Mommandi, Kevin Welner, 2021 Access issues are pivotal to almost all charter school tensions and debates How well are these schools performing Are they segregating and stratifying Are they public and democratic Are they fairly funded Can apparent successes be scaled up Answers to all these core questions hinge on how access to charter schools is shaped This book describes the incentives and pressures on charter schools to restrict access and examines how charters navigate those pressures explaining access restricting practices in relation to the ecosystem within which charter schools are created It also explains how charters have sometimes responded by resisting the pressures and sometimes by surrendering to them The text presents analyses of 13 different types of practices around access each of which shapes the school's enrollment The authors conclude by offering recommendations for how states and authorizers can address access related inequities that arise in the charter sector School's Choice provides timely information on critical academic and policy issues that will come into play as charter school policy continues to evolve Book Features Examines how charter schools control who gains and retains access Explores policies and practices that undermine equitable admission and encourage opportunity hoarding Offers a set of policy recommendations at the state and federal level to address access related issues Proceedings of IAC in Dresden

Commercial Arbitration and the Commercial Agency Directive Jan Engelmann, 2017-02-07 This book investigates the tensions between EU law and international commercial arbitration i.e. tensions between two phenomena at opposite ends of the public to private ordering continuum. It focuses on the Commercial Agents Directive's regime for indemnity and compensation as one of the most frequent source of these tensions. To mitigate the consequential problems the book proposes and describes a comprehensive framework for a preferable system of reviewing arbitration agreements and arbitral awards. To this end it explores the prerequisites of this system through comparative legal analysis of the German, Belgian, French and English systems of review, an assessment of the observable aspects of arbitral practice, game theoretical analysis of the arbitral process and microeconomic analysis of the cross border market for commercial agency      Canadian Journal of Forest Research ,2016      The Economist ,1962      Seventh Five Year Plan ,2015      Illinois Municipal Review ,1986

Trust in a Complex World Charles Heckscher, 2015-10-30 Can we rebuild trust in a time of increasing conflict and paralysis? Or rather can we build trust for the first time wide and strong enough to bring us together to work on the complex problems of our age? Relations of trust have been weakened over the past century by a historic expansion of communication and cross cultural interaction and the advance of complex fluid relationships. Now the rapid rise of the internet has accelerated the disruption. Many long for the comfort and security of relations in which one knew whom to trust and what to expect, yet at the same time they may embrace the dynamism and creativity that comes from mixing of cultures and perspectives. This book explores current conflicts and confusions of relations and identities using both general theory and specific cases. It argues that we are at a catalyzing moment in a long transition from a community in which the prime rule was tolerance to one with a commitment to understanding from one where it was considered wrong to argue about cultural differences to one where such arguments are essential. The development of this rich community is essential as well as difficult. Complex societies produce complex challenges from climate change to inequality to the risk laden opportunities of bioengineering that demand collaboration among people with widely varying views. Such brewing crises cannot be worked through without far more deliberate discussion and cooperation and higher levels of trust than we have today. This book explores many challenges ahead and suggests some practical directions for resolving them      (Bilingual) NET JRF
