The Peruvian Experiment Reconsidered Cynthia McClintock, Abraham F. Lowenthal, 2015-03-08 Peru's self proclaimed revolution surprisingly extensive reforms initiated by the military government has aroused great interest all over Latin America and the Third World This book is the first systematic and comprehensive attempt to appraise Peru's current experiment in both national and regional perspective It compares recent innovative approaches to Peru's problems with the methods used by earlier regimes providing original and stimulating interpretations of contemporary Peru from the viewpoints of political science sociology history economics and education Among the issues considered are the military regime's policies regarding income distribution foreign investment education urbanization worker management relations and land reform Contributors Abraham F Lowenthal Julio Cotler Richard Webb David Collier Susan Bourque and Scott Palmer Colin Harding Robert Drysdale and Robert Myers Shane Hunt Peter T Knight Jane Jaquette Originally published in 1976 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Peasant Cooperation and Capitalist Expansion in Central Peru Norman Long, Bryan R. Roberts, 2014-11-06 This book brings together the research into regional development and social change carried out in highland Peru by a team of British and Latin American social anthropologists and sociologists The area studied the Mantaro Valley of central Peru is one of the most densely populated and economically differentiated of highland zones it is also notable for its community based forms of cooperation and its high level of peasant political activity The book presents a series of case studies that examine cooperative forms of organization in relation to developments in the regional economy and to changes in national policy The analysis attempts to avoid interpreting local processes merely as responses to externally initiated change It stresses instead the need to consider the interplay of local and national forces because local groups and processes themselves affect the pattern of regional and national development

The case studies cover a range of political and economic topics from peasant movements to the achievements and shortcomings of government sponsored agricultural and manufacturing cooperatives The concluding chapter by the editors explores the theoretical implications of these studies

Ugly Stories of the Peruvian Agrarian Reform Enrique Mayer, 2009-10-30 Uses oral histories to analyze Peruvian agrarian reform carried out by the left leaning military government of Juan Velasco Alvarado between 1969 and 1999 highlighting struggles to dismantle models of social experimentation after disillusion with the fai

Peruvian Nationalism David Chaplin, 1976-01-01 Peru is the most interesting model of justice and development in Latin America today To ana lyze the sociopolitical progress of this nation David Chaplin has gathered together and edited this interdisciplinary collection of essays Peru s development is unique for several rea sons First it has shown that a military force that was trained largely by the United States can em ploy its professional expertise not to remain a well behaved ally but to pull off a genuinely radi cal nationalist revolution even at the expense of various interests of its benefactor Second Peru has proven that successful economic de velopment need be neither capitalist nor Social ist Peruvian Nationalism contains major papers by leading Peruvianists on the 1960s and on the current revolutionary military regime The tem poral focus is on the current post 1968 revolu tionary military government with background material covering the early 1960s Contributors are all social scientists including American Italian and Peruvian writers who have carried outfield research in Peru The primary focus of this volume is the radical change being carried out by the current military structure Relevant background topics include Peru s sociopolitical structure during the 1960s especially under the Belaunde regime with par ticular attention to peasant movements and agrarian reform a reassessment of the pre 1968 golpe coup de etat behavior of former military governments an analysis of the uniquely radical ideology and concrete reforms of the current mil itary government This social science reader on Peru is a schol arly as well as sympathetic treatment of Peru s national and local politics social structure agrarian and tax reform and peasant move ments The editor has provided an extensive in troduction and index and has also included a thorough bibliography of publications on Peru since 1960

Peasants on Plantations Vincent C. Peloso, 1999 An account of the way social relations governing the production of cotton in Peru s South Coast changed as capitalism penetrated Peru s agrarian base the analysis is unusual in that the author looks at the plantation system from a peasant poi

Contesting Citizenship in Latin America Deborah J. Yashar, 2005-03-07 Indigenous people in Latin America have mobilized in unprecedented ways

demanding recognition equal protection and subnational autonomy These are remarkable developments in a region where ethnic cleavages were once universally described as weak Recently however indigenous activists and elected officials have increasingly shaped national political deliberations Deborah Yashar explains the contemporary and uneven emergence of Latin American indigenous movements addressing both why indigenous identities have become politically salient in the contemporary period and why they have translated into significant political organizations in some places and not others She argues that ethnic politics can best be explained through a comparative historical approach that analyzes three factors changing citizenship regimes social networks and political associational space Her argument provides insight into the fragility and unevenness of Latin America's third wave democracies and has broader implications for the ways in which we theorize the relationship between citizenship states identity and social action

The Politics of Workers' Participation Evelyn Huber Stephens, 2013-10-22 The Politics of Workers' Participation The Peruvian Approach in Comparative Perspective presents a comparative analysis of the development of workers' participation in a variety of politico-economic systems in Peru to other countries in the world The text focuses on the details of workers' participation in politics and enterprise empirical evidence substantiating that workers' participation is an issue of fundamental political conflict and the social forces that promote and oppose workers' participation as part of a transition to a new social order Political scientists economists sociologists and students will find the book invaluable
