

Experiment 26

Reflection and Refraction

Advanced Reading:

(Serway) Chapter 35, sections 35-4, 35-5 & 35-8.

Equipment:

1 Plexi-Ray set (includes plane mirror, plastic prism, pins)
1 cork board
1 protractor
1 30 cm ruler

Objective:

The object of this experiment is to study the laws of reflection and refraction.

Theory:

The Law of Reflection states that the angle of incident ray equals the angle of the reflected ray, or  $\theta_i = \theta_r$ .

The Law of Refraction (Snell's Law) relates how a ray of light will behave when passing from one media to the other. It is given by:

$$n_1 \sin \theta_i = n_2 \sin \theta_r$$

where  $n_1$  and  $n_2$  are the indices of refraction for the two different media. Figures 23-2 and 23-3 (note- figure labeling is off, but correct) state these two laws pictorially.

Procedure:

Part 1: Reflection

1. Draw a line approximately 20 cm long at the center of a sheet of clean, white paper. This will be the baseline. Draw another line normal (normal =  $90^\circ$ ) to the first line using the protractor. Place the plane mirror into the slots of the little pieces of cork in the Plexi-Ray kit so that it will stand-up. Next, place the mirror so that the back (the reflecting surface) is on the first line.

2. Draw a ray on the left side of the normal line as you face the mirror that is at least 20 cm long from the point where the normal line joins the baseline. Stick two pins vertically on the line, one approximately 20 cm and the other at approximately 10 cm from the mirror along the line. Label these
