dynamic active and hotly debated domain in the developing world Unfortunately it remains one of the most ignored areas in mainstream economic theory and development economics In this book Marjit and Kar provide a detailed theoretical overview and analytical understanding of informal labour markets in the context of economic reforms Grounded in the neo classical general equilibrium framework the book analyses the impact of deregulatory policies on the welfare of informal workers in a segmented labour market It discusses how informal wage responds to unemployment in the formal sector by exploring the interactions between the formal and the informal labour markets The authors also examine institutional factors political economic and governance mechanisms to explore the major causes that sustain or impede the dynamism of informal labour markets They offer empirical applications using official data sources and micro level case studies of informal activities in West Bengal Maharashtra and Gujarat Religion, Science, and Empire Peter Gottschalk, 2013 Peter Gottschalk offers a compelling study of how through the British implementation of scientific taxonomy in the subcontinent Britons and Indians identified an inherent divide between mutually antagonistic religious communities England's ascent to power coincided with the rise of empirical science as an authoritative way of knowing not only the natural world but the human one as well The British scientific passion for classification combined with the Christian impulse to differentiate people according to religion led to a designation of Indians as either Hindu or Muslim according to rigidly defined criteria that paralleled classification in botanical and zoological taxonomies Through an historical and ethnographic study of the north Indian village of Chainpur Gottschalk shows that the Britons presumed categories did not necessarily reflect the Indians concepts of their own identities though many Indians came to embrace this scientism and gradually accepted the categories the British instituted through projects like the Census of India the Archaeological Survey of India and the India Museum Today's propagators of Hindu Muslim violence often cite scientific formulations of difference that descend directly from the categories introduced by imperial Britain Religion Science and Empire will be a valuable resource to anyone interested in the colonial and postcolonial history of religion in India Applied Ethnography Pertti J Peltto, 2016-06-16 This comprehensive engaging guide to applied research distills the expertise of the distinguished ethnographer and methodologist Pertti Peltto over his acclaimed 50 year career Having written the first major text promoting mixed qualitative and quantitative methods in applied ethnography in the 1970s Peltto now synthesizes decades of innovation including examples from around the world that illustrate how specific methods yield immediate results for addressing social problems Ideal for researchers students training programs and technical assistance projects this thorough text covers the key topics and skills required gaining entry recording and organizing field data a host of specialized techniques integrating qualitative and quantitative methods building and training research teams rapid assessment and focused ethnographic studies short and long term ethnography writing up results non Western perspectives on research and more Migration, Homeland, and Belonging in Eurasia Cynthia J. Buckley, Blair A. Ruble, Erin Trough Hofmann, 2008-09-09 Migration a force throughout the world has special meanings in the former Soviet lands Soviet successor countries each with strong ethnic associations have pushed some racial groups out and pulled others back home Forcible relocations of the Stalin era were reversed and areas previously closed for security reasons were opened to newcomers These countries represent a fascinating mix of the motivations and achievements of migration in Russia and Central Asia Migration Homeland and Belonging in Eurasia examines patterns of migration and sheds new light on government interests migrant motivations historical precedents and community identities The contributors come from a variety of disciplines political science sociology history and geography Initial chapters offer overall assessments of contemporary migration debates in the region Subsequent chapters feature individual case studies that highlight continuity and change in migration debates in imperial and Soviet periods Several chapters treat specific topics in Central Eurasia and the Far East such as the movement of ethnic Kazakhs from Mongolia to Kazakhstan and the continuing attractiveness to migrants of supposedly uneconomical cities in Siberia
