Run, Spot, Run Jessica Pierce,2016-05-06 A thoughtful book about how to ensure that the animals we love benefit from the relationship as much as we do Kirkus Reviews We feel love for our companions and happiness that we re providing them with a safe healthy life But sometimes we also feel guilt When we see our cats gazing wistfully out the window or watch a goldfish swim lazy circles in a bowl we can t help but wonder Are we doing the right thing keeping these independent beings locked up subject to our control Is keeping pets actually good for the pets themselves That s the question that animates Jessica Pierce s powerful Run Spot Run A bioethicist and a lover of pets herself including over the years dogs cats fish rats hermit crabs and more Pierce explores the ambiguous ethics at the heart of this relationship and through a mix of personal stories philosophical reflections and scientifically informed analyses of animal behavior and natural history she puts pet keeping to the test Is it ethical to keep pets at all Are some species more suited to the relationship than others Are there species one should never attempt to own And are there ways that we can improve our pets lives so that we can be confident that we are giving them as much as they give us With gentle humor clear compelling language and always in search of the physically and emotionally healthiest lives possible for our animal companions Run Spot Run moved me all the more because it s written from the inside looking out Pierce herself lives with three pets and understands the deep urge so many of us feel to connect across species lines Barbara King author of How Animals Grieve

Making a Home Jen Powley,2023-05-04T00:00:00Z In some Canadian provinces people with severe physical disabilities are simply warehoused in nursing homes where many people especially in the age of homecare are in the final stages of their lives It is difficult for a young person to live in a home geared for death their physical assistance needs are met but their social psychological and emotional needs are not Jen Powley argues that everyone deserves to live with the dignity of risk In Making a Home Powley tells the story of how she got young disabled people like herself out of nursing homes by developing a shared attendant services system for adults with severe physical disabilities This book makes a case for living in the community and against dehumanizing institutionalization

Creative and Non-fiction Writing during Isolation and

Confinement Ben Stubbs, 2022-06-15 This book examines writing that has been created in isolation and confinement and it explores the stories characters and situations that have arisen from these states throughout history It offers a deeper understanding of how others have found inspiration purpose and clarity in these difficult and challenging conditions By traversing the narratives of writers wanderers mariners prisoners recluses and soldiers this book offers writers and readers a chance to re think the parameters of their own circumstances Exploring a broad range of themes from writing during a pandemic COVID 19 travel writing writing from incarceration and writing within war and conflict zones each chapter will look at historical contexts as well as contemporary examples within these themes to demonstrate the rich history and current relevance of writing during confinement and isolation The book also contains tips and exercises to help develop writing skills during restrictive circumstances This is a valuable resource for scholars seeking to observe how writing has developed through various themes of isolation in the past as well as students at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels of creative writing communication studies and journalism seeking to learn through lived experiences how to hone their writing during challenging times

Down from the Mountain Bryce Andrews, 2019 Andrews wonderful Down from the Mountain is deeply informed by personal experience and made all the stronger by his compassion and measured thoughts Welcome and impressive work Barry Lopez Winner of the Banff Mountain Book Competition s Mountain Environment Natural History Award The story of a grizzly bear named Millie her life death and cubs and what they reveal about the changing character of the American West The grizzly is one of North America s few remaining large predators Their range is diminished but they re spreading across the West again Descending into valleys where once they were king bears find the landscape they d known for eons utterly changed by the new most dominant animal humans As the grizzlies approach the people of the region are wary at best of their return In searing detail award winning writer Montana rancher and conservationist Bryce Andrews tells us about one such grizzly Millie is a typical mother strong cunning fiercely protective of her cubs But raising those cubs a challenging task in the best of times becomes ever harder as the mountains change the climate warms and people crowd the valleys There are obvious dangers like poachers and subtle ones as well like the corn field that draws her out of the foothills and sets her on a path toward trouble and ruin That trouble is where Bryce s story intersects with Millie s It is the heart of Down from the Mountain a singular drama evoking a much larger one an entangled bloody collision between two species in the modern day West where the shrinking wilds force man and bear into ever closer proximity
