Scope Of Business Studies For November 2014:

Sustainable Investing Cary Krosinsky, Sophie Purdom, 2016-12-08 A seminal shift has taken place in the world of investing. A clear and overarching reality has emerged which must be solved: financial considerations must factor in sustainability considerations for ongoing societal success while sustainability issues equally need to be driven by a business case. As a result, investment practices are evolving especially towards more positive philosophies and frameworks. Sustainable Investing brings the reader up to speed on trends playing out in each region and asset class, drawing on contributions from leading practitioners across the globe. Implications abound for financial professionals and other interested investors as well as corporations seeking to understand future investment trends that will affect their shareholders. Thinking: Policymakers and other stakeholders also need to be aware of what is happening in order to understand how they can be most effective at helping implement and enable the changes arguably now required for economic and financial success. Sustainable Investing represents an essential overview of sustainable investment practices that will be a valuable resource for students and scholars of sustainable banking and finance as well as professionals and policymakers with an interest in this fast-moving field.

The Political Economy of a Living Wage Donald Stabile, 2016-08-26 This book tells the story behind President Franklin D. Roosevelt's use of the phrase "living wage" in a variety of speeches, letters, and statements and examines the degree to which programs of the New Deal reflected the ideas of a living wage movement that existed in the US for almost three decades before Roosevelt was elected president. Far from being a side issue, the previously unexplored living wage debate sheds light on the New Deal philosophy of social justice by identifying the value judgments behind its policies. Moving chronologically through history, this book's highlights include the revelation of a living wage agenda under the War Industry Board (WIB)'s National War Labor Board (NWLB) during World War I, the unearthing of long forgotten literature from the 1920s and 30s that formed the foundation of Roosevelt's statements on a living wage, and the examination of contemporary studies that used a simple living wage formula combining collective bargaining, social insurance, and minimum wage as a standard for social justice used to measure the impact of New Deal policies.

This book is ideal for economists, business managers, accountants, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, academicians, and students who are interested in the current issues and advancements in corporate governance and earnings management The Chinese Economic Transformation Song, Ligang, Zhou, Yixiao, Hurst, Luke, 2019-07-10 The Chinese Economic Transformation the 19th volume in the China Update book series provides an opportunity for young economists to share their views on various issues relating to the Chinese economic transformation More than half of the contributors to this book are female scholars Some of the contributors are rising stars in the studies of the Chinese economy and economic transition and some only recently received their PhDs and are on their way to establishing themselves in the field of China studies But they have one thing in common to passionately observe study and research what is going on in the Chinese economic transformation during the reform period and by so doing make contributions to the policy debates on and general understanding of the Chinese economy The chapters in this volume include an in depth probe into challenges in capital and credit allocation due to financial friction and policy distortions investigating the causes of growth slow down in China and suitable policy responses the evolution of the household registration system and its impact on off farm employment and the integration of rural and urban labour markets the growth scale and characteristics of nonstandard employment the development of rural e commerce and its economic impact innovation performance of listed enterprises in China financial services liberalisation and its impact on firms performance financing support schemes for small and medium sized enterprises SMEs and the effect on banks credit allocation to SMEs the potential costs of US China trade conflict and ways to mitigate them gender income gap in China s labour market causes of blockage of Chinese overseas direct investment and strategies to reduce the probability of encountering obstacles and the role of state capital in the iron ore boom in Australia The great variety of topics in this year s Update allows readers to understand the current shape of the Chinese economy and to think deeply about policies and necessary reforms for future growth and development Negotiated Reform Renate Mayntz, 2015-11-12 Extensive literature already exists on the causes and development of the recent financial crisis and the political measures taken to manage it This book brings together a group of renowned social scientists to focus on the interplay between international European and national decision making processes in the reform of financial market regulation Are those states affected by the crisis adopting internationally negotiated regulations Or are they instead determining the European and international reform agenda Are the policies being agreed contributing to greater harmonization of financial regulation in a multilevel political system Or is the process being dominated by differing national interests The dominant concern of this book is the way in which the given multilevel structure of financial market regulation has shaped the reform process triggered by the recent financial crisis Following an agreed set of questions an international group of scholars deal in separate chapters with the role in the reform process played by international organizations European authorities and regulators in the USA the United Kingdom and Germany To provide a detailed view of the vertical and horizontal interactions between these actors the analysis focuses on a small set of reform issues including bank structure bank capital resolution and OTC trading of derivatives The analysis shows to what extent actors at a given political level have both responded to and shaped reform initiatives in other countries and at other political levels Consideration is also given to a general shift in international governance using financial market regulation as a case in point The final chapter summarizes the pattern of multilevel policy making resulting from the empirical analyses highlighting features that distinguish it from familiar studies of multilevel governance in federal regimes and in the European Union

The Law and Economics of Personalization Adrianus Johannes Van Heusden, 2025-09-01 Imagine every ad every price and even every contract completely tailored to you welcome to the age of AI driven hyper personalization Today vast amounts of consumer data are collected and processed to build individualized profiles with ever increasing precision This enables one to one interactions that evolve in real time and allow firms to influence behavior with unprecedented subtlety Personalized marketing holds the promise of meeting consumer needs more effectively and making digital experiences more relevant and efficient Yet this seemingly customized environment raises urgent concerns about the power of such marketing to exploit cognitive biases reshape preferences and deepen asymmetries in digital markets This book offers the first in depth law and economics analysis of personalized marketing in the digital age It examines how personalized advertising pricing and contracting challenge foundational principles of consumer protection and explores to what extent these practices are regulated under the current EU legal framework The analysis shows that while existing rules provide some safeguards they fall short of addressing the systemic risks posed by hyper personalization To respond to these challenges the book develops a four part policy approach aimed at reinforcing consumer autonomy equity and welfare in data driven markets and bridging the regulatory gaps that personalization opens up Regulating these developments involves a clear trade off between efficiency and fairness How much freedom do you give up in exchange for a hyper personalized experience How confident are you that the price you pay will not exceed what others pay for the exact same service And what does it mean for your autonomy when an algorithm predicts your behavior better than you do yourself This book offers a critical starting point for future regulation and a call to rethink the role of personalization in the digital economy

Financial Environment and Business Development Mehmet Huseyin Bilgin, Hakan Danis, Ender Demir, Ugur Can, 2016-08-16 This volume focuses on the latest findings concerning financial environment research and the effects on business Major topics addressed range from finance driven globalization contagion risk transmission financial sustainability and bank efficiency to oil price shocks and spot prices research Further topics include family business business valuation public sector development and business organization in the globalized environment This book features selected peer reviewed articles from the 16th EBES conference in Istanbul where over 270 papers were presented by 478 researchers from 56 countries

Changes and Challenges in the Modern World Economy Tomasz Rynarzewski, Maciej Szymczak, Marian Gorynia, Krzysztof Fonfara, Adam Dymitrowski, Łukasz Małys, Katarzyna Appelt, Ewa Cieřlik, Katarzyna Nawrot, Ewa Mińska-Struzik, Dorota Czyżewska-Misztal, Łukasz

Wróblewski, Ida Musiałkowska, Piotr Idczak, Henryk Mruk, Barbara Jankowska, Aleksandra Kania, Piotr Trąpczyński, Marcin Soniewicki, Aleksandra Hauke-Lopes, Wiesław Łuczyński, Anna Matysek-Jędrych, Piotr Banaszyk, Elżbieta Gołębska, Hubert Igliński, Mariusz Szuster, Zbigniew Bentyn, Justyna Majchrzak-Lepczyk, Agnieszka Niezgoda, Ewa Markiewicz, Justyna Majewska, Szymon Truskolaski, Marlena A.
