Guidelines for the Treatment of Alcohol Problems Paul S. Haber, Benjamin C. Riordan, 2021-04-01 The Australian Guidelines for the Treatment of Alcohol Problems have been periodically developed over the past 25 years In 1993 the first version of these guidelines titled An outline for the management of alcohol problems Quality assurance in the treatment of drug dependence project was published Mattick Haber et al 2009 The present version of the Guidelines was also commissioned by the Commonwealth of Australia to remain current and integrated with the updated NHMRC consumption guidelines 2020 In order to ensure that guidelines remain relevant the next set of guidelines should be updated in 2025 consistent with NHMRC recommendation that guidelines be updated every five years These guidelines aim to provide up to date evidence based information to clinicians on available treatments for people with alcohol problems and are largely directed towards individual clinicians in practice such as primary care physicians general practitioners nursing staff specialist medical practitioners psychologists and other counsellors and other health professionals Some chapters highlight service or system level issues that impact on clinicians and their patients These include recommendations concerning Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples culturally and linguistically diverse groups stigma and discrimination Elsewhere organisation capacity is implied such as medical resources for withdrawal management where recommendations indicate use of medications As all forms of treatment will not be readily available or suitable for all populations or settings these guidelines may require interpretation and adaptation

International Handbook of Cognitive and Behavioural Treatments for Psychological Disorders V.E.

Caballo,1998-11-27 This handbook shows the wide perspective cognitive behavioural treatment can offer to health professionals the vast majority of whom now recognize that cognitive behavioural procedures are very useful in treating many mental disorders even if certain disciplines continue to favour other kinds of treatment This book offers a wide range of structured programmes for the treatment of various psychological psychiatric disorders as classified by the DSM IV The layout will be familiar to the majority of health professionals in the description of mental disorders and their later treatment It is divided into seven sections covering anxiety disorders sexual disorders dissociative somatoform impulse control disorders emotional disorders and psychotic and organic disorders Throughout the twenty three chapters this book offers the health professional a structured guide with which to start tackling a whole series of mental disorders and offers pointers as to where to find more detailed information The programmes outlined should it is hoped prove more effective than previous approaches with lower economic costs and time investment for the patient and therapist
