Transmedial Narratology and Contemporary Media Culture Jan-Noël Thon, 2016-08-01 It has become something of a cliché within the field of narratology to assert the commercial aesthetic and sociocultural relevance of narrative representations but the fact remains that narratives are everywhere Whenever we read a novel or a comic watch a film or an episode of our favorite television series or play the latest video game we are likely to engage with narrative media Similarly the intermedial adaptations and transmedial entertainment franchises that have become increasingly visible during the past few decades are at their core narrative forms Since a significant part of contemporary media culture is defined by the narratives we tell each other via various media the media studies discipline needs a genuinely transmedial narratology Transmedial Narratology and Contemporary Media Culture focuses on the intersubjective construction of storyworlds as well as on prototypical forms of narratorial and subjective representation It provides not only a method for the analysis of salient transmedial strategies of narrative representation in contemporary films comics and video games but also a theoretical frame within which medium specific approaches from literary and film narratology from comics studies and game studies and from various other strands of media and cultural studies may be employed to further our understanding of narratives across media Jan Noël Thon is a research associate in the Department of Media Studies at the University of Tübingen Germany He is the coeditor of a number of books on narrative and media studies including From Comic Strips to Graphic Novels Contributions to the Theory and History of Graphic Narrative and Storyworlds across Media Toward a Media Conscious Narratology Nebraska 2014
