improve functional abilities The other aspect is the neuroplasticity mechanism which leads to cortical map reorganisation The patient is able to re use the same body segments in the same way as they did before the stroke Published studies generally reported improvement in upper limb function lower limb function balance and gait This leads to the uncertainty whether these technologies are effective in promoting recovery at neural level or functional level With the advance in technology monitoring techniques such as neural imaging motion analysis and EMGs devices have broad applications in the understanding of neural recovery post stroke Studies that utilize functional outcome measures or observational design may be more effective in identifying functional recovery A combination of the two designs may be helpful to provide new insights on the recovery mechanism induced by rehabilitation devices
