

Developing Comprehension Strategies

Differing text types may require the use of different comprehension strategies. These may include:

- using prior knowledge

- predicting

- questioning

- visualising

- prioritising

- self monitoring (re reading, checking new vocabulary)

- summarising

Task: In groups select a text (from the materials provided) and discuss which comprehension strategies would support a young student reading this text.

Create some literal, interpretive and inferential questions that would assist you in gauging a child's understanding of this text.

Strategies To Develop Inferential Comprehension:

Understanding and Teaching Reading Emerald Dechant, 2013-09-13 In the words of Aldous Huxley Every man who knows how to read has it in his power to magnify himself to multiply the ways in which he exists to make his life full significant and interesting Few people question the value of reading in fact most extol its virtues As our culture becomes more complex reading plays an increasingly greater role in satisfying personal needs and in promoting social awareness and growth In the last 20 years the teaching of this invaluable skill has focused so intensely on comprehension and prediction from context that it has lost sight of the significance of automaticity and fluency in the word identification process Reading is a synthesis of word recognition and comprehension thus this text is about these basic processes and their integration A common plea from teachers today is that research and psychology be translated into teaching behavior Therefore the aim of this book is twofold one to identify report organize and discuss those bits of data research and theory that are most relevant to the teacher's understanding of the reading process and two to help educators to interpret and apply theory and research data to everyday classroom teaching as well as to the problems encountered frequently in developmental and remedial teaching Teaching and Learning Chinese as a Foreign or Second Language: The Educational Psychology Perspective Yang Frank Gong, Chun Lai, Jinghe Han, Chan Lu, Sihui Echo Ke, 2024-02-21 Over the past two decades Chinese as a foreign or second language CFL CSL has been increasingly taught and learnt as an important language both within and outside China Studies in the field have attempted to address deep seated tensions between existing educational ideologies concepts strategies and approaches and student learning process and performance and between existent teaching methods and techniques and the globalization of Chinese language education Handbook of Research on Teaching in Multicultural and Multilingual Contexts Charamba, Erasmios, 2022-06-24 Several factors have resulted in increased intra and inter state migration This has led to an increase in the enrollment of students with diverse linguistics backgrounds placing more academic demands on educators Linguistic diversity presents both opportunities and challenges for educators across the educational spectrum Language ideologies profoundly shape and constrain the use of language as a resource for learning in multilingual or linguistically diverse classrooms While English has become the world language most communities remain and are becoming more and more multicultural multilingual and diverse The Handbook of Research on Teaching in Multicultural and Multilingual Contexts moves beyond the constraints of current language ideologies and enables the use of a wide range of resources from local semiotic repertoires It examines the phenomenon of language use language teaching multiculturalism and multilingualism in different learning areas giving practitioners a voice to spotlight their efforts in order to keep their teaching afloat in culturally and linguistically diverse situations Covering topics such as Indigenous languages multilingual deaf communities and intercultural competence this major reference work is an essential resource for educators of both K 12 and higher education pre service teachers educational psychologists linguists education administrators and policymakers
