Save Lives or Save the Rhetoric? David H. Goldenberg, 2021-01-28 Save Lives or Save the Rhetoric is for those who think for themselves and follow the logic and the evidence wherever it leads It offers an alternative to believing what others tell us through the media the pundits the politicians and all those partisans who benefit from their particular narratives Whether we know it or not we are inundated with rhetoric that is based on the numerous forms of flawed reasoning and fallacies which are discussed in this book The first step is to develop the skills needed to distinguish between rhetorical claims and evidence based claims This book provides a method to accomplish that David H Goldenberg presents and shows how to debug many currently relevant real world examples Innovative discussion questions provide the reader an opportunity to practice and be actively involved This book is not about taking positions but about learning how to analyze and assess them using logic evidence data analysis and economics not confirmation bias Hopefully the reader will resist the rhetoric with its reductionism and polarization by depoliticizing their approach to this book s intent and content The goal of the examples theory case studies economics statistics historical documents and data analysis offered in Save Lives or Save the Rhetoric is to provide citizens with an informed approach to examining and evaluating the issues the rhetoric and the evidence in order to ultimately make their own informed decisions The second part of the book delves into concepts and methods that any intelligent citizen may apply in order to make informed decisions about policy proposals The objective throughout is pedagogy not partisanship to help the reader better understand current events better identify the rhetoric in partisan debates and better evaluate public policy

Gödel's Disjunction Leon Horsten, Philip Welch, 2016 The logician Kurt Gödel in 1951 established a disjunctive thesis about the scope and limits of mathematical knowledge either the mathematical mind is not equivalent to a Turing machine i e a computer or there are absolutely undecidable mathematical problems In the second half of the twentieth century attempts have been made to arrive at a stronger conclusion In particular arguments have been produced by the philosopher J R Lucas and by the physicist and mathematician Roger Penrose that intend to show that the mathematical mind is more powerful than any computer These arguments and counterarguments to them have not convinced the logical and philosophical community The reason for this is an insufficiency of rigour in the debate The contributions in this volume move the debate forward by formulating rigorous frameworks and formally spelling out and evaluating arguments that bear on Gödel s disjunction in these frameworks The contributions in this volume have been written by world leading experts in the field
