S S C Vocational 2014:

Vocational Education and Training in Times of Economic Crisis Matthias Pilz, 2016-12-20 This book brings together a broad range of approaches and methodologies relevant to international comparative vocational education and training VET Revealing how youth in transition is affected by economic crises it provides essential insights into the strengths and weaknesses of the various systems and prospects of VET in contexts ranging from North America to Europe e g Spain Germany or the UK to Asia such as China Thailand and India Though each country examined in this volume is affected by the economic crisis in a different way the effects are especially apparent for the young generation In many countries the youth unemployment rate is still very high and the job perspectives for young people are often limited at best The contributions in this volume demonstrate that VET alone cannot solve these problems but can be used to support a smooth transition from school to work If the quality of VET is high and the status and job expectations are good VET can help to fill the skills gap especially at the intermediate skill level Furthermore VET can also offer a realistic alternative to the university track for young people in many countries

the originality of its question papers and Errorless Solutions How the Private Sector Develops Skills: Lessons from Turkey United Nations Development Programme Istanbul International Center for Private Sector in Development (UNDP IICPSD),2015-03-01 Despite its vital role in development to increase access to sustainable income skills training has been experiencing severe problems worldwide such as lack of physical legal and educational infrastructure absence of a win win based cooperation between the private sector and vocational education and training agencies as well as matters of financing The state and development agencies on their own are limited in their capacity to tackle these problems It is difficult to close the gap between the supply of labour and the demands of the market which exacerbates the exclusion of the base of the pyramid from the economy especially in a globalizing world where the technological requirements are changing rapidly Private sector on the other hand has significant potential to address the deficiencies in skills development and bridge the gap between what the labour force has to offer and what the industry demands The companies can contribute to the skills training process which in turn can provide the required skilled employees for the market and offer employment opportunities particularly to the disadvantaged Private sector will not only help to improve national competitiveness and realize an increase in its profitability due to the availability of a better trained staff but also improve the inclusiveness of the market The publication is intended to be a first step towards generating knowledge on the role of private sector in skills generation for increased inclusiveness and employability It includes several case studies from Turkey in which the private sector has created significant added value through private sector led or PPP models of skills design and delivery It elaborates on the lessons learned from these cases to pave the way for further action and research on how business actors can contribute to skills development especially for the disadvantaged The publication will lead to further research products and reports and eventually toolkits on how to mobilize and engage the private sector in skills generation for better development results Workshops will be organized for the private sector governments and other relevant stakeholders based on these toolkits to facilitate knowledge sharing and encourage innovation SSC Quantitative Aptitude Chapter Wise Note Book |

This is at the centre of a skills business ecosystem in India through which all players interact to produce a positive productive system to skill millions. Momentum for the skills development movement comes not only from the urgent need to provide livelihoods for youth but also from the need to act before a window of opportunity closes. The youth bulge in India's population is poised to deliver a demographic dividend, a transformational boost in economic productivity associated with growing numbers in the workforce relative to dependents. Only through investing in up to date education, health and decent work for youth can India harness this dividend. India requires skills to sustain its rapid economic growth, to integrate its large working age population into the economy in an inclusive and sustainable manner and ultimately India needs skills in order to become a global supplier of human resources. This study focuses on 12 skills delivery initiatives led by the private sector and carried out to support the national skills mission of the Government of India. The objective of this study is to generate lessons from India's experience in skilling, namely to identify and analyse impactful business models and their practices and innovations to highlight challenges and to provide insights on how the private sector could contribute even more to skills acquisition and employability.
