English Literature Advancing Through History 5 - The Romantic Period

Petru Golban, 2024-11-26 It appears that literary work possesses eternal temporal validity due to its autonomous aesthetic value whereas criticism provides points of view having temporary and transitory significance Despite such claims the vector of methodology in our series of books dealing with the history of English literature relies on Viktor Shklovsky T S Eliot Mikhail Bakhtin and especially Yuri Tynyanov whose main reasoning would be that literature is a system of dominant central and peripheral marginalized elements to us tradition centre versus innovation margin engaged in a battle for supremacy demarginalization and the right to form a new literary system and the development or historical advancement of literature is the substitution of systems Roman Jakobson and French structuralism on the whole later Linda Hutcheon with her system and constant and Bran Nicol with the dominant to say nothing about Itamar Even Zohar and his theory of polysystem to a certain extent Julia Kristeva and even Homi Bhabha as well as our humble contribution we would like to believe maintain Tynyanov's line of thinking and concepts alive which have developed and emerged nowadays more like a kind of neo formalism Focusing on literary practice applying critical theory and emerging from within our own teaching experience the books in the present series are theoretical and surveyistic like a monograph whereas their more practical and text oriented aspect should appeal as a student handbook for didactic purposes in which certain literary works belonging to various writers of different trends movements and periods are analysed and compared with regard to their source form thematic arrangements ideas motifs character representation strategies intertextual perspectives structural or narrative techniques and other aspects

Britain and Britishness in G. B. Shaw's Plays Zsuzsanna Ajtony, 2012-12-18 Ethnicity in general and Britishness in its specific insular version forms a perpetual theme of G B Shaw's most well known plays The main body of the plays analysed in this book reveal a series of cultural and ethnic differences as the plays constitutive elements comprising oppositions on the basis of which the plays are structured Arms and the Man The Devil's Disciple John Bull's Other Island and Caesar and Cleopatra are works in which ethnicity is directly present as a structuring element The extension of the viewpoint to the more inclusive framework of Anglo Saxon attitudes also allows for a play like Pygmalion to be included in the list of works discussed in the book Britain and Britishness in G B Shaw's Plays will be of considerable interest to those concerned with the interdisciplinary field of language and literature It offers a fresh insight into the Shawian oeuvre by highlighting the aspects of ethnic identity and paradox from a linguistic perspective The book offers an innovative and multidisciplinary approach to the Shawian plays as it integrates different fields of discourse analysis cultural pragmatics and micro sociolinguistics

The Institution of English Literature Barbara Schaff, Johannes Schlegel, Carola Surkamp, 2016-11-07 The contributions investigate the ways in which numerous institutions of English literature shape the literary field While they cover an extensive historical field ranging from the Early Modern period to the 18th century to the contemporary they focus not only on literary texts but also on extra literary ones including literary prizes literary histories and anthologies and highlight the various ways in which these negotiate the processes that constitute the literary field All contributions assert that there is no such thing as literature outside of institutions Great emphasis is therefore put on different acts of mediation

Victorian Fiction as a Bildungsroman Petru Golban, 2019-09-30 Metaphorically speaking the nineteenth century English Bildungsroman dealing with the principle of identity formation parallels Victorian fiction as a whole revealing the completion of its own formation which began in the eighteenth century Significantly the most important and popular Victorian novels are Bildungsromane in which authors construct or rather reconstruct their own life experiences as formative processes This book shows that the Bildungsroman has a development history is a specific literary system and consists of a thematic and narrative pattern. It details the entrance of this newly established fictional tradition into Victorian culture and literature through Carlyle's threefold literary reception of the novel of formation and its subsequent flourishing and complexity. In this respect a number of novelistic works are scrutinized and each faces the question as to whether its thematic and narrative perspectives fit the pattern and shape of the Bildungsroman.

Reflections on / of Dickens Ewa Kujawska-Lis, Anna Krawczyk-Łaskarzewska, 2014-07-24 This collection of new essays draws attention to the various and complex ways in which scholars and critics have reflected upon and reacted to Charles Dickens's texts including his novels, short fiction and journalism. Subsequent to the initial publication of Dickens's works, writers, visual artists and filmmakers have reimagined, transposed and transformed them from the mid-nineteenth century to the present. Although Reflections on Dickens recognizes the writer's importance as first and foremost a major figure in literature, it nevertheless offers a uniquely vast array of approaches to his literary output ranging from intertextual and generic strategies through gender studies, translation studies and comparative literary studies to issues connected with reception, popular culture, visual culture and performing arts. The diverse thematic preoccupations present in this highly interdisciplinary volume attest to Dickens's central position in the British canon and his global appeal while at the same time narrowing the gap between traditional textual analysis and more contextualised readings of his oeuvre taking into account the socio-cultural and historical circumstances thanks to which his literary reputation continues to flourish.

Dante and Milton Christoph Lehner, Christoph Singer, 2016-01-14 Dante Alighieri and John Milton, two composers of vernacular epic poems, undoubtedly hold prominent positions in the literary canons of Italy and England respectively. Both authors have been made into universally important icons, deeply engrained in the world's cultural memory; their importance, however, extends vastly beyond their mere literary and political influence. This anthology explores the synchronic and diachronic constructions of Dante and Milton as such culturally produced icons. The main focus of the contributions in this collection is the production of cultural memory regarding Dante and Milton. The juxtaposition and comparison of the two authors invites a broader perspective that goes beyond merely national contexts as it touches on the question of the emergence of a European Dante and a European Milton. At the same time, the comparison of both allows for an exploration of various processes, namely of appropriating, forgetting and sidelining parts of their histories and politics, processes which the works and legacies of both authors have been subjected to throughout their literary and cultural reception.
