Works like a Charm Robert O. McDonald,2023-08-01 Works like a Charm addresses a simple question Why are incentives everywhere now From inducements to work harder at our jobs to tax rebates for corporations incentive names a general theory of motivation according to economists we are incentive driven creatures Yet far from being a neutral generalization this understanding of human behavior smuggles in a quintessentially economic way of seeing the world Works like a Charm applies Jacques Lacan s psychoanalytic concept of retroactive causality to explain the metastasis of the language and logic of incentives To discover an incentive is to place in the untouchable past an economic cause for a contextual historical force Tracing incentive from its roots in antiquity to its uptake by neoclassical and then Chicago school economists Robert O McDonald diagnoses the spread of incentives across the social cultural and political field and warns readers of the dangers of handing over causality to the economists

Social Economics: Retrospect and Prospect Mark A. Lutz,2012-12-06 At the very heart of the conception of the present volume lies the conviction that social economics is a highly pluralistic discipline inspired and enriched by several often radically different world views Schumpeterian visions and at times even quite antagonistic social doctrines Yet in spite of all these differences social economists can nevertheless be seen and also approached as some kind of economic brotherhood for various reasons dissatisfied with the austere value free diet offered by the positivistic neoclassical paradigm What all social economists seem to have in common is a profound interest in values and the process of valuation in order to more fully understand both economic behavior and the possibilities of improving the economic system Such a distinguishing characteristic is also well articulated and enshrined in Article I of the Constitution of the Association of Social Economics where we are told that the aims and objectives of the Association shall be 1 To foster research and publication centered on the reciprocal relationship between economic science and broader questions of human dignity ethical values and social philosophy and to encourage the efforts of all scholars who are dedicated to exploring the ethical presuppositions and implications of economic science 2 To consider the personal and social dimensions of economic problems and to assist in the formulation of economic policies consistent with a concern for ethical values and pluralistic community and the demands of personal dignity
