

A romantic couple is shown in a close embrace on a beach. The man, with short brown hair and a beard, is wearing a green button-down shirt and has his hands on the woman's face and neck. The woman, with blonde wavy hair, is wearing a blue denim shirt and is looking up at him. They are about to kiss. The background shows a sandy beach, the ocean, and some houses in the distance under a bright sky.

Safe Haven By Nicolas Sparks Grand Central October 3 :

The Publishers Weekly ,1891 Publishing Richard Guthrie,2011-09-13 This is an indispensable and highly readable study of the publishing industry past present and future For students and professionals in publishing it provides an authoritative up to date and reliable account of their complex and rapidly changing industry For those interested more broadly in the role the creative industries play in the modern world this is a fine introduction It is to be highly recommended Iain Stevenson Director UCL Centre for Publishing At last a readable authoritative and comprehensive book for students readers and practitioners in print and digital publishing The book guides the reader through the history of publishing and the main issues facing the industry today Among these are Legal conundrums Cultural conflicts Trade practices Publishing within and across sectors Editorial requirements The challenge of electronic publishing Making your ideas count in print Rationalization and the growth of corporate publishing cultures The result is an exciting one stop guide written with real flair and aplomb Packed with helpful real world examples and illustrative interviews this practical resource leaves no stone of the publishing industry unturned The Last Mixtape Seth Long,2025-07-16 A reflection on the evolution of physical media into metaphor through the history of music curation Obsolescence makes the heart grow fonder at least in the case of the mixtape Not all technologies are so lucky Some say wax cylinders fade almost completely from cultural memory A lucky few pass into metaphor we still hang up our smartphones cut film and patch computer code As digital streaming completes the obsolescence of physical media what will become of the humble cassette In The Last Mixtape Seth Long offers a microhistory of music curation anchored by the cassette from which he explores the meanings of obsolescence ownership nostalgia and the speed of cultural change A moving meditation on our relationship with music memory and curation in the digital century Long ultimately calls for a return to the media ecology represented by the mixtape a world in which media is cheap and abundant but tactile and meaningfully engaged Social Crisis Preaching Tyshawn Gardner,2023-02-01 This book provides a theology for social crisis preaching by arguing that Christian proclamation is the best prescription for the social crises in our world Social Crisis Preaching positions the pastor as a sacred anthropologist one who is aware of both the crises in one's community but also as one who has a firm understanding of the people in the pews It also equips the preacher with both the hermeneutical and homiletical tools to confront social crisis with biblical integrity Lastly this book argues that social crisis preaching develops Christians disciples and congregations as those who care about and confront the social crisis in their neighbor's community following the biblical mandate to love your neighbor as yourself New York Magazine ,1993-09-13 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Quill &

Quire ,2008 Remaking Wormsloe Plantation Drew A. Swanson,2012-04 Why do we preserve certain landscapes while developing others without restraint Drew A Swanson s in depth look at Wormsloe plantation located on the salt marshes outside of Savannah Georgia explores that question while revealing the broad historical forces that have shaped the lowcountry South Wormsloe is one of the most historic and ecologically significant stretches of the Georgia coast It has remained in the hands of one family from 1736 when Georgia s Trustees granted it to Noble Jones through the 1970s when much of Wormsloe was ceded to Georgia for the creation of a state historic site It has served as a guard post against aggression from Spanish Florida a node in an emerging cotton economy connected to far flung places like Lancashire and India a retreat for pleasure and leisure and a carefully maintained historic site and green space Like many lowcountry places Wormsloe is inextricably tied to regional national and global environments and is the product of transatlantic exchanges Swanson argues that while visitors to Wormsloe value what they perceive to be an authentic undisturbed place this landscape is actually the product of aggressive management over generations He also finds that Wormsloe is an ideal place to get at hidden stories such as African American environmental and agricultural knowledge conceptions of health and disease the relationship between manual labor and views of nature and the ties between historic preservation and natural resource conservation Remaking Wormsloe Plantation connects this distinct Georgia place to the broader world adding depth and nuance to the understanding of our own conceptions of nature and history Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office ,1882 New York Magazine ,1990-10-08 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Annual Report of the Commissioner of Patents United States.
