Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more As HIV

AIDS emerged as a public health crisis of significant proportions across sub-Saharan Africa it became the subject of local and international interest that was at once prurient benevolent and interventionist Meanwhile the experience of Africans living with HIV/AIDS became an object of aesthetic representation in multiple genres produced by Africans themselves These cultural representations engaged public discourse the public policy pronouncements of officials of postcolonial states an emerging global NGO speak and journalism In Pandemic Genres Neville Hoad investigates how cultural production novels poems films around the pandemic supplemented public discourse He shows that the long historical imaginaries of race empire and sex in Botswana Kenya and South Africa underwrote all attempts to bring the pandemic into public representation Attention to genres that stage themselves as imaginary particularly on the terrain of feeling may forecast

Multinationals, Poverty Alleviation and UK Aid Jo-Anna Russon, 2023-10-12 This book analyses the complex relationship between the private sector UK official development assistance ODA and poverty alleviation in sub-Saharan Africa In recent years the private sector has occupied an increasingly prominent position within UK ODA bringing a range of opportunities and conflicting interests This book first traces the trajectory of private sector engagement in ODA before setting out the theoretical and analytical framework for analysing the mutual prosperity agenda in UK ODA the notion that ODA can benefit both donor and beneficiary country interests By extending corporate social responsibility theory in the emerging field of business and development studies to ODA the book critiques the underlying assumptions contained within UK ODA multinational corporation partnerships With reference to three case studies GlaxoSmithKline plc Barclays plc and Anheuser Busch InBev formerly SABMiller the book identifies where the activities of multinational corporations support and or undermine ODA goals and the implications for the UK's mutual prosperity agenda Overall the book reflects a pragmatic approach to maximising the role of private sector actors in ODA whilst also drawing attention to the opportunities and challenges in the mutual prosperity agenda The book will be of interest to researchers from business management development studies and political science as well as to practitioners with an interest in the role of the private sector in ODA

Department for International Development's Annual Report and Accounts 2011-12 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: International Development Committee, 2013-01-31 About two thirds of DFID's expenditure in 2011-12 including nearly 40% of its bilateral spending went through multilateral organisations even though they have higher administrative costs This represents a major change in recent years and has been accompanied by a decline in direct aid to recipient Governments DFID argues that the change is not a reflection of its need to spend money quickly but a result of the reduced need for budget support in countries with rising tax bases and improved financial management as well as its focus on fragile states The DFID needs to ensure that it has thoroughly examined other options such as greater use of local NGOs and sector budget support DFID has switched expenditure from low income to middle income countries in part because several countries with a large number of poor people have recently graduated to middle income status Policy towards middle income countries varies and DFID needs establish and make public the criteria it will use to inform decisions of when and how it should cease to provide aid DFID should also consider establishing a Development Bank that could offer concessional loans alongside grant aid and would free from the constraint of having to ensure that cash was spent by the end of the financial year Staffing also may still not be sufficient to oversee the huge expenditure of UK taxpayers money undertaken by multilaterals MPs remain concerned that DFID's has ended its bilateral programme in one of the world's poorest countries Burundi and is urging the new Secretary of State to re-instate it Facing West David R. Fraternity spoke out against the American Church fiery speeches by Ecuadorian Ren Padilla and Peruvian Samuel Escobar revealed a global weariness with what they described as an American style of coldly efficient mission wedded to myopic right leaning politics Their bold critiques electrified Christians from around the world The dramatic growth of Christianity around the world in the last century has shifted the balance of power within the faith away from the traditional strongholds of Europe and the United States to the Global South To be sure Western missionaries have carried religion abroad but the line of influence has often run the other way David R Swartz demonstrates that evangelicals in the Global South spoke frankly to American evangelicals on matters of race imperialism theology sexuality and social justice From the left they have pushed for racial egalitarianism ecumenism and more substantial development efforts From the right they have advocated for a conservative sexual ethic They forced American Christians to think more critically about their own assumptions The United States is just one node of a sprawling global network that includes Korea India Switzerland the Philippines Guatemala Uganda and Thailand Telling stories of the diverse array of evangelicals around the world Swartz shows that evangelical networks don't only extend outward but back home from the ends of the earth The New York Times Index ,2007 The 2010 Millennium Development Goals Review summit Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: International Development Committee,2010-12-19 In 2000 world leaders established the Millennium Development Goals MDGs a set of global targets seeking to reduce poverty and promote development The Department for International Development DFID has made the MDGs a central strategic objective There has been notable progress towards reaching several Goals including those focusing on child mortality and primary education However the Goals seeking improved gender equality and maternal health amongst others are seriously off track This report focuses on a UN Summit 20-22 September 2010 held to review progress achieving MDGs five years before the 2015 deadline Achievement of the Goals depends on two factors namely it is vital that both donor and developing countries fulfil their promises there are a number of off track goals demonstrates that much greater commitment is needed by a number of developing country governments Secondly multilateral organisations notably the UN must work as efficiently as possible to support improved health education and other basic services in developing countries The DFID must continue to press for better co ordination and the amount of funding it provides should be related to success in achieving improvements The DFID should also engage in planning for a new international framework to replace the MDGs after 2015 A review of the effectiveness of the MDGs should be carried out to assess whether this framework represents the best approach to facilitating development before a new set of targets is agreed for the post 2015 framework This new framework should include a greater focus on reaching the most vulnerable people and the very poorest giving higher priority to climate change biodiversity and the environment and addressing population growth Africa Research Bulletin ,2006 Where Credit is Due Gregory Smith,2021-09-15 Borrowing is a crucial source of financing for governments all over the world If they get it wrong then debt crises can bring progress to a halt But if it's done right investment happens and conditions improve African countries are seeking calmer capital to raise living standards and give their economies a competitive edge The African debt landscape has changed radically in the first two decades of the twenty first century Since the clean slate of extensive debt relief states have sought new borrowing opportunities from international capital markets and emerging global powers like China The new debt composition has increased risk exacerbated by the coronavirus pandemic richer countries borrowed at rock bottom interest rates while Africa faced an expensive jump in indebtedness The escalating debt burden has provoked calls by the G20 for suspension of debt payments But Africa s debt today is highly complex and owed to a wider range of lenders A new approach is needed and could turn crisis into opportunity Urgent action by both lenders and borrowers can reduce risk while carefully preserving market access and smart deployment of private finance can provide the scale of investment needed to achieve development goals and tackle the climate emergency African Business ,2008
